DEMOCRATS PUT UP PEACE FRONT AT CONVENTION

Kelly Joins Horner; Courtney Absent.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—All was harmony at the Democratic state convention today—as far as those who attended were concerned. They included those erstwhile primary battlers, Gov. Henry Horner and Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago.

Absent for the second time in three weeks was State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney of Cook county, the governor's co-fighter against the Nash-Kelly organization last April. Courtney refused to attend the Governor's day celebration at the state fair on Aug. 17 because the mayor was one of the speakers.

Presumably this same fact accounted for his failure to join about 3,500 other Democrats at the convention today. This had to be presumed because Courtney did not send any word to the conclave.

Two Touch on Absence.

Only two sentences in the speeches of the four leading orators—the governor, the mayor, Scott W. Lucas, senatorial nominee, and Harry B. Hershey, convention chairman—could be construed as touching on Courtney's absence. One was uttered by Gov. Horner:

"If there be any personal differences among us," the governor thundered, "they must be subordinated in this campaign to a united effort on the part of all of us in the support of our party which stands for those principles and against the forces of reactionism."

When he said the words "they must be subordinated," the governor beat them out with his fist.

The second reference was made by Hershey, who is chairman of the state central committee and a Horner adherent. It came in his introduction of the mayor.

Kelly Draws Applause.

"The reason that the Democratic party in Illinois is strong today is because it has leaders who will put party and principles above personalities," Hershey said. "The finest example of that here today is furnished by the mayor of the great city of Chicago."

The crowd did not wait for Mayor Kelly's name, but broke into a roar of applause. It was some minutes before Hershey could restore order.

The mayor's speech contained more and even warmer references to the governor than did his address at the state fair. It was studded with references to the governor's "humane program," which the mayor linked with those of President Roosevelt's.

"The program of Gov. Horner had helped to implement and round out the vital hopes and cherished ambitions of the national administration—the greatest good for the greatest number," Kelly said.

Mayor Pulls for Lucas.

"You and I have a duty to perform now," he declared at another point, "a humanitarian duty to perform in the election of Scott Lucas as the next senator of the Illinois Democracy." Since Congressman Lucas was the governor's candidate last April these were also welcome words.

Nothing unscheduled occurred at the convention—except, perhaps, the light attendance. The state arsenal holds about 5,000 persons. At no time did it appear to be more than four-fifths occupied. When the gavel sounded the main floor was comfortably filled, but the galleries were almost empty. And there were banks of empty chairs all through the proceedings.

The order of the day appeared to call for all principal speakers to sound blanket praise for President Roosevelt. However, Congressman Lucas was the least fulsome in his remarks.

Mentions Dictatorships.

There was even one sentence in Lucas' speech which some construed as a promise that he would not be a rubber stamp senator.

"In these days," he said, "when democracy is surrounded on all sides by dictatorships and is undergoing its supreme test, no man can be a slave to tradition—and no man dare be a follower of popularity in the face

JUDGE THROWS DOUBTS ON CASE AGAINST HINES

Pecora to Consider Dismissal Plea.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Justice Pecora.

New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—"Some uncertainty" in the mind of Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora left the state's racket case against Tammany Leader James J. Hines hanging by a slender thread tonight.

This turn arose during a hearing of arguments by defense and prosecution over a motion for dismissal of the indictment against the Democratic leader.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey had rested the state's case against Hines last night after 50 witnesses testified to the political boss' alliance with the policy game racketeers under the late Dutch Schultz, notorious gang leader.

Case Hinges on Ruling.

Justice Pecora expressed doubt on the state's case in connection with a legal technicality, but upon his ruling hinges the outcome of the case. The ruling is expected tomorrow afternoon.

The point at issue at adjournment tonight was whether the case fell within the two year period prescribed by the statute of limitations for prosecution on a conspiracy count. If the court dismisses this charge, which is a misdemeanor, the case will collapse, because the twelve felony counts contained in the indictment are bound together by the alleged conspiracy.

Hines was indicted May 24, 1938, on charges of conspiracy and violation of the state lottery laws. The court's doubt was whether the evidence adduced during the last three weeks of the case showed that the conspiracy existed beyond May 24, 1936—within the two years set forth in the statute of limitations.

Dewey Debates Issue.

Prosecutor Dewey carried on a long debate with the court and reread the testimony of two important gangland witnesses to prove the validity of the indictment.

George Weinberg, a payoff man for the Schultz policy racket, had testified that he paid Hines money for protection from police and courts on seven or eight occasions during 1936.

Big Harry Schoenhaus, bookkeeper for the ring of racketeers, testified that entries on his ledgers showed that Hines was being paid at the rate of $250 per week until October, 1936. Both men pleaded guilty to the same indictment on which Hines is being tried.

Cites Testimony on Slaying.

Thereupon Judge Pecora pointed to another part of the testimony in which Weinberg said that after the killing of Schultz in October, 1935, the policy game banks moved to New Jersey. The judge wanted to know whether this did not switch the crime to a point outside the New York jurisdiction.

Dewey countered by reading a ques-

Roosevelt to Go to Bedside of Son, James

James Roosevelt.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt late tonight decided to leave tomorrow night for Rochester, Minn., after doctors at the Mayo clinic said that his son and secretary, James Roosevelt, would be operated upon on Monday. His mother already is at his bedside.

Young Roosevelt will be operated upon for a gastric ulcer. He returned yesterday to the Minnesota clinic for an examination and it was announced that previous treatments had resulted disappointingly. An operation was imperative, the doctors said.

Decides to Make Trip.

The President and his secretary son talked over the telephone several times and late tonight Mr. Roosevelt made public his decision to make the trip from his summer home here to the hospital in Rochester.

The President will leave Hyde Park late tomorrow night, probably at 11 o'clock, according to tentative arrangements. He will pass through Chicago some time Saturday evening, the exact hour not yet having been determined upon. Railroad officials started working on the trip schedule.

Announcement by Secretary.

Presidential Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre made the announcement of the President's decision. He minimized the danger of the operation. The President merely wants to see his son in person before he goes into the operating room, McIntyre declared.

James Roosevelt went to the Mayo clinic last June and was given a lengthy treatment for the ulcerated condition of his stomach. The treatment had favorable results, but the recent examination showed that they were only temporary.

Ulcer Fails to Heal.

"The ulcer didn't heal up as the family had hoped it would," said McIntyre. "There is, however, no reason for particular alarm."

James is the most publicized of the Roosevelt sons. His income as an insurance agent was a subject for congressional outcries until finally he bared his tax returns for the period after his father became President. These showed that he earned nearly $50,000 in one year. He insisted that he never had attempted to use his father's prestige to obtain business.

He became one of the President's secretaries at a salary of $10,000 a year and soon became known as the important person to see in the White House if favors were wanted of Mr. Roosevelt.

WIFE ON WAY TO HOSPITAL.

Mrs. James Roosevelt, the former Betsy Cushing, arrived at the Chicago airport at 9:35 o'clock last night by American Airlines plane from Boston, Mass. She left immediately on a train for Rochester, Minn., where her husband is to undergo an operation at the Mayo clinic.

JOHN IS HOME AFTER 40 YEARS IN YUKON; BUILDINGS SCARE HIM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 8.—Theodule "John" Durand hit the Klondike trail in 1898 and no more was heard of him. He came home from the Yukon today, a 71 year old sourdough. Introduced under a fictitious name to his French Canadian sisters and brothers, they asked questions about Theodule, who they thought was dead. Announcing his identity, the sisters fainted and had to be revived by the brothers. But Theodule is dejected in Montreal. The big buildings and street cars scare him. He wants to go "home."

CITY HALL HAS 165 KINDS OF TIME AS CLOCKS STRIKE

City hall employés were perplexed yesterday. They didn't know when to start working and, what was worse, they didn't know when to stop. The 165 clocks in the building had either stopped or were running just as they pleased. Matthew J. McBride, chief engineer of the building, blamed the Labor day holiday. "The clocks haven't been right since," he said, adding that something had happened to the system which connects all the clocks with a master clock. He hopes to have them repaired today.

Police (in Pairs) Hunt Twins for Two Robberies

Two young men, reported by their victims to be twins, committed two robberies last night. They snatched the purse of Miss June McClintock, 5340 Cullom avenue, at Long and Cullom avenues, getting $3. A short time later they grabbed the purse of Miss Margaret Kelley, 4521 North La Porte avenue, at Sunnyside and La Porte avenues, getting $9. The robbers were blond, about 5 feet 6 inches tall, and wore similar clothes.

Candidate Out to Lose; Makes Faces at Babies

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Officer Thomas H. Leary of the Cambridge police department is campaigning against himself for election as delegate to the Democratic state convention. He reported today that during the last twenty-four hours he had made faces at seventeen babies and had asked twenty-one voters to give him cigars as new methods in his "be leery of Leary" and "beat Leary" campaigns.

Leary started out to defeat himself after his name was placed on the ballot as delegate to the state Democratic convention by some prankster while he was away on his vacation last month. Rules of the department forbid policemen to seek elective office.

Opens Anti-Leary Campaign.

The day he started his anti-Leary campaign Leary held a rally at his home at which he obtained promises from some 200 voters not to vote for him. The next day he came out with a platform designed to assure his defeat. Chief planks are as follows:

"Take care of my wife and family first; relatives second; the public last.

"Call my opponents everything, true or untrue.

"Pick on the police department; the public loves it.

How to Attend Church.

"Go to church late and go way up front so as to be seen.

"Make myself conservator of a wealthy person and administrator of a large estate. Hold the best job open so I can step into it when I become a lame duck."

Engine Room Blaze Calls Firemen to County Hospital

Firemen were called to the engine room of the County hospital early today to extinguish a blaze started when grease on a coal conveyor caught fire from a workman's torch. Some of the smoke penetrated into the hospital proper, but did not arouse any patients, hospital officials said. The engine room is in a separate building in back of the hospital building.

Flag Flies Upside Down on Indiana Capitol Dome

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The flag that flies from the state capitol dome hung upside down today. A passerby notified the custodian. "Yep, it's upside down alright," he said after one look. "The regular man is out at the state fair and I just put up the flag." Old Glory was adjusted promptly.

Nazis Unite All Minorities to Resist Czechs

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 8.—Czechoslovakia's various minorities today took action among themselves in order to present the government with a united opposition. On the initiative of the Sudeten Germans there took place a joint session of the Sudeten German [Nazi] party's political committee, representatives of the Slovak Catholic People's party, the United Hungarian party and a Polish political committee.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Karl Hermann Frank, personal representative of Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German party. The representatives of the minorities agreed upon the "urgent necessity for reconstruction of the state and settlement of the minorities question." They also decided to hold joint sessions when occasions arise.

Expect Bloc of 7,000,000.

Die Zeit, a Sudeten German newspaper, exultantly said there were grouped against the government a solid bloc of 6,500,000 persons. The Germanic minority expects to increase this number to more than 7,000,000 when they take in representatives of the Ruthenians in Czechoslovakia's easternmost province. The Sudeten Germans alone total 3,250,000.

[The estimated population of Czechoslovakia is 15,186,944.]

Government circles are uneasy over this close formation of the ranks of its enemies. The government's hardest blow was to see the Slovaks, whom the Czechs regard as coördinate ruling people in the republic, making common cause with their bitter enemies, the Germans and Hungarians.

The government announced that President Eduard Benes will deliver a "fireside" address to the nation tomorrow afternoon. It will be the first direct word from the president to his people for many weeks.

New Disorders Reported.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Disorders were reported in the Sudeten German area today.

There was a school strike at Troppau. Sudeten mothers there have protested in vain because they could not send their children to Germanic schools. Tonight they decided to keep their children out of school until they gained their way. About 1,000 school children paraded singing Sudeten songs in protest.

At Friedladau a crowd sang German national songs and smashed windows at police headquarters.

At Krumau about 4,000 Sudeten sympathizers were dispersed by police after they shouted "one people, one reich, one fuehrer! We want union with the reich. We want a plebiscite."

[A New York Times dispatch from Prague said a Czech customs official was shot and wounded while examining passports of Sudeten Germans recruited for work in Germany. A German customs official disguised as a workman was alleged to have shot the Czech official.]

NAVY SUPPLIES WARSHIPS FOR 60 DAYS AT SEA

Leaves of Officers and Men Canceled.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The French naval ministry, following the lead of the army and air corps, took measures today to prepare the nation's sea forces for action.

The Atlantic fleet was ordered to begin loading munitions and other supplies. All leaves of officers and men in the Atlantic fleet were canceled, and those on shore leave returned hurriedly to their ships in Brest harbor.

The loading of supplies on warships of the Atlantic fleet was to be completed tomorrow. Whether the fleet then would leave its base was not divulged, but officers said the warships would be equipped to remain at sea for sixty days.

1,200,000 Men Under Arms.

Already 1,200,000 men of the land and air forces are under arms on French soil, ready to meet any situation which may grow out of Czechoslovak-German crisis.

[Dispatches from Paris last night said Great Britain avoided promising aid to France in protecting Czechoslovakia with arms should Reichsfuehrer Hitler resort to force against Prague. Rather, the dispatches said, Britain urged France to let Hitler obtain further concessions from the Czechs by added pressure on them. Details on page 3.]

The last of reservists called for duty in the Maginot line, France's eastern fortifications along the German frontier, marched into underground forts today. These and thousands of conscripts of overlapping classes boosted France's standing army 500,000 above the normal 700,000 men.

Completion of the nation's precautionary steps was signified in a semiofficial statement issued by Havas [French news agency] that "no new military measures are planned for the present."

High Command Strengthened.

The army has realigned and strengthened its high command, the Official Journal revealed. It published orders indicating two changes involving membership of the superior war council. There were, in addition, nine changes in the army general staf. Three shifts affected frontier commands.

Gen. Desire Sivot, head of the engineering division of the war college, became commandant of the Metz fortified zone.

Gen. Edouard Requin, commander of the 20th corps area which includes a major portion of the Maginot line, was promoted to the superior war council.

Gen. Louis Hubert, who had been commander of the Metz zone, was assigned to command the 20th corps area with headquarters in Nancy.

A member of the superior war council, Gen. Jules Garchery, was named inspector general of infantry in addition to his other functions.

Labor Agrees to Help.

The government's measures to prepare the nation for war were strengthened as labor swung into line on the national defense program. Although workers' organizations still protested against Premier Edouard Daladier's methods to step up production of war material by abolishing the forty hour work week, they indicated the seriousness of the crisis caused them to drop active opposition.

In Marseilles, dock workers submitted peacefully to a decree handing the port over to a military committee.

The General Confederation of Labor, representing 5,000,000 workers, agreed after conferences with Premier Daladier that the union would prepare plans for a rapid increase in production for the armed forces.

Uncertainty over Great Britain's "we might fight" attitude worried the foreign office. An official spokesman said, however, there was nothing to do but watch and wait—watch for any move from Germany and wait to see if Britain would back France in defense of Czechoslovakia.

France is bound by treaty to help Czechoslovakia. Britain has made no such outright guarantee.

NAZIS RUSH NEW FORTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 8.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler's first line of defense along the Rhine river still is unfinished. Hence, with Europe fearing a war over Czechoslovakia, there is feverish activity in the German territory across the river from this city. Particularly is this true at night. Then the German side offers a strange contrast to the calm, quiet, dark French shore and its fortification—the powerful Maginot line. This French bulwark is almost completely hidden and, apparently, slumbering.

The night is noisy and menacing with the clanging of steam shovels, the chugging of trucks, the insistent pounding of pile drivers on the other side of the Rhine. Over all are blazing floodlights, which reflect uneasily in the swift Rhine waters.

It is estimated that 250,000 conscripted laborers are working on the general defense works of Germany.

Sightseeing Is Ended.

The international bridge connecting Strasbourg with the little garrison town of Kehl, Germany, still is open, but of course there is no sightseeing by tourists or natives who want a look at the Germany at the other end. Trains continue their normal crossings, however.

The construction along the first defense line is mainly on small isolated defense works on the Rhine bank. To the right and left of the bridge on the German side twenty-two small machine gun nests can be counted. Some of them were begun only a week ago.

THE TRIBUNE was informed that these small underground positions will be manned by only a few soldiers armed with light cannon and machine guns. Hundreds of such casemates have been constructed along the Rhine and the remainder will be ready in a few weeks. It is estimated there are 500 of them along the Rhine frontier alone.

Though Germany's first defense line is unfinished, the lines behind it are completed and manned. The ensemble, named the Siegfried line after a hero of German mythology, forms a defense work which observers in Strasbourg consider "almost unbreakable."

Roads Filled with Trucks.

The second line of defense is ready for action. The real barrier, however, is father back. It is a combination of fortresses with complete command of the Rhine valley. It buzzes with military life, and the roads approaching it swarm with trucks bringing up ammunition and spare parts.

To back up the defense line two new army reserve corps have been concentrated quietly around Goettingen and Stuttgart during the last few days, it was learned from reliable sources reporting to Strasbourg. New troops are stationed on the other side of the Black forest, and are said to have come from Pomerania and Hanover.

It is reported that at present there are 300,000 German troops in defensive positions facing the Swiss and French frontiers from Lake Constance to Wissembourg, near where the Rhine leaves the French border and enters German territory on its course northward. This does not include the garrisons. Another 100,000 men are farther north.

Simultaneously with construction of the first line, at least a dozen small airfields recently have been established in the province of Baden along the Rhine.

LEAGUE COUNCIL MEETS TODAY; BIG FIGURES ABSENT

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Talk of the Czechoslovak-German crisis tonight replaced the usual discussion of prospective debates as delegates gathered for the 102d meeting of the League of Nations Council starting tomorrow. League sources said "rarely before" had such little interest been shown in matters likely to come before the league council. British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet delayed departure from their capitals and Col. Josef Beck, Poland's foreign minister who had been expected to play an important part in the session, canceled his trip to Geneva.

SECRECY HIDES HITLER'S MOVES IN WAR CRISIS

British Want Him to Calm Sudeten Germans.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 8.—Tension gripped Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's headquarters in the Deutsche Hof in Nuremberg tonight. A smoke screen of rumors settled over the Nazi party congress.

Efforts were made to keep secret a conference between Hitler and Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Germany. A German foreign office spokesman said the ambassador did not see Hitler.

Henderson is trying to induce the Fuehrer to advise his Sudeten German leaders in Czechoslovakia to resume negotiations with the peacemaking mission of Viscount Runciman, British mediator, and the Prague government.

Hitler Summons Henlein.

Negotiations were disrupted yesterday after a riot in Maehrisch-Ostrau, an industrial city in Moravia. Sudeten Germans charged that mounted Czech policemen horsewhipped a Nazi crowd, including a Sudeten German deputy in parliament.

Henderson also conversed with Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, after Von Ribbentrop had discussed the crisis with Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German Nazi party.

It was reported tonight that the British ambassador went to the hunting lodge of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, near Berchtesgaden. Goering is Hitler's most trusted lieutenant.

The Fuehrer and his aids are debating the advisability of sending a courier to London with a letter outlining his stand in the crisis.

Nazi Press in a Rage.

An alleged intention of the Czechoslovak ministry of justice to introduce the traditional Sudeten German costume of short lether breeches and white cotton stockings as prison garb in Czech jails evoked the wrath of the entire Nazi press.

"All forms of brutalities fade into nothing compared to this sadistic attack on the national feelings of the Sudeten Germans," said the Berliner Tageblatt. "The mere suggestion of such a measure is a hundred thousand fold worse than the beating of a Sudeten German deputy with a riding crop."

Other papers stressed that the Prague government has lost control "over its henchmen."

There is only one point on which spokesmen of the German government agree in the crisis. It is that Hitler has decided Prague's "final offer" to the Sudeten Germans is unacceptable. The German minority is demanding self-rule.

Nazi Officials Optimistic.

On all other points Nazi officials are divided. Some declare "a certain optimism is justified" in the Czech-German conflict, but they won't say why. Consequently their official optimism is greeted with skepticism.

Others maintain that until Prague accepts all of Henlein's 8 point Carlsbad demands central Europe is in dire danger.

A third group insists that no decisive step will be taken until after the Nazi rally. This clique says Hitler and his lieutenants need this week of speeches and demonstrations to ignite the fervor of those who might cool off toward Naziism because of the danger of war and the compulsory labor measures. Members of the drafted Labor Front are erecting fortifications along German borders, particularly on the Siegfried line facing the French frontier.

Expect Runciman to Fail.

There is a widespread feeling that Runciman will fail in his efforts to work out a compromise in the conflict. This is best illustrated by the fact that many Germans refer to his mission as the "new nonintervention committee." They expect that the mission will fail to solve the Sudeten German problem the same as the London nonintervention committee failed to stop the Spanish civil war.

Prominent Germans believe that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain will allow Germany to get the upper hand in the conflict.

They lost none of their faith through the publication of an editorial in today's London Times. Involved sentences in the editorial tried to break the force of yesterday's suggestion calling for the ceding of the Sudeten district to Germany. They believe that yesterday's editorial was published as a trial balloon to get British public opinion accustomed to the idea of dropping Czechoslovakia's territorial integrity.

Watches Nazi Gymnasts.

Hitler appeared this afternoon at the athletic demonstration of the Nazi rally at Zeppelin field where 10,000 gymnasts from the police, army, Storm Troops, Hitler Youth, and other groups displayed their prowess. Five thousand girls in white skirts danced to tunes played by a military band.

This morning Dr. Otto Dietrich, Nazi press chief, complained that the democratic powers had ignored his plea for international newspaper understanding.

"It has been possible to reach an international agreement on cocaine smugglers, white slavers, and the catching of bank robbers," he said. "Why shouldn't it be possible to fight jointly the political agitation carried on by irresponsible elements in the press? What was the answer to my fanfare of peace in the virgin forests of democracy and of the hereditary owners of international morals?"

Dietrich told his German listeners there had been no answer.

Hitler Speeds New Defenses on Rhine

The conflict between Czechoslovakia and its Sudeten German (Nazi) minority has spurred Reichsfuehrer Hitler to new efforts to complete his Rhineland defenses. The Czech-German controversy centers in the Sudeten area, shown in black on the map (1). This zone, under one suggested solution, would be cut up into cantons which would have self-rule. German defense efforts centered on the border of France, Czechoslovakia's ally. It was reported that two new German reserve corps had been concentrated at Goettingen and Stuttgart (2). German laborers worked at top speed opposite Strasbourg (3) constructing front line fortifications.

MARRIAGES MADE FOR STATE, NOT CHURCH, NAZI CONGRESS TOLD

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Naziism has "raised matrimony to an institution standing under the highest authority of the state and no longer under that of the church," the tenth annual Nazi party congress was told today.

In the presence of Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Hans Frank, German minister without portfolio and head of the Nazi legal organization, said "We regard matrimony as an act of the state, carrying with it obligations to assist in building up the state."

BRITISH EXPECTED TO GIVE GERMANS A NEW WARNING

Cabinet Is Summoned to Meet Monday.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain returned to London from Scotland this morning. First he consulted with Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, and Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary. Then he called a meeting of the British cabinet for Monday. The cabinet will be in session while Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler makes his final speech at the Nazi party congress in Nuremberg.

Chamberlain's sudden return evidently was brought about by reports that the Germans might try to gobble up the whole of Czechoslovakia over the week-end.

Chamberlain, Simon, and Halifax, it was indicated, decided to send a note to Berlin calling attention to the probable grave consequences of direct German action against Czechoslovakia.

Call Czech Offer "Fair."

It was understood that the note will call Germany's attention to the fact that both Viscount Runciman, British mediator in Prague, and the British government believe the "final offer" of the Czech government to be a fair basis of settlement in the conflict with the Sudeten Germans. The note probably will be submitted to the cabinet on Monday for approval.

The British gave the public the impression they will jump on Hitler with their fleet if he refuses to be reasonable. Newspapers suggested Chamberlain, Simon, and Halifax consider the advisability of taking defense measures, especially of a naval nature.

However, it was considered significant that no one denied yesterday's suggestion of the London Times that Prague should cede Sudeten German territory to Germany did not represent the views of the British government.

A Trial Balloon.

The London Times article appears to have been a trial balloon to test two things. One was the extent to which British public opinion would support a move to aid Czechoslovakia. The other was the extent to which Hitler would be satisfied by absorbing the Sudeten area and its people. The British wonder whether his possession of the Sudeten mountain regions would be a jumping off place to grab the whole of the Danube basin.

In any event the Times feeler appeared to be not a blunder, but a deliberate and provocative attempt to see how the land lies.

Chamberlain consulted twice with Simon and Halifax. Present at the conference were Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent undersecretary of state, and Sir Robert Vansittart, chief diplomatic adviser. Later the prime minister conferred with Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for coördination of defense, and Sir Kingsley Wood, secretary of state for air, and Malcolm MacDonald, secretary of state in the colonial office.

Military Chiefs Not Present.

It was pointed out in a rather significant manner that Chamberlain did not confer with any military or technical advisers.

The prime minister tonight had a long talk with Jean Maisky, Soviet Russian ambassador.

During the day Chamberlain and his advisers received a demand from Labor opposition leaders to summon parliament. The Laborites were told that there was no need to recall parliament at present. This was taken to indicate that the situation is not altogether as perilous as it may appear on the surface.

ITALY ADVISES CZECHS TO YIELD TO NAZIS' SELF-RULE DEMANDS

ROME, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Italy, siding with Germany, tonight advised Czechoslovakia semi-officially to heed the self-rule demands of her Germanic minority.

The Italian policy was outlined in Informazione Diplomatica, authoritative organ issued by the official Stefani News agency.

The paper cautioned Prague of "a great crisis" unless the Czechs turned a deaf ear to counsels which it said came from French and soviet quarters with the "perhaps hypothetical" possibility of aid.

The statement said Italy had refrained from calling reserves to colors or other military action because she believed an agreement in Czechoslovakia possible. It indicated, however, that Rome was ready "to face immediately any eventualities."

BRITISH SIDESTEP FRENCH PLEA TO PROTECT CZECHS

London Strives to Avoid Showdown with Nazis.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Paris today succeeded Prague and Nuremberg as the central stage of the European drama, though action was behind closed doors and purely diplomatic.

The main actors were Premier Edouard Daladier, Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, Ambassador William C. Bullitt of the United States, and Ambassador Sir Eric Phipps of Great Britain. A timetable of their conversations disclosed their exceptional nature. Bullitt called on Bonnet and then conferred with Daladier. The French premier departed from normal diplomatic procedure for a second time by summoning the British ambassador.

French and British Differ.

From information regarding their respective positions, it is possible to give the following interpretation of the day's action.

An important difference of opinion has developed between the French and the British since President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia announced his government's plan to settle the Sudeten German conflict. Bonnet on instructions from Daladier has been trying to convince the British that they should join with France in telling Hitler that they consider Czechoslovakia has gone as far as possible in meeting Sudeten German demands. Bonnet furthermore has been attempting to convince London that Britain and France together with soviet Russia and other countries should defend Czechoslovakia if Hitler tries to get more by force.

The British have replied that the French are right in telling Hitler they will not tolerate the use of force, but that rather than face a showdown with Germany they should let the Fuehrer obtain further concessions from the Czechs by continued pressure.

Shies at Formal Approval.

Therefore England at least must not give formal approval to the present position of Czechoslovakia since Prague obviously won't give in if it feels it is being backed by great powers. Then, too, there is a possibility that Prague's stubbornness would invite Hitler to take a fatal step.

The purpose of the talk between Daladier and Phipps therefore seems to be this: The premier, as spokesman for the army, wanted to make it clear to the English that it is the French general staf and not only the foreign office which insists that the Czechs cannot be pushed any farther.

What the British ambassador replied to this argument was not learned.

The interview between Daladier and Bullitt may have had a similar purpose, since it is important for the United States to know exactly where Paris stands. However, there is a possibility that Daladier in this dramatic dilemma chiefly wanted to know how Washington, D. C., stands on the same question.

Whether he ultimately yields to the British point of view or not may depend partly on the degree of approval or disapproval his policy receives from President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

For the moment the outcome is in suspense. The French are sticking to their guns.

COUNTESS OF WARWICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The countess of Warwick was married today to W. M. L. [Billy] Fiske, American bobsled ace and son of W. M. L. Fiske, a partner in the New York banking firm of Dillon, Read & Co. The ceremony took place quietly at the Maidenhead register office. After the ceremony young Fiske returned to work in the London office of the bank.

The couple will leave for the continent tomorrow for a short honeymoon, and at the end of the month will sail for the United States, where they will make their home.

The countess formerly was the wife of the seventh earl of Warwick, who as Michael Brooke has been trying for two years to carve a career in Hollywood. She won an absolute divorce here on Aug. 24. A decree nisi against the countess was granted in February on grounds of adultery with Roger Bailey of Los Angeles in 1936. The countess, who is 25 years old, and Fiske, who is 28, met in Switzerland last year.

JAPS STORM RIVER BARRIER 80 MILES BELOW HANKOW

SHANGHAI, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Japanese warships were reported to have opened a new assault today on Yangtze river fortifications and a boom blocking the way of the naval drive toward Hankow.

Japanese warships bombarded forts at Wusueh, on the north bank of the Yangtze, terminus of a river barrier stretching from Matow on the south bank. The barrier is some eighty miles southeast of Hankow. Japanese infantrymen on both banks attacked simultaneously. Relays of war planes supported the action, it was said, bombing Kwangtsi, fifteen miles north of Wusueh, and all villages for twenty miles westward to open the way for Japanese troops.

Chinese said their south shore batteries returned the fire of the warships. These reports said two Japanese craft were sunk by the shellfire.

BULLITT DENIES HE GAVE FRANCE U. S. WAR PLEDGE

Disclaims Use of Phrase "Indefectively United."

PARIS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The United States embassy, on behalf of Ambassador William C. Bullitt, asserted today that the ambassador did not make the statement that the United States and France were "indefectively united in war as in peace," as attributed to him in Bordeaux dispatches of Sept. 3.

The Associated Press Bordeaux correspondent who was present during the speech, part of which was extemporaneous, insisted today that he heard the statement and was supported therein by the editor of La France de Bordeaux who also was present and who published it in his newspaper.

The Embassy's Text.

The statement by the embassy said that that part of Bullitt's speech which dealt with American-French relations was prepared in advance and that the ambassador read it, as follows:

"It is no secret that the people of the United States today feel for the people of France the most profound sympathy. We are united by our devotion to liberty, democracy and peace. We are united by our old friendship, by the aid that each has brought to the other in the hours of need.

"Today we are working together to preserve peace. May we be successful in that task as we have been in the past when we marched together under the flags of war!"

The ambassador spoke in French.

THE PUBLISHED TEXT.

The Associated Press dispatch of Sept. 3 from Bordeaux quoted Bullitt as uttering the "indefectively united" phrase, and quoted him further as follows:

. . . [France and the United States] "are united by our devotion to liberty, democracy and peace. We are united by our old friendship, by the aid we brought each other in our hour of distress. Today we are working together to save peace.

"At this time, the unity and calm with which France contemplates the future has awakened the admiration of the whole world.

"It is no secret that the people of the United States have a most profound sympathy today for the people of France."

Cabinet Officials Present.

The speech was made at a city hall banquet at which French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, Minister of Colonies Georges Mandel, Minister of Pensions Auguste Champetier de Ribes, three senators and eight deputies were present.

Bullitt, the dispatch said, had not been scheduled to speak and most of his extemporaneous speech was devoted to a eulogy of Bordeaux wines. Wine growing guests at the banquet were quoted as saying he showed "astounding knowledge" of these wines.

150 SPANISH REBEL PLANES AID ASSAULT ON EBRO RIVER FRONT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PERPIGNAN, France [at the Spanish Frontier], Sept. 8.—More than 150 rebel bombing and pursuit planes bombarded loyalist lines on the Ebro front in eastern Spain today. Then waves of infantrymen went "over the top" and attacked.

Rebel dispatches said that north of Corbera, about twelve miles north of Gandesa, Gen. Francisco Franco's troops, aided by 100 field guns, captured a hill. The gain was made with "heavy loss of life," the loyalists said. The rebels were attempting to capture the foothills of the Fatarella mountains. Farther south, on the Gandesa-Mora de Ebro highway, the rebels struck at loyalist positions in the Sierra de los Caballos, which are in some places 2,600 feet high. Forest fires in the Corbera sector slackened after a rain today.

On the southern side of Franco's "wedge to the sea" the rebels made slight advances north of Viver, their advance point in the drive toward Valencia. Loyalists admitted the loss of one small position, but asserted the rebel assault was just a "feeler."

Thousands Reported Dead in Chinese Cholera Epidemic

PEKING, China, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Reports of a cholera epidemic which claimed several thousand lives were received here today from Shipichiachuang, a town on the Peking-Hankow railroad 150 miles southwest of Peiping. The outbreak had a mortality average of 50 per cent. Meager supplies of vaccines were reported exhausted shortly after the epidemic started.

MOSCOW ORDERS REDS ABROAD TO WORK FOR CZECHS

Agitators Sent to Central European Countries.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Sept. 8.—Mobilization of the revolutionary forces of the communist internationale has been announced in Moscow. After a meeting of the Ikki—[executive committee of the communist internationale]—a manifesto was issued calling on communist parties in all countries abroad to support Czechoslovakia and to take an active part in war against Fascism.

Georgi Dimitrov, general secretary of the executive committee of communist internationale, acting upon orders of the political bureau of the communist party, is reported to have arrived at Brno, Czechoslovakia. There he will preside at a special conference of communist internationale leaders to discuss a program of action should war develop from the Czech-German conflict. The communist leaders have come from Poland, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, and Greece.

Seek Passage for Planes.

The Polish and Rumanian communist parties have been ordered to bring pressure on their governments to permit Red air fleets to cross their territories into Czechoslovakia.

A number of other foreign Red leaders and members of the Ikki who in recent years have been permanent residents of Moscow have been sent back to their countries to direct the work of converting any nationalistic war into a class war. It is said the political bureau has assigned $5,000,000 for anti-Fascist activities abroad.

Dimitrov's recent speeches have indicated the foreign Reds are expected to begin a campaign of sabotage immediately upon the outbreak of hostilities. Communications of enemy countries are to be the object of special attacks, and the Reds have been ordered to blow up bridges, destroy roads, and to interrupt rail services wherever possible.

Seek to Organize Strikes.

Efforts will be made to organize strikes, demonstrations and conflicts against authorities of Germany and countries remaining neutral or sympathizing with her. It is further planned to launch an energetic attack against Poland in the event she should attempt to remain neutral.

Because France and Great Britain are regarded as allies of Moscow in the present crisis and the United States as a potential ally, the communist parties in these countries have been instructed to use their share of the special appropriation to develop the war spirit of the populations against the Fascist powers. They are to emphasize that the soviet government is the real leader in the war against Naziism-Fascism and to strengthen the campaign to develop a friendly feeling for Moscow.

Special Powers Voted to Deal with Nazis in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The senate last night approved extraordinary powers for twenty days for the government to deal with circumstances created by the short-lived Nazi revolt here Monday. Six months' powers had been asked. The measure now goes to the chamber.

MRS. C. H. WACKER JR. ACCUSES "MISS X" OF LURING HER HUSBAND

[A. P. Wirephoto.]
Sherman Olmstead.

New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—A mysterious society woman, identified only as "Miss X," was described by Mrs. Julia Olmsted Wacker of 30 Fifth avenue today as a siren who lured her husband from her at Saranac Lake two months ago. Mrs. Wacker made the charge in answering a suit for divorce filed in Supreme court yesterday by her husband, Charles H. Wacker Jr. She describes her husband as the heir of the late Charles Wacker, Chicago financier and philanthropist.

Wacker had charged his wife with adultery with "Wilson Eyres, a former Yale classmate" of Wacker, at a New Jersey summer resort.

Through her attorney, Mrs. Wacker denied the charge and filed a petition for $500 a week temporary alimony and $15,000 counsel fees. She asserted that Wacker had an income of more than $85,000 a year.

The Wackers have a daughter, Sherman, whose testimony is expected to provide a sensation in the marital battle.

ARREST YOUNG BANDIT GANG FOR 100 ROBBERIES

Sam Bakos always has considered himself much smarter than the rest of the boys. He left Carl Schurz High school at the end of his sophomore year because he thought he knew more than his teachers. He formed a gang of several young men who would follow his orders. Yesterday Bakos and his gang were in police custody for committing nearly 100 robberies and burglaries.

Bakos, who is 19 years old, said he and five others have been making "easy money" robbing ice cream peddlers, couples in parked cars, and breaking into homes on the northwest side. Bakos said he got enough money to dress well, go out with pretty girls, and drink good liquor.

Policemen Harry Larson, William Peters, Ed Schumacher, and Charles Todd of the Albany Park station rounded up the gang. Besides Bakos, who lives at 4133 North Mason avenue, the others held are Thomas De Bartalo, 22, of 5658 Leland avenue, and his brother, John, 21, of 4416 North Natchez avenue, a WPA worker; William Reichel, 19, of 301 Sunnyside avenue, and Joseph Vetrano, 22, a WPA worker, of 3554 North Albany avenue. Also held is Bernard Strykowski, 20, of 4915 North Meade avenue, who, according to the others, did not participate in the robberies but watched the gang's car.

Demands $30,000 in Bank; Seized with Dynamite

New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—A man walked into a 42d street branch of the Emigrant Industrial Savings bank today and edged up to a teller's window. "I've got thirty-four sticks of dynamite," he said, pointing to a satchel. "If you don't give me $30,000 I'll blow up the place." The teller talked to the man quietly and signaled an alarm to another bank employé. Police seized the man. They found the satchel full of dynamite and forty-eight percussion caps. The man said he was Louis Friedman.

Pecora to Consider Plea for Dismissal.

tion he had asked Weinberg. He had asked whether the policy game collections and business were being conducted within New York county, although the banks might have been located in New Jersey at the time. Weinberg had replied: "Yes, sir."

"The testimony leaves some uncertainty in my mind as to whether the conspiracy existed in 1936," said Judge Pecora. "I will give it further study."

Dewey and Stryker Clash.

During the day's arguments Dewey clashed several times with Lloyd Paul Stryker, chief of the Hines defense counsel. Stryker denounced the testimony of Dewey's triumvirate of gangland witnesses—Weinberg, Schoenhaus, and J. Richard [Dixie] Davis—as "the worst perjury I ever listened to."

The three gangsters fashioned their stories to "sidewipe Hines into jail," Stryker maintained, and to "save their own dirty skins."

Weinberg, he declared, was a professional perjurer, a second story man, a burglar, a cunning criminal, a rattlesnake, and a man with the face of a cobra. Schoenhaus, he said, was "a fat, stupid, slob of a man." Davis, a former attorney who once accompanied Hines to race tracks, fights, and cabarets, was a "crooked mouthpiece," Stryker said.

Reply Accuses Hines.

In response to this tirade, Dewey said that Hines was an intimate associate of the men Stryker was characterizing, and that the defendant had taken the money on which he lived from the gangsters.

The prosecutor was infuriated when Stryker attacked bureau of internal revenue agents, who presented wiretapping evidence of a $500 underworld payment to Hines, as crooks. Dewey said that such an attack on men in the government service was a "dirty and despicable business for any attorney to indulge in, even in the interest of a client who pays very well."

Dewey declared that the testimony of the state's witnesses remained unscratched and uncontradicted despite a long cross-examination.

Jurors Are Excused.

When Justice Pecora mounted to the bench at 2:30 p. m., he asked Stryker how long it would take him to argue the dismissal motion. Stryker said he expected it would require two hours. Dewey asserted he would require half an hour.

The jury then filed into the box. Judge Pecora explained that because the argument would concern questions of the law, the jury would be excused until tomorrow.

Stryker moved that counts two to thirteen, inclusive, in the indictment be dismissed on the ground that Dewey had failed to make out a case. These two are the felony counts, conviction on each carrying a maximum sentence of two years and a fine of $1,000.

Terms Proof Inadequate.

Reading from the statute, Stryker said that violation hinged on contriving, proposing, drawing, or assisting in a lottery. The state's only hope of making out a case, Stryker declared, was to prove some assistance. He said there had been no proof that Hines had directly participated in the policy racket.

Stryker contended that assisting in a lottery, as written into the penal law meant direct and actual assistance in contriving, proposing, and drawing a lottery.

"Why," he said, "a boy who brings a glass of water to people operating a lottery would be guilty of a felony under any other construction of the statute."

Long Brief Filed.

Stryker set forth his contentions in a long brief filed with the court. He charged that the indictment had been carefully framed to avoid directly charging Hines with any of the crimes the state now alleges he committed.

The state had not accused Hines of conspiring to obstruct justice or with actually obstructing justice, Stryker said, and it had not directly charged him with bribing or intimidating or wrongfully influencing policemen or judges. Nor had Hines been charged with being an accessory after the fact in shielding those guilty of crime, he said.

"The prosecution, of course, realized that a direct and forthright charge of any one of those crimes would eventuate in nothing," the brief said. "The prosecution knew it had no real proof of any of those crimes.

"Hence the prosecution cunningly hit on the device of charging that the defendant had conspired with others to contrive and draw lotteries and had actually done so.

"Under the latitude of proof, which is not unusual in conspiracy cases, the prosecution hoped to be able to build up a prejudicial heap consisting of a dozen or more half-proved and insinuated crimes and suspicion of crimes."

PECORA WILL RULE TODAY; PLANNING ON SATURDAY SESSION

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Courtroom observers speculated on the significance of a remark Justice Ferdinand Pecora dropped tonight as he recessed the policy racket trial of James J. Hines after deferring action on a long argued defense motion for dismissal of the indictment.

He announced his decision on the motion would be made when court reconvenes at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

"But I want to tell counsel," he added, "I am going to hold a full day's session Saturday to make up for this time."

"Perhaps you won't have to," said Defense Counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker, who had made a three hour oratorical bid for immediate ending of the trial.

REDUCING DRUG'S SALE RESTRAINED AS PERIL TO EYES

U. S. Judge Issues Order to Stop Advertising.

A drug which causes cataracts in some persons is contained in a patent reducing medicine sold in Chicago, it was revealed yesterday in Federal court.

The Hartman Wholesale Drug company, 59 East Van Buren street, and eight retail subsidiaries; the Isabella laboratories at 220 South State street and Harry Gorov, of 2307 Wilson avenue, operator of the laboratories, were named in a temporary order restraining them from advertising the medicine. The preparation is called Formula 281, and contains a drug known as dinitro-cresol, attorneys said.

Hearing Set for Sept. 15.

Judge Charles E. Woodward issued the temporary order and ordered the defendants to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued. Hearing was set for Sept. 15 before Judge John P. Barnes. The order is the first under the Wheeler-Lea act, which went into effect on March 21.

The action was started on a complaint alleging violation of the federal trade commission act and charging false advertising. It was filed by James McKeag, examiner for the commission, who investigated the case; Gerard A. Rault, and Warren Canaday, first assistant United States district attorney.

Advertising matter included the statement, the complaint said, that Formula 281 was widely prescribed by physicians as a simple method for reducing weight.

"Voluntary letters received in the last four years testify to the fact that no ill effects are experienced," the advertising matter read.

Physician Tells of Cases.

Dr. Harry S. Gradle, 58 East Washington street, in an affidavit said, however, that in the last two years he had treated twenty women after they had taken Formula 281. All were suffering from cataracts, he said. According to the affidavit, the drug causes a distinctive type of cataract, which also is found in diabetic cases.

An affidavit by Mrs. Elizabeth Marcus, 6433 North Claremont avenue, one of the women Dr. Gradle treated, set out that the medicine may be injurious to health and cause loss or serious impairment of sight.

Investigators explained that the drug produces fever, which causes loss of weight. Certain persons are sensitive to the drug, however, and they are likely to develop cataracts from using it. Exactly what action of the drug causes the cataracts science has not yet learned, they said.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, sent an investigator to the Isabella laboratory. Gorov said he was closing the place.

Gets Furniture Back

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Eleanor Stuart in court to get order for return of furniture.

Mrs. Eleanor Stuart's estranged husband kissed her good-by and put her on a train for a Labor day outing, she said yesterday. And then, she complained, he hurried to her $120 a month apartment at 2231 East 67th street and hauled away her lingerie, perfume, and furniture.

Her husband, Thomas M. Stuart of 6040 Winthrop avenue, admitted taking the furniture. But he said he didn't take the lingerie and perfume. Mrs. Stuart's attorney, Sol R. Friedman, asked that Stuart be ordered to return the things he took. Judge Thomas J. Lynch issued the order, on recommendation of Francis J. Benda, master in chancery.

Stuart is suing for divorce on grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Stuart, who is 35 years old, has a crossbill for separate maintenance pending.

Borah, Recovering Health, Enjoys Vacation in Maine

Poland Springs, Me., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, here to recover his health, today was reported by his wife to be "enjoying the first real vacation he has had in years" and to be "much improved" in his physical condition. Shielded from the public by Mrs. Borah, the senator answers no telephone calls and discusses no politics. She said they would return to Washington Sept. 15 and visit their home state shortly thereafter.

Towns Seeking New U. S. Hospital Told to Wait

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The federal board of hospitalization ruled today that fourteen downstate Illinois communities fighting for a new veterans' hospital must wait until after Sept. 20 for a decision. Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, board chairman, said communities would have until that date to submit briefs in support of their site proposals. He said the board had not decided on a site and added the question of further site inspections "was up to the board."

NEW DRUG MELTS SOCIAL SHYNESS; MAKES WORK FUN

Puts End to Worries; Cuts Down Fatigue.

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The effects of a new sex drug were reported to the American Psychological association here today.

Experiments made at the Yale Institute of Human Relations showed that the drug raises the level of living—both mental and physical—helps certain persons to succeed in their work, and cuts down worries and fatigues.

Wall Flowers Grow Bold.

Persons who had been meek as lambs and afraid to step forward and take part in social activities lost their fears and shyness when the new drug was administered to them.

Emotional instabilities largely disappeared. Some persons stopped bursting into tears, as they had been accustomed to doing with no apparent provocation. Others ceased to suffer unexplained fits of anger. Periods of sulkiness were relieved.

Nervous persons stopped some of their fidgeting and lost the appearance of being always ill at ease. Notable physical results were ending of complaints of being fagged out at the end of a day's work.

Some who had complained they always wanted to rest said they were able to keep going without becoming overtired. The ability to face responsibility and take action also was definitly improved.

Artificial Male Hormone.

The new drug, a concentrated hypodermic, is an artificial male hormone, usually made from extracts of plants. Experiments with it are cooperative, with the assistance of Yale medical school scientists.

Although the drug has been used upon persons who are underdeveloped sexually, the results reported today have no apparent connection with sex.

Reports of some of the Yale experiments were made by Neal E. Miller and Richard T. Sollenberger of the Institute of Human Relations. The drug was discovered three years ago.

HIS MIDGET COW GIVES 5 GALLONS OF MILK DAILY

Stillwater, Okla., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Midget cows are bringing not only midget feed bills, but increased milk production to an Oklahoma dairy farmer. Otto Gray, who started experimenting with an undersized breed two years ago, reported today his pint sized animals have surpassed other members of his herd in milk production although they consume only half as much feed.

One cow, he said, gives five gallons of milk daily. Another averaged 41 pounds of milk daily for eleven days, virtually to equal her own weight of 455 pounds.

The midgets, developed from an undersized Angus cow and a normal Hereford bull, stand from 30 to 37 inches high and weigh from 450 to 500 pounds, about half the heft of normal Jerseys, Gray said. Now in the third generation, his midget herd consists of seven cows and one bull.

—AND OLD LACE

By CALEB

"HET IS GEDAAN!"

The woman bowed her head, a hand pressed against her eyes to still their smarting fatigue. Two young girls left their own work and walked across the damp, half lit cellar to finger and admire the gossamer-fine pattern of the magnificent Brussels Point lace just finished.

"It is done!" they cried, "It is done!" and seizing a sputtering candle led the way out into the brilliant sunshine flooding a Belgian countryside. Great was the excitement in that summer of 1892 because the country's best lacemakers were busily completing their finest pieces to compete for the honor of having them added to the famous antiques in the Belgian national exhibit for a great fair in the strange and far off city called Chicago.

In every corner of Belgium, heirlooms and famous laces emerged from great carved chests where they had been treasured for generations, or came up from the damp cellars where they had to be made to keep the hair-fine cotton threads workable. Museums, palaces and farm houses yielded their treasures of lace: Point Angleterre, Point Milan, Brussels Point, Old Flemish, Real Mechlin, Rosaline Point—all were there in gorgeous profusion.

The Belgian exhibit was among the sensations at the World's Fair in 1893, and when the exposition closed, at Mr. Marshall Field's suggestion, every lace piece in it was bought and transferred to this store. A heavy safe was installed behind the counter, for the investment ran into six figures.

From that day forth few Chicago gatherings of note were without some representative piece from this famous collection. Fashions of the day lent themselves admirably, and costumes of every sort called for lace in lavish quantities. There were tiny handkerchiefs that sold for $500; one bridal veil—still in the possession of a prominent Chicago family—was purchased for $3,000. All of the lace was priced from $100 to $1,000 a yard.

Today in our lace department there remains a single item of this famous Belgian collection—a three yard strip of Brussels Point. As one fondles the delicate web-like piece and traces the beauties of its pattern in flowers he senses the passing of an age—the splendor of a vanished day. This last piece will soon be gone, and when it is, we shall echo the words of a humble lacemaker in Belgium almost half a century ago, "Het is gedaan!"

POLICE REBUKED FOR GAMING RAIDS WITH NO WARANT

Axmen Hit 8 More Bet Dens; Total Now 75.

75

A self-sacrificing trio of bookmakers brought a judicial rebuke yesterday to the city's police. The bookies are Harry Smith, Marvin Sears, and Patrick Woods. They are growing humpbacked, they say, from getting in and out of patrol wagons in raids on 10 South Clark street, third floor. They have been arrested nine times in a week, oftentimes twice a day.

The rebuke came from Municipal Judge Oscar S. Caplan. He was sitting yesterday in South State street court where 65 gambling defendants appeared and 65 were released, as usual.

Ax Squads Busy Again.

Meanwhile, State's Attorney Courtney's ax squads wrecked eight gaming dens and city police raided eight other bet parlors. Raids by the axmen brought the number hit in the present gambling war to 75.

The court appearance was a somewhat monotonous joke to Sears, Woods, and Smith. They grinned and nudged each other as their attorney, successful in their last seven appearances before the bar of justice, entered the usual motion for suppression of evidence on the ground of no search warrants.

"Since there are no warants I can only discharge these men," said Judge Caplar "But," he said, addressing Detectives Francis Caraher and John Lannon of the 1st district, "what I want to know is why there were no warants. I've issued about fifty in the last week. Get a warant and the proper evidence. I'll not hesitate to convict these men who are so stubborn."

52 Seized Without Warants.

A little later, when fifty-two other bookies and policy bank defendants were before him, all arrested without warants, Judge Caplan remarked wonderingly:

"What in the world happens to all these warants? Why, I've issued search warants for some of these men myself."

Asked last night why they had not obtained warants for 10 South Clark street, Detective Caraher said, "I don't know."

A spokesman for Capt. George O'Connor of the 1st district said police were tired of getting warants only to have them quashed in court. Promised coöperation by Judge Caplan, he said 1st district raiders henceforth would obtain warants.

Only a Few Places Open.

The three ax squads each were given a list of twenty places to raid, but found only eight of the sixty open.

Those raided and destroyed were at 1130 Milwaukee avenue, second floor; 3315 Fullerton avenue, first floor; 634 North Clark street, second floor; 4019 Washington boulevard; 3156 North Halsted street, first floor; 649 West 69th street, which was guarded by three lookouts; 856 North Clark street, and 744 North Clark.

City police arrested two prisoners at each place. The raids were at 30 North Dearborn street, 229 North Michigan avenue, 166 West Washington street, 2739 North Pulaski road, 4718 Lincoln avenue, 4302 Lincoln avenue, 20 East Lake street, where three prisoners were taken, and 1208 South Wabash avenue.

THE CRIME CLOCK

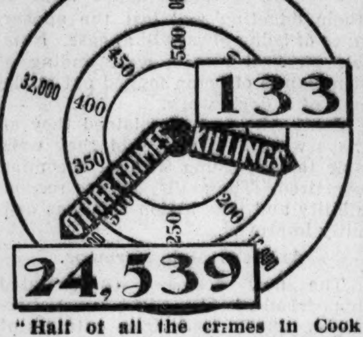
Chicago's Record Since Jan. 1



"Half of all the crimes in Cook county are committed by repeaters."—The Chicago Crime commission.

ADMITS KILLING NIGHT LIFE GIRL IN LOOP HOTEL

William Frank Raab, night club floorman and ex-convict, confessed late last night that he strangled his sweetheart in his room at the Lorraine hotel, 411 South Wabash avenue, Tuesday morning.

His victim was Mrs. Marie Lamont, 27 years old, an attractive auburn haired woman, who once worked as an entertainer in the same club with Raab. Her nude body was found on his bed Wednesday.

Raab, 47, made his confession to Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan, Deputy Chief Walter Storms, and Assistant State's Attorney John S. Boyle.

"We loved each other, but there was no chance of our being together," said Raab. "She worried because she might not be able to see her daughter, Joan, again. Tuesday, just before noon, she said to me, 'Kill me! I choked her."

Raab's confession came after he had been well fed and after he had seen his former sweetheart, Miss Jean Carlyle, 26, a tavern dice girl at Fox Lake. She was detained for the inquest this morning, although police said they were convinced she had no connection with the case.

Raab was last seen at the hotel Tuesday morning. Yesterday two park policemen found him lying on the east bank of the Garfield park lagoon, the lower half of his body submerged in the water. Police believe he attempted to take his life and then changed his mind.

Raab appeared to be in a stupor from alcohol, and possibly narcotics. Police were unable to get coherent answers from him until late in the evening.

Rabb and Mrs. Lamont often had been seen at the hotel since last spring, when he parted with Miss Carlyle. The couple came in early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Lamont lived in a girl's club at 215 East Erie street, where she was known as a quiet, well mannered woman. Her last employment was as an assistant in the Drake hotel florist shop.

For three years she had been separated from her husband, Robert W. Lamont, office manager for a loop real estate concern. Their daughter is 8 years old.

WEATHER BUREAU CHIEF GIVEN GOOD CHANCE TO LIVE

Willis R. Gregg, chief of the United States weather bureau at Washington, was given a good chance to live yesterday by attending physicians. Dr. Gregg was stricken with coronary thrombosis Wednesday in his suite at the Blackstone hotel. Dr. T. J. Coogan, the physician in charge, said that Dr. Gregg must remain in the hotel for perhaps three or four more days before he can be removed to a hospital, but that he expects his patient to recover.

Dr. Gregg's wife and daughter flew to Chicago yesterday from their Washington home to be with him.

Dr. Gregg came to Chicago to attend a meeting of air transport officials. He has headed the weather bureau for four years. He is 58 years old.

FIGHT TO BREAK WPA DEATH GRIP ON CIVIL SERVICE

Workers Aroused as Jobs Disappear.

Rolls at New Peak

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The largest enrollment in WPA's history led work relief officials today to discuss the possibility that their present funds might be exhausted one month earlier than expected.

During the week ending Aug. 27, they reported, WPA rolls reached 3,066,953, an all time peak. This was an increase of approximately 28,000 over the total for the previous week, when for the first time enrollment exceeded the previous high recorded early in 1936.

If the rate of increase continued, or if the rolls remained above 3,000,000 through the fall, current funds might be exhausted by January instead of in February, as expected by congress, officials said. They added, however, they were looking toward fall improvement in business to reduce the relief load.

In the event that funds became depleted by January, they said, they expected additional appropriations from the new congress convening at that time.

[This is the eighth article in a series on the Works Progress administration. The articles have been prepared by three Tribune reporters after weeks of investigation. This one deals with the strangle hold it is fastening on civil service.]

BY CLIFFORD BLACKBURN.

Civil service is an American institution. Its army of trained workers is the backbone of American government.

These men and women always have been safe from politics. Through the turmoil and hatreds of political campaigns they have gone along untroubled, doing their work. They have been beyond the reach of conniving politicians.

The civil service merit system has assured them advancement and security. But this suddenly has changed. A powerful force, striking from within, has jarred the entire structure of civil service.

This force—the Works Progress administration—is a creature of the Roosevelt government; the same government that civil service looks to for preservation of its rights and its traditions.

Political Army of 3 Million.

Since July 1, 1935, the WPA has been swiftly enrolling hundreds of thousands of men and women throughout the nation. It now is a political army of more than 3 million. And here is what it is doing to civil service in Chicago alone.

These are the words of Harvey A. Reel, manager and editor of The Civil Service News, a weekly publication for 50,000 civil service employés in this area.

"All governmental agencies in Chicago are overrun with a horde of WPA workers," he declared yesterday. "From the view point of civil service workers, it threatens to strangle the merit system.

"In its early stages the WPA affected largely the laboring divisions of our city government. Rapidly, however, projects were started that involved skilled labor. In these, civil service craftsmen found themselves displaced by the WPA.

WPA Displaces 3,500.

"It is entirely conceivable that within a very short time the WPA will displace such city employés as the superintendent of streets and the holders of similar supervisory positions. Among the rank and file of civil service, there are about 3,500 out of jobs because of the WPA."

And being jobless is a serious thing for civil service people—more serious than it is for the average citizen. The civil service man cannot get public relief or go on WPA without sacrificing something he has worked toward for years.

This is old age security as provided by the pension fund in which he has an equity. To go on relief or WPA he must resign from civil service, draw out his equity in the pension fund and spend it. Then, when he is destitute, he can apply for help.

Only recently have civil service leaders awakened to the WPA threat against their organization. This awakening came last spring when the New Deal launched its drive to increase the great political army which it expects will be the deciding factor of the campaign this fall.

Draft Campaign for Action.

During the summer, far seeing civil service men have been trying to arouse the great body of workers to their danger. Last month presidents of organizations representing 25,000 civil service workers of the city, county, state, and federal government met to draft a campaign of action. Marvin Bass, their attorney, addressed them.

"WPA is the greatest threat in Chicago against civil service," he said. "The WPA is smart; it knows the value of organization. It has overrun and destroyed many of our jobs and is rapidly absorbing more of them."

"Civil service employés have been too complacent about the security of their positions," Reel declared at that time. "They should be uneasy. These figures should make them uneasy.

Pay Is 4 Million Monthly.

"There are 69,000 WPA employés working for the city government. [Since then that number has been increased to 73,706.] Their pay roll is more than 4 million dollars a month.

"The county, the park district, the board of education and other government agencies employ 43,000 [this is nearer 50,000 now]. The payroll for these men is more than 2½ billion dollars a month. Compare these numbers with the 18,000 men regularly employed by the city."

In connection with charges that WPA workers have displaced civil service employés, Reel cited a report released by Harold K. Seltzer, Chicago administrator of the WPA.

It read:

"Over 41,000 square feet of calcimining, varnishing, painting, and interior and exterior cleaning were done [in 1937] in 107 Chicago schools, requiring the services of 834 WPA workers. WPA school projects also included the construction of cement sidewalks and drives, new flooring and the repair of nearly 2,000 desks."

Called Extra Work.

Confronted with the charges made by Reel and Bass, and with the evidence they cite in support of the charges, officials of city and county governments, of the park district and the board of education asserted that they had heard of no civil service workers being displaced. The great volume of work being done here by the WPA is, they said, extra work. It simply would not have been done had it not been for the WPA.

"And there" Reel concluded, "lies our great danger. These people will say nothing against WPA. They are getting too much from it. They are afraid the easy money will be cut off if they raise their voices against WPA. What we do for our cause we must do ourselves."

The rank and file of civil service is at last aroused. This was disclosed by a survey among the workers themselves. And probably the most pointed observation elicited during the inquiry was the remark of the civil service worker who said:

"The WPA in Chicago has done everything but deliver the mail!"

[The next article in this series will appear in an early issue.]

New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—The principal baking companies here will reduce the price for an eighteen ounce loaf of bread from 11 to 10 cents, effective Monday. A total of 1,250,000 loaves are sold in New York City daily.

PUBLIC ASKS TOO MUCH OF WPA, HOOSIERS TOLD

The public expects too much of Works Progress administration crews, officials of the Indiana Municipal league were told yesterday in their annual convention at Gary. The speaker was John K. Jennings, WPA administrator for the state of Indiana.

"We forget," he said, "that there are standards other than those developed by the profit system. People who adhere to the profit system do not like the WPA. They try to judge it by their standards and it cannot be done because WPA is a large scale social economic endeavor. We do things differently because our purpose is different; it is not based on the profit system. Many business men would like to be helpful to us, but they are convinced that we are wrong."

DEMOCRATS PUT UP PEACE FRONT AT CONVENTION

Horner and Kelly Side by Side; Courtney Absent.

of his honest convictions of patriotic ideals."

Lucas opposed the President's Supreme court packing bill.

Taking a cue from a recent attack the governor made on Representative Richard J. Lyons, the Republican senatorial nominee, Lucas attempted to ridicule Lyons.

"The opposition spokesmen," he said, "including their candidate for the senate, have hopped and skipped like jitterbugs around the state shouting gibberishly about 'dictatorship, 'regimentation,' 'enslavement of labor,' and the 'threat to American institutions.'

Assails G. O. P. Utterances.

"They do not understand the high responsibility of public utterance. They have condemned anything and everything that has been accomplished by the leadership of the state and national administrations.

"But what do we find when this same group gather in state convention to draft a platform? O! How they do crawl! We find them mouthing, parrotlike, the same old Hoover phrases."

"Consider for a moment," Lucas continued, "the effect on the nation if Illinois should send to the United States senate a reactionary and willing tool of the band of discredited men who still seek to dominate what is left of the Republican party.

"Of course, we know that this could happen only if our party laid down on the job and if clear thinking, high minded, independent people were gullible enough to believe dishonest and misleading propaganda."

Horner Also Rips G. O. P.

Gov. Horner also took some whacks at the Republicans.

"It is natural for men to belittle those qualities which they themselves do not possess," he said. "And so they belittle integrity and wisdom and courage and devotion to duty. But we shall drive these professional slanderers from behind their verbal smoke screen into the light of day so the people of this state may see them for what they are—and relegate them to the oblivion they so thoroughly deserve.

"Their promising candidates do nothing but promise and necessarily so, for they have no record of achievement in public office. Yet, we would not at this time discourage their prattling nonsense and impossible promises even if we could. Those who do listen to them vote Democratic."

Beyond adopting a platform, the only work the convention performed was the nomination of three trustees of the University of Illinois.

In naming them, the committee charged with this responsibility accepted the recommendations of an alumni group. Named were Dr. Frank A. Jensen of La Salle, Dr. Karl A. Meyer of Chicago, and O. M. Karraker of Harrisburg. The latter two are present trustees. Dr. Jensen, who is superintendent of the La Salle-Peru schools, replaces Mrs. Nellie V. Freeman of Mattoon, who was not a candidate for renomination.

Dr. Jensen ran for the Democratic nomination for state superintendent of public instruction last April, but was defeated by the incumbent, John A. Wieland.

Illinois Democrats Rap G.O.P. Plan to Increase Age Pensions

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Illinois Democrats, assembled today in state convention, condemned in their platform the Republican proposal to increase state old age pension payments to a minimum of $30 a month.

An increase from the present average of $17.50 a month was advocated at the Republican state convention in Peoria last week. Some of the G. O. P. delegates wanted to go even further and cut the minimum age of participants from 65 to 60 years.

But the Democratic platform committee frowned upon the proposed increase.

Position Set Forth.

"Old age assistance," read the Democrats' plank, "originated and carried through by the Democratic administration of the state and nation, has lessened the economic hazards of old age.

"We shall maintain and enlarge this program, with due regard to the interests of the taxpayer as well as to those of the needy and indigent.

"The Democratic party will not, however, make empty and impossible promises in an attempt to dupe and deceive the dependent aged of Illinois."

A. L. Bowen, director of public welfare, declared last week that a $30 minimum pension would bankrupt the state.

Starting with a few of the perfunctory paragraphs praising President Roosevelt, the platform turned to labor.

Cites Labor Peace.

"Serious labor disputes in Illinois are few," said the labor plank, "a tribute not only to the harmonious relations between labor and capital, but to our state administration which has fostered this humane policy."

Then followed what many interpreted as a bid for support from big and little business alike. Some regarded it as critical of the President's policies.

"One of the fundamental tenets of the Democratic administration," said the platform, "is that a balance must be struck between agriculture, labor, and business so that no one of these three great phases of our national life may benefit at the expense of either or both of the other two.

Backs Lucas' Stand.

"We support the stand of our Democratic senatorial candidate [Scott W. Lucas] to maintain a rational attitude toward proposed federal legislation affecting business to the end that small business may have ample opportunity to develop and expand and that large business may be operated in a manner equitable to all concerned in its conduct.

"The Democratic administration has encouraged business enterprise in Illinois. It has inflicted no restrictive measures upon business. It has helped business as well as the home owner and the farmer, wiping out the state real property tax.

"A helpful policy toward business will be continued. We believe that the solution of the unemployment problem lies in the ability of business, through increasing prosperity, to absorb into private employment the idle workers."

Lauds Horner Régime.

The remainder of the platform praised the accomplishments of Gov. Henry Horner's administration. It declared the governor's administration has balanced the budget, constructed thousands of miles of new hard roads, and introduced a more efficient government.

The platform closed with one paragraph opposing ratification of the St. Lawrence seaway and another indorsing a state constitutional convention.

Name Lieut. Col. Rowe 6th Corps Area Quartermaster

Lieut. Col. Guy I. Rowe, who was awarded the distinguished service cross and other citations for his service during the world war, has been appointed 6th corps area quartermaster on the staf of Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, it was announced yesterday. He was quartermaster at Fort Benning, Ga., until his transfer here. He succeeds Col. A. J. Lynch, who is to be retired.

NO COMMENT ABOUT ROOSEVELT PURGE OF SENATORS, SAYS KELLY

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Mayor Kelly, Gov. Horner, and Congressman Scott W. Lucas, Democratic senatorial nominee, all sang President Roosevelt's praises today at the Democratic convention.

After the convention each was asked what he thought of Mr. Roosevelt's attempted purge of senators who do not follow his dictates. The answers follow:

Mayor Kelly—"No comment."

Congressman Lucas—"No comment."

Gov. Horner—"There has been no such thing as a purge in this country. That's just a newspaper word. The President was opposed to those men and tried to defeat them. But that isn't a purge."

RULING ASSURES CAVALRY TROOP A NEW ARMORY

By a decision of the Illinois Supreme court yesterday in a test case, the Chicago Black Horse Troop and Mounted Band is now assured a modern armory. The suit was brought to test recent legislation empowering cities to donate land for armory purposes.

Mayor Kelly sponsored an ordinance directing the city to deed land west of the 122d field artillery for construction of an armory for the Black Horse troop. This will adjoin the existing building, extending west to Seneca street between Pearson street and Chicago avenue.

The enlarged arena will provide additional training features for the 122d field artillery. The new building also will include an officers' club room and a memorial hall dedicated to founders of the troop.

A WOMAN VICTIM OUTWITS A THIEF; POLICE FIND HIM

When a man jumped out of an automobile at 50th and Loomis streets yesterday and snatched her purse Mrs. Kasimir Kubowas, 7155 Normal avenue, used her wits. She jotted down the license number of the car. New City police traced the license to Edward Macis, 4528 South Rockwell avenue, a milk man. In his car they found two loaded revolvers. Macis, arrested in his home, confessed committing several robberies. He named two men as his accomplices. They were being sought. Mrs. Kubowas' purse contained $20.

OPEN INQUIRY INTO CHARGES AGAINST EARLE

Legislators Push Action After Court Ruling.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—As a result of an opinion by the Pennsylvania Supreme court, a legislative committee today forged ahead in what its opponents called a "whitewash investigation" of the administration of Gov. George H. Earle.

Carl B. Shelley.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

As its first step the committee received the names of witnesses who were to have testified before the Dauphin county grand jury. There were conspiracy, graft, and bribery charges against Earle and thirteen associates before the jury.

Big Names Go in Record.

District Attorney Carl B. Shelley reluctantly read the names of the witnesses into the legislative record. Many are big in Pennsylvania politics and commerce. It had been Shelley's intention to use the witnesses in his grand jury investigation.

Early this summer, as Shelley prepared his grand jury quiz, the Democratic controled legislature appointed a special committee to conduct an independent inquiry. Charges were made that the committee's task was solely to forestall and undo the grand jury.

The committee demanded District Attorney Shelley's evidence. He refused to surrender it. Judge Paul N. Schaeffer later upheld him, and impounded the grand jury records. He held the committee was invading judicial power. His ruling was appealed to the Pennsylvania Supreme court.

Court Reverses Decision.

On Wednesday that court reversed Judge Schaeffer, and gave the committee access to the impounded records. In accordance with the ruling, Shelley today surrendered his records and names of witnesses to the committee.

"The information given to the district attorney and others named in this order is not privileged in the sense that the witnesses may not be required to divulge it on the ground of privileged communications as argued," the court order read. "Nor may the documentary evidence be impounded beyond the reach of the legislative committee."

District Attorney Shelley was threatened with contempt action for his replies to questions put to him as the first witness called before the house committee.

The major clash of the day's session came following the mention of a witness to whom the district attorney referred simply as "Mr. Swiegart."

Statement Starts Uproar.

Pressing for further identification, Abram Salsburg, the committee's counsel, inquired about his occupation. Shelley replied:

"Our records show that Mr. Swiegart is a government man. He was sent into Wilkesbarre to stop coercion of—"

The rest of the sentence was lost in an ensuing uproar. Salsburg and his fellow attorney, Albert L. Thomas, jumped up shouting "stop it."

"Wait a moment," the former demanded. "We ask to have this stricken from the record."

"No you're not," the district attorney retorted. "I am going to keep on talking. He now is located at. . . ." Salsburg warned the witness here to "watch out" or he would be "held in contempt."

Denies Contempt Ground.

The district attorney denied he could be held in contempt for "testifying freely" and insisted that he be permitted "to give my full and complete answer to the question."

After a conference, Chairman Herbert B. Cohen said that it was the "unanimous opinion that the only testimony you are able to give to the committee is competent and legal testimony."

Under one of the acts of the special legislative session, now before the state Supreme court for a test of their constitutionality, the house investigating committee has the power to have recalcitrant witnesses sent to the penitentiary for contempt.

Names Major Party Leaders.

The names read into the record by Shelley included many of the leaders of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. Among them were Senator Joseph F. Guffey and his sister, Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, John B. Kelly, chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic committee; Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia; J. David Stern, publisher of the Philadelphia Record and the New York Post; Joseph Donovan, secretary of the Philadelphia liquor control board; Albert M. Greenfield, Philadelphia real estate broker; John D. Pennington, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Industrial School for Boys at Huntingdon, and Charles J. Margiotti, former state attorney general, who initiated many of the graft charges.

Senator Guffey, Mr. Stern, Mayor Wilson, and some of the other prospective witnesses attacked the successful ticket, headed by Gov. Earle for the Democratic senatorial nomination, during the party primary last spring.

Dies Declares Roosevelt Fails to Assist Red Investigation

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt has taken no action to comply with the request of the special house committee investigating un-American activities that he direct heads of various departments of the government to provide investigators, counsel, and clerical help to aid the committee in its investigation of communist, Nazi, and Fascist activities in the United States.

The committee, in its request to the President, stated that the house of representatives authorized the committee to call on the appropriate departments for such assistance as was necessary in the prosecution of the inquiry.

La Follette Inquiry Aided.

Representative Martin Dies of Texas, chairman of the committee, in transmitting to President Roosevelt on Aug. 24 the committee's request, asserted that the committee had "definite proof" that the department of justice and the Works Progress administration had carried on their pay rolls various investigators employed by the senate civil liberties investigating committee, of which Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin is the chairman.

It was stated that more than two months ago the committee called on Attorney General Homer S. Cummings to assign legal assistants and investigators. The department of justice refused to assign to the committee any law officer or investigator of the department.

Sees Perkins Face Impeachment.

Port Arthur, Tex., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Representative Martin dies [D., Tex.] said today Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins might face a move to impeach her if she doesn't "enforce the law under which Harry Bridges is clearly deportable." The chairman of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities said Bridges, west coast labor leader, was becoming a national issue.

Waits on High Court Ruling.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Secretary Frances Perkins stood pat tonight on her decision to hold up deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, west coast labor leader, until the Supreme court decides a pending case which she considers similar.

POLL INDICATES NEW DEAL CHOICE IS 3D IN GEORGIA

Roosevelt Critics Gaining in Face of Purge Drive.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Latest poll figures on the Georgia senatorial race today strengthened the belief that Lawrence S. Camp, President Roosevelt's candidate, will run third in the primary Wednesday.

It generally is conceded that Senator Walter F. George will lead all the candidates, despite efforts of the President to purge him from the Democratic party. Many believe former Gov. Eugene Talmadge, also a strong New Deal critic, will run second.

Study Talmadge's Strength.

Although the poll places George first, Camp second, and Talmadge third, its popular vote percentages disclose that Talmadge ranks second among farmers and only 1 per cent behind Camp among the lower income group.

Talmadge has concentrated his appeal for votes almost solely in the rural districts and has conceded the cities and larger towns to George or Camp.

Scares Farm Policy.

Talmadge, who fell out with the Roosevelt administration during his 1935-'36 term as governor of Georgia, has attacked the administration on its farm and trade agreement policies.

"The New Deal's farm policy," he said, "has caused a downward trend in farm incomes. The favored nations policy of trade agreements has necessitated huge relief expenditures.

"The income of southern tobacco farmers has been reduced one-third in order to make room on American markets for regimented labor in these foreign countries."

3 ARMED BANDITS ROB MEAT PLANT; ESCAPE WITH $550

Three armed men yesterday obtained $550 in a robbery of the Kelly Korn Beef company, 219 West 75th street, a wholesale concern. It is owned by William A. Kelly, a brother of Mayor Kelly.

Two of the robbers entered the front door. They forced Miss Margaret Sullivan, 811 Peoria street, the cashier, into the office of Luke Devlin, the manager. The third bandit then came in the rear and lined up seven workmen and a driver from whom they obtained $50.

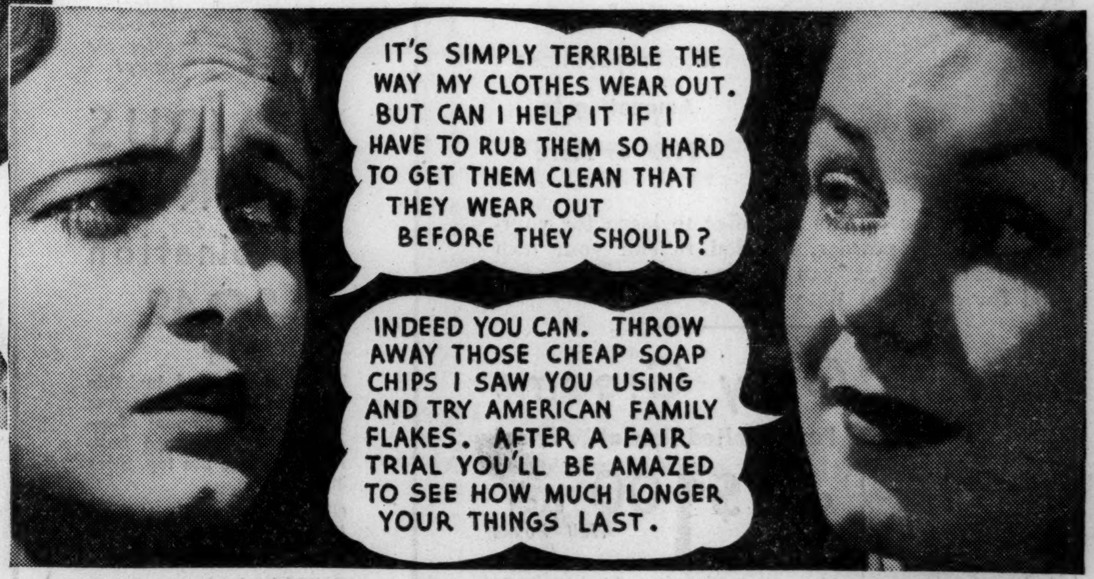
DO YOU KNOW THE DANGER OF WASHING CLOTHES IN CHEAP SOAP CHIPS Instead of AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES?

American Family Flakes wash clothes safely. Contain no harmful alkali or harsh chemicals that can gradually take much of the life and color out of fabrics. American Family Flakes give you rich, thick suds—banish the need of back-breaking rubbing to remove dirt. Remember, American Family Flakes require no boiling or hard rubbing which may wear out your clothes long before their time.



IT'S SIMPLY TERRIBLE THE WAY MY CLOTHES WEAR OUT. BUT CAN I HELP IT IF I HAVE TO RUB THEM SO HARD TO GET THEM CLEAN THAT THEY WEAR OUT BEFORE THEY SHOULD?
INDEED YOU CAN. THROW AWAY THOSE CHEAP SOAP CHIPS I SAW YOU USING AND TRY AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES. AFTER A FAIR TRIAL YOU'LL BE AMAZED TO SEE HOW MUCH LONGER YOUR THINGS LAST.

How American Family Flakes Safely Get Clothes Amazingly Clean

ARE you being "penny-wise" and "pound-foolish" about the package soap you use? Are you entrusting your wash to cheap soap chips that require boiling, back-breaking rubbing and scrubbing—in order to save a few pennies? Then read the next statement carefully: It is such boiling, scrubbing and rubbing that all too often cause clothes to wear out long before their time. Actually rob you of the long period of service you rightfully deserve.

American Family Flakes work on an altogether different, safe principle. First, these famous flakes are guaranteed not to contain harmful alkali or harsh chemicals. Second, they are especially made for the hard water of this region. Third, laboratory tests have proved that American Family Flakes contain more suds-making material than other package soaps tested.

American Family Flakes dissolve amazingly quick—burst into rich, active suds. Even grimiest spots come out without back-breaking rubbing and the rest of the dirt soaks loose almost like magic. That is why the wash comes out sparkling white and sweet-smelling; why colored fabrics are gay and brilliant, even after many washings; why even daintiest washable fabrics are really safe in the rich, gentle suds of American Family Flakes.

Get a box of American Family Flakes from your dealer. Your very first wash will prove a revelation as you see your clothes come out gloriously clean with so little work on your part. Then and there you will prove that you will never want to use cheap soap chips again. And after a fair trial, you will know why American Family Flakes is the largest-selling package soap in Chicago—why "It is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes." Made by Procter & Gamble.

SEE ROOSEVELT MOVE TO SEIZE POWER CONTROL

Attempt Sensed in War Emergency Program.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Through the formation of a committee of federal officials to recommend methods for placing the nation's power facilities on a wartime basis, President Roosevelt was seen here to be reaching out for virtually autocratic power over the power industry.

Through the committee the President will have life and death power over an industry which has been staggered by the program of government competition which he initiated and which he is pressing with a vigor that has given rise to reports that he bears the industry a personal grudge.

Regarded Powerful Club.

The committee ostensibly will work to coördinate existing power facilities for national defense and periods of domestic emergency such as floods, storms, and industrial disputes. In this capacity the committee may hold a particular power system to be strategically unsound or suggest the building of a power system for defense purposes which might force an existing power company to the wall.

Power representatives here looked upon the formation of the committee as placing a powerful club in the hands of the administration which it might employ to beat down private companies which thus far have been able to withstand the flailings of the government's power yardsticks.

In other quarters the formation of the committee was looked upon as another step in the centralization of power in the President. Continuance of the centralization, students of government have warned, can only lead to dictatorship in this country.

Maneuver Well Staged.

The formation of the committee was a well staged maneuver. It is believed that it was planned so that the accusation of dictatorship might not be leveled at the White House.

Last May the President announced that he had ordered a survey of the adequacy of power and power facilities as a defense and emergency measure. He discussed the study with Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson and Basil Manly, federal power commissioner.

The study, it was said, was being approached from two angles—sufficiency of power in time of war and the need for additional equipment, and second, the coördination of existing power lines not now connected.

There was no indication that a permanent group would be formed to assume control of the problem.

War Scare Smoke Screen.

Johnson and other military and naval officials fostered the plan along by frequent statements that the Spanish conflict has taught the necessity of power coördination. Behind the smoke screen of the war scare the committee was formed.

Johnson was named chairman of the committee yesterday at the President's family home at Hyde Park, N. Y. Other members are Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, one of the President's leaders in the fight against private power interests; Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy; William O. Douglas, head of the Securities and Exchange commission, to which private companies must come if they wish to float security issues for new capital; Frederic A. Delano, member of the national resources committee, and Power Commissioner Manly.

QUARTER BILLION SPENT; 20 MILLION GET JULY DOLE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Public relief costs of federal, state and local aid to the needy in July, exclusive of administrative expenses, rose to a grand total of $258,748,000. The social security board so reported today.

Compared with June, there was an increase of less than 2 per cent in the number of different households receiving public aid, but allowing for duplications, it was estimated that those numbered 6,500,000 comprising about 20,800,000 persons.

The July total included $42,615,000 expended under the social security act, $149,200,000 by the Works Progress administration, $3,220,000 through the National Youth administration, $19,848,000 in the Civilian Conservation corps, $1,275,000 in subsistence grants under the Farm Security administration, and $36,863,000 for general relief in cash and kind by states and localities.

ONLY 40% OF WPA CASH TO WORKER, WILLIS DECLARES

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Only $400 of every $1,000 spent on WPA reaches the worker, Raymond E. Willis, Republican nominee for the United States senate, declared here tonight.

Speaking at a large Marion county meeting, Willis said he would vote so that the worker's share would be raised to at least $800 for each $1,000 of WPA money.

"That would leave $200 of every $1,000 for administration expenses, and that's enough. You could do that without spending one cent more than you are spending now," Willis continued. "You would simply see to it that the money gets into the pockets of the right people. I mean the people who work, not the WPA foreman."

Short Circuit Closes Outer Drive Bridge for 2½ Hours

The Outer drive bridge was closed to trafic from 10:30 p. m. to nearly 1 o'clock this morning by a short circuit in its machinery. The accident occurred just after the outbound ship Prince Willem van Orange of Rotterdam had passed through. Bridgetenders were unable to move the north leaf of the bridge into position. Trafic was rerouted into Randolph and Ohio streets.

CHARGES POSTAL VIOLATIONS IN WAR ON TYDINGS

Senate Committee Hits Maryland Postmistress.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—The senate campaign investigating committee today sent to the department of justice evidence that a Maryland postmistress had violated federal laws by activity in the state's bitter senatorial primary fight.

The postmistress is Mrs. Maude R. Toulson, whose postoffice is in Salisbury, Md., where President Roosevelt spoke extemporaneously last Monday in his invasion of the state in an effort to retire Senator Millard E. Tydings.

Investigators for the committee found that Mrs. Toulson was active in behalf of Tyding's opponent, Representative David J. Lewis. Tydings had charged that the postmistress virtually was the Lewis campaign manager on Maryland's eastern shore.

New Kentucky Charges.

In receiving reports from investigators on eight primary contests the committee also charged Kentucky state employés handling social security and road funds were "virtually assessed" $71,543 to aid the unsuccessful senate campaign of Gov. A. B. [Happy] Chandler and that Kentucky WPA employés "flagrantly violated" regulations and possibly criminal statutes in pursuing political activities.

On the Maryland situation the committee said that Mrs. Toulson had violated federal laws which prohibit federal employés from giving anything of value or working for the candidacy of a senator or representative.

"The committee is of the opinion that the postmistress of Salisbury has violated the letter and spirit of the postal regulations forbidding undue political activity on the part of postmasters," the statement said.

"The fact that she was acting voluntarily, as claimed by her, or that she was actuated by the desire to support the national administration's policies, does not justify violating the law or the regulations of the federal government relating to federal employés in the postal service.

Turns Over Evidence.

"The committee is submitting the evidence obtained to the department of justice and to the postmaster general for consideration and action under the law and civil service regulations."

Tydings charged that Mrs. Toulson rode through eastern counties with Lewis and told postmasters throughout the area to get out and work for Lewis. He also charged that she solicited advertisments for Lewis during working hours and sought to persuade editors to give him favorable publicity.

At the same time the committee reported that it had found no basis for the Lewis charge that Tdyings' campaign expenditures, including "hidden" outlays, were as much as $200,000.

Reports Campaign Expenses.

Tydings reported to the committee that his campaign expenditures had totaled $35,957 and that he had outstanding bills of $11,869.

Chairman Morris Sheppard [D., Tex.], said the committee will continue its investigation into the charges and counter charges in the Maryland contest and will in all likelihood meet Sunday in order to make public last minute information. The primary will be held Monday.

The Kentucky charges were made in letters to Arthur J. Altmeyer of the social security board and WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins. The letters were made public by Chairman Sheppard.

Hopkins Is Criticized.

In a letter to Hopkins, the committee expressed "disappointment" over his failure to furnish the result of his investigations of previous charges concerning Kentucky and added:

"We are now enclosing the statement of our investigators summarizing evidence obtained in Kentucky. . . . This summary impresses the committee as tending to indicate that in certain parts of Kentucky, if not in fact in the whole state, officials and agents of the WPA have flagrantly violated the regulations that you from time to time have promulgated with respect to political activity of WPA officials and employés.

"We believe also that some of this evidence supported by affidavits indicate violations of criminal statutes."

HINT PURGE IS DROPPED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's attempted purge of the Democratic party—so far as his personal efforts are concerned—has been suspended.

This decision was reported made at the summer White House today after the President talked over the national political situation with Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

Not having been successful in a single instance thus far, the President was said to have agreed to cease making speeches against those "conservative" Democrats who have opposed portions of his program.

Mr. Roosevelt still hopes for at least a victory or two in his purge campaign. The attorney general told the President that his Labor day speech in Maryland had some effect on the primary contest there between Senator Millard E. Tydings and Representative David J. Lewis. The President came out for Lewis as a "liberal," the congressman having earned hat qualification by promising blindly to vote for every bit of legislation that the President may propose.

POLICEMAN RUNS INTO HOLDUP AND OUTRUNS BANDIT

Policeman William Fauntz was on the way to work yesterday when he saw Miss Helen Nelson, a clerk, run out of a cleaner's shop at 1967 Montrose avenue, shouting: "Stop thief!" Half a block away he saw a man running down the street.

Policeman Fauntz sprinted and caught the man just as he tossed a toy revolver into the gutter. The prisoner identified himself as Howard Barnes Donahue, 34 years old, a Michigan ex-convict.

Donahue admitted to Lieut. Romaine Goudie and Capt. Charles Essig of Rogers Park station that he had held up eight stores in the last two weeks with his toy gun. He said that Miss Nelson screamed so loudly when he tried to rob her that she frightened him.

Franklin Hardinge Jr. Asks Divorce; Charges Desertion

Franklin Hardinge Jr., son of a wealthy oil burner manufacturer, filed suit in Circuit court yesterday for a divorce from Mrs. Margaret Hardinge. He charged desertion. Hardinge, who lives at 1432 Fargo avenue, is 29 years old. His wife is the former Margaret Mitchell.

URGES INCOME TAX TO REPLACE LEVY ON SALES

The substitution of a state income tax for the Illinois sales tax was advocated in a report issued yesterday by the taxation committee of the City club of Chicago. The committee declared the burden of the 3 per cent sales tax was too heavy on low income groups and that the only acceptable substitute is an income levy.

The report asserted that a flat rate income tax with deductions for the first $500 to $2,500 of earnings would be legal under the state constitution. A flat rate tax imposes the same percentage levy on large and small taxable incomes.

CONGRESSMAN O'CONNOR AND THE PURGE.

The purge has concentrated on Representative John J. O'Connor of the 16th New York City congressional district with particularly revengeful bitterness. Mr. Roosevelt has selected Senator Tydings of Maryland and Senator George of Georgia as other special objects of White House animosity because of their independence in opposition to his commands, but Representative O'Connor is first on the blacklist for several reasons.

Mr. O'Connor is chairman of the rules committee which John L. Lewis tried to bulldoze by taking possession of Speaker Bankhead's office and holding a court martial on the members who would not obey him. The refusal of the chairman and the committee members to take orders put them all on the C. I. O.-communist blacklist. John J. is a brother of Basil O'Connor, former law partner of Mr. Roosevelt, but that fact hasn't dulled the sword.

Mr. O'Connor is not only a Catholic, but he was the spokesman for the Catholics when Earl Browder made what was to them a preposterous appeal. The hostility of the communists to religious beliefs is historic. It is a part of the Marxian creed which regards all religion as an opiate administered by the capitalistic class to the exploited to keep the slaves from hearing the clank of their chains and from feeling the rub of the iron against their wounds. When Browder issued an appeal to what he called the liberal Catholics to join the communist party and to recognize common aims, Mr. O'Connor made a radio speech in which he exposed the hypocrisy of an attempt to combine two such irreconcilable things as a religious faith and communist doctrins.

Mr. Browder has crept under the mantle of American democracy, has stolen the names of Washington, Jefferson, and Lincoln, has put on the American constitution as a false face, and in his appeal to the Catholics assumed that he could deceive communicants of the churches into believing that religion and communism could be fellow crusaders marching under the Red banner.

Mr. O'Connor shattered this hypocrisy and these pretensions and increased the determination of the communists to defeat him. In New York's congeries of many peoples there is supposed to be a much greater radicalism than in other sections of the country because in many of the population elements the bitterness of European experiences has not as yet adjusted itself to changed conditions. A European background is closer to them than our American traditions as yet; therefore, it is supposed that all the revolutionaries and radicals, left wingers, and communists of all kinds can be employed in the Roosevelt purge to get the man whose independence is particularly resented by Mr. Roosevelt, Lewis, and Browder. The revolution would rather get this New York Catholic than any other man on the blacklist, even more than Senator Tydings or Senator George.

The purge has been doing very badly, although its best chances are yet to come. The score will be heavily against it, regardless of the primaries in New York, Maryland, and Georgia. Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, one of the court bill senators and an opponent of the revolutionary tactics of the New Deal, was easily renominated in his state this week, which brought purge failures on the court bill alone to a total of five, the successful blacklisted senators renominated being Gillette of Iowa, Van Nuys of Indiana, Smith of South Carolina, Clark of Missouri, and McCarran of Nevada. Two others, Adams of Colorado and Lonergan of Connecticut, will be, it is conceded, renominated. That leaves Senator Tydings of Maryland, Senator George of Georgia, and among the blacklisted members of the house of representatives, Mr. O'Connor, in the New York City district, where every communist will try to defeat him.

THE MAN WHO WAS THURSDAY.

California is paying twice the amount of interest on its state warrants sold since Sheridan Downey was nominated on the Democratic ticket for the United States senate over Senator McAdoo. This is not because the estimable son-in-law of one President and esteemed friend of another was beaten nor because the White House recommendations were not accepted by the voters. It is because the open pored children of the climate fell for a candidate who promised all of them over fifty that they would receive $30 every Thursday by calling for it. Mr. Aberhart, the social credit man of Alberta, put that province on the hummer by promising only $25 a month.

The late G. K. Chesterton might have found Mr. Downey a bit too much on the surface to be the subject of his wit, but the title of one of Mr. Chesterton's works is recalled by the new California episode in financial alchemy. The number of people in the United States who believe a living can be picked out of the air is not decreasing in the present days of magic, although there is plenty of experience to teach anybody that the only place to pick it is out of the United States treasury under the prevalence of the liberal ideas of these times.

Mr. Downey, however, is a much wiser man than Mr. Aberhart of Alberta. The Californian is crazy like a fox. He was nominated for the United States senate, which will have no part in the thirty bucks on Thursday program. He won by promising the people of California that other persons responsible for the government of the state would give them the bucks. The people who are to get it needn't come to him. He is the promiser and not the performer. This separation of political functions ought to make a widespread appeal to the truly good, who occasionally find that there is an embarrassment even to them in the failure of deeds to get within a thousand miles of words.

IN MEX. & TEX.

Secretary Hull's correspondence with the expropriating Mexican government has got him some letters in reply, but not a penny on account and nothing that could be regarded as a good promise, at least as collateral for a loan. A conservative banker wouldn't give Mr. Hull a dime for what he has obtained to date for the Americans robbed of their possessions by the semicommunistic government of President Cardenas, who says he is not a communist.

Although the Mexican politicos are poor pay, they are darn good letter writers. If Mr. Hull wants an interesting correspondence, he is getting it. If he wants any money, he's not. There is enough Latin genius of expression in Mexico to make it very difficult for any American official to pin a fairly able Mexican down with a pen. And it is likely that Mexicans have not as yet really opened up or anywhere near exhausted their subject.

If Mr. Hull presses his bill collecting, his Mexican correspondents, if they are half as smart as they are thought to be, will reply that they do not understand the attitude of the American government because in their small way, if it is a small way, they have been improving themselves and their country by following the example of the government in Washington, and surely if what Washington does be wise and proper, legal, and moral, as applied to citizens of the United States at home, what Mexico does to other citizens of the United States and to foreigners should not be regarded as unjust or unwise.

John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. told his audience in the Mexico City international labor conference that Cardenas and Roosevelt were two heads of government who thought alike and had the same purposes. If Mr. Roosevelt is right and if Mr. Cardenas follows him along the same track, why should Mr. Hull object?

Mexico has robbed American citizens who owned farmland and oil properties and has made no compensation and can't make any compensation. The Mexican Supreme court has even ruled that 17 British and American oil companies which were robbed must pay discharge wages to former workers amounting to 28 million dollars. Across the border, in Texas, the Texas Power and Light company, looking into the muzzle of a loaded shotgun, has offered to sell a large block of territory it serves to the Lower Colorado River authority, a governmental electric project financed by the Public Works administration. If it does not get out of business it will have its enterprise completely ruined by the PWA, which will grant money to build competing transmission lines, using the tax money to rob the private investor and taxpayer.

The investors in this Texas territory put their money in the enterprise with at least as much confidence as the American investors put their money in enterprises on the other side of the border. If there is a difference in the treatment accorded them, it will be found in the Mexican recognition of liability. Mexico at least says it will pay, but the American investors in Texas are just hoping that it will be conceded they have a claim. The American government recognizes no liability. It says these fellows down in Texas are the cold blooded few and they don't deserve any consideration.

Mexico may write some very interesting letters to Mr. Hull before the correspondence is closed.

CONTEMPT BY COMMENT.

In the Voice of the People this morning will be found a letter from Charles M. Thomson of the American Bar association, who writes as a member of the American Bar association's special committee on judicial selection and tenure.

The letter is puzzling both for what it says and for what is omitted. Mr. Thomson's position appears to be that if a man takes a drink in his own home and goes to bed he may properly be charged with manslaughter because, if instead of going to bed he had gone to the garage, taken out his car and driven it up and down the streets, he might have hit somebody.

We should still like to know why members of the bar associations which took the court packing scheme lying down, and have expressed no great indignation at the open defiance of the courts in sitdown strikes and still less at the use of the militia to prevent the carrying out of judicial decrees are in such a dither over the alleged offense committed by the Los Angeles Times. There is no reason to suppose that the editorials in question interfered in any way with the processes of justice; there is no doubt that the other attacks on the courts were menacing, in effect as well as in purpose.

We make no defense of premature editorial comment on pending litigation, but we regard the decision in the Times cases as absurd and dangerous. The doctrin there laid down is that no comment is permissible on any pending case which might conceivably influence the decision of a weak-kneed judge. That doctrin, if generally adopted, would effectively muzzle the press on any number of public questions. It would, for example, have prevented all discussion of NRA in all its aspects until after the Supreme court had ruled in the Schechter case. It would have prevented the appeal to the public on behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti and the present appeal on behalf of Mooney. It is possible to wrap a judge in too much cotton wool. They are not that fragile.

TOO REALISTIC.

After the young singer had finished her second encore, the old lady leaned toward her and said: "Thank you so much for your songs, my dear. They took me back to childhood days on my father's farm. ### ONE FOR THE MEMORY BOOK.

A memory of Jack London—the first and only personal impression—is aroused by Irving Stone's intimate biography, "Sailor on Horseback," recently serialized in the Saturday Evening Post, and said to be scheduled for film adaptation. Place, the lobby and bar of the Victoria hotel in Chicago, now extinct; time, Nov. 20, 1905. Jack London had married Charmian Kittredge here the night before, and, although the news had been published in full, with supplementary details about the first wife, and Anna Strunsky, etc., a "follow" had been marked on the assignment book. So we called on Jack.

He was not being interviewed to any extent, whether on his domestic affairs or the literary state of the nation; but he was pleasant and friendly. He confirmed the story of his midnight marriage before a justice of the peace; we had a drink together and chatted as one ink-stained wretch to another, and parted.

* * *

He did not seem like the Klondike roughneck and "road kid" of his short stories, nor like the redoubtable barroom pleasure fighter that he was in fact. He was just an agreeable, carelessly dressed young fellow with a suggestion of sailor's slouch in his walk, a boyish smile, and gay, blue eyes. His voice was a tenor of weak and gentle quality—the fluty voice that is also Jack Dempsey's. We said to ourselves, "Jack, if one didn't know something about your record he would call you a softy."

Six years earlier we had come across a story in the Atlantic Monthly called "An Odyssey of the North," London's first in highbrow circulation, and had felt as much of a discoverer as stout Cortez on a peak in Darien. Meeting him in the flesh was the usual anti-climax of celebrity-hunting.

ODE IN TIME OF DRIFTING.

Where are your dreams, O my country—
  Visions you nourished when young?
Has your heart gone on a journey
  To cure sated nerves and unstrung?
Once you were speaking in accents
  That echoed around the world.
Why are you timid, uncertain,
  Why are your colors half furled?

You of the schooners that peopled
  The far-reaching lands of the west,
You of the cabin of Lincoln
  And spirit of conquest and zest—
Have you forgotten the Pilgrim
  And Mayflower for commonplace fears,
The hand that cut homes in the forest,
  And ribboned the prairie with steers?

You've conquered the plowland and woodland,
  Your highways have blasted the hills,
The farm roof and city skyscraper
  The score of your thinking fulfills.
Keep in mind you are only beginning
  To fashion and plan your career;
From the torch that is lifted at Bedloe's
  To the Gate that is Golden, my dear.

New Profession: Fish Designer.

A skirmisher for the Line, H. C. Glidden, reports the discovery of an unknown sculptor who works in the medium of fish and chopped ice in a wholesale fish market window on North State street, near Ohio. He urges us to inspect and describe this artist's edible masterpieces, but his own word picture is good enough, as follows:

"The chap's imagination is superb, equally splendid in conventional design, using yellow perch, gray-blue herring, silver bass, red snapper, and maybe green lobsters in interesting arrangements of harmonious coloring and contour; or in creative scenes. In the latter he may have schools of ocean fish at play. Or, again, a savage, mouth-open pike will be slithering through the water [cracked ice] in pursuit of schools of small fry. Another time it will be the pike or a red snapper hooked, with the spoon hanging half out of his jaw, slashing about so realistically you fairly feel the tug as he whips the rod."

Come Into the Clinic, Mildred.

I spend a great deal of my time writing verse, and often after I am asleep the process is continued in my subconscious mind. I awaken myself laughing, but by the time I am thoroughly conscious I can't remember anything except that it was funny at the time. Recently I authorized my sister to awaken me if I should laugh. This she has done and now I have five poems which have been composed in my sleep. Three of the five are about frogs. I am inclosing two of them which have a definite meaning.

* * *

AND HERE THEY ARE:

A bullfrog living in an icy pond
  Said to a fish who called,
"I'd bleach my hair and be a blond
  If I were not so bald."

A bullfrog said to an old hop toad,
  "Your back is full of pimples."
"My stupid cousin," the toad replied,
  "Those are inverted dimples."

Turning Verse Into Prose.

How about a "poem" for a last line? Not space enough, you say? Come, now, modern poets pay no attention to time and space. A bit of verse in four lines and seven words, entitled "Art" and signed by Ingrid P. Mullen, fluttered in by mail, and we thought that if the words were laid end to end they would make a graceful last line of nature description. Here it is:

ONIONS AND GARLIC AS ANTISEPTICS.

FROM time immemorial miraculous health giving properties have been assigned to onions and garlic. It was thought that any vegetable capable of giving off such pungent odors certainly would kill bacteria, possibly by suffocation. One may well wonder how any self-respecting microbe can live in the presence of raw garlic vapors.

Claims have been made that the consumption of these bulbs is followed by the liberation of allyl aldehyde in the blood, which is said to be strongly antiseptic. Would that it were true! It would be such a simple matter to eat a mess of stewed onions or take a bit of garlic and thus banish pneumonia, influenza, and blood poisoning. Unfortunately, the oils and other chemicals of these plants do not possess—in the human body—such bactericidal ability. Nevertheless, the extracted oil is extremely penetrating and can be detected on the breath within ten minutes after it is rubbed thoroughly into the skin. Traces also can be found in the liver, kidneys, and saliva. From this we may know that it can enter the circulation and be excreted via the lungs and other avenues.

A reader of medical literature is surprised at the numerous reports attributing curative qualities to these agents. For example, old prescriptions called for the inhalation of onion oil in respiration difficulties, and it was said to find its way deeply into the tissues and heal ulcers or chronic sores—such as osteomyelitis. The onion poultice has come down to us from grandmother's day, although a large percentage of the benefit may be ascribed to heat.

There is very little in the category of human ailments that garlic will not neutralize, according to ancient writers. It was excellent, they said, for the bites of stinging insects, and the case is cited in which wasp venom on the lips brought about so much swelling that breathing was interfered with. As soon as the patient chewed a piece of raw garlic symptoms were relieved and the edema subsided. It was employed also in the treatment of burns, for goiter, bronchitis, and infections.

More recently an effort has been made to aid the supposedly good effects of the bulb by combining it with charcoal, thus neutralizing the odor. Special tablets have been prepared for administration in doses equivalent to one to three teaspoonfuls of fresh garlic. The most modern use of the drug is that of modifying the bacteria within the bowel. In fact, it is asserted that it is far better than sour milk and is of particular help in cases of diarrhea.

Accurate statements as to the medicinal value of onion and garlic are difficult to make. David D. Waugh, however, has reported some observations on the bacteria of the blood subsequent to the feeding of large portions of raw onions. He did not find that the bacteria killing power of the blood was altered sufficiently, although there seemed to be some temporary influence in reducing the number of organisms, at least for a few hours.

The conclusion may be drawn that the members of the allium family, while useful as food flavorings are not sure cures for infections. If the juice possesses germ destroying propensities, they must be slight. Be that as it may, the one who is wedded to these substances as cure-al's has the satisfaction of doing something, of consuming odoriferous materials, the ingestion of which is a constant reminder that bacteria should flee in consternation.

CANNED MILK FOR BABY.

T. A. writes: I would like to know how to feed a baby on canned milk. She is 4 months old.

REPLY.

The formula consists of 9 ounces evaporated milk, 20 ounces of water, and 4 level tablespoons corn sirup or other form of sugar. The physician in charge should supervise the feeding of the infant.

We have a schedule for infant feeding up to the age of 12 months. This can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

BETTER WAIT SIX MONTHS.

L. P. writes: I had pyelitis and was treated by a kidney specialist who now thinks the infection is cleared up. Would it be safe to become pregnant at this time?

REPLY.

I think you should wait about six months at least to make sure that the infection is thoroughly cleared up. Your physician will want to make urine tests at regular intervals. Pregnancy has a tendency to reactivate the condition.

MAY AFFECT CHILDREN.

L. D. writes: Is there any likelihood that the temporary physical condition a man is in would have an effect on his offspring? In other words, should a man hesitate about becoming a father during the time he is suffering from hay fever?

REPLY.

Discretion is the better part of valor. One who is allergic may transmit the tendency to his offspring but the season of the year would not make a particle of difference.

IT'S NOT SERIOUS.

C. I. writes: I have had a dark spot on my lip for several years. It looks like a blood blister. At times it swells. Does this seem serious?

REPLY.

Probably a ruptured capillary. Sometimes tiny blood tumors [angiomas] form in this vicinity. If it increases in size a light application of X-ray or radium should be considered.

HAPPENS SOMETIMES.

Mrs. J. R. writes: There are twins on both sides of my husband's family. Does this mean that I may have twins? I have heard that twins "run in a family."

REPLY.

There are many instances in which multiple births run in families. The rule is not inflexible, however.

IT MAY HELP YOU.

O. N. writes: Is it all right for a patient with high blood pressure to take viosterol?

REPLY.

Yes, if prescribed by the physician in charge. There is no immediate relation between vitamin D and high blood pressure. In fact, better nutrition results frequently should the system need this vitamin.

THE COURTS AND THE PRESS.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—It is disappointing to find in any newspaper of influence such an editorial as that appearing in your issue of yesterday entitled "The Courts and the Press." It seems to me to show a serious lack of appreciation of the proper values of the elements discussed.

No sensible person will advocate any unreasonable interference with a free press; it has been a strong defender of orderly government—not necessarily "the strongest," as your editorial claims—but certainly a very helpful and valued element in the successful progress of orderly government. The press is guaranteed that freedom by our basic law, and one can have no reasonable complaint with the press for zealously guarding it. But even THE TRIBUNE will admit that this does not make the press sacrosanct. You say in your editorial: "The courts are not sacrosanct. They are not the happy hunting ground of lawyers." Of course, no one will deny that but too often the courts are made the happy hunting ground of the press in a most indefensible and improper manner. Such, it seems to me, was the case when the Los Angeles Times abused its freedom by arrogating to itself the business of the courts by making sharp editorial criticism of a jury's verdict while a motion was pending before the court to set that verdict aside.

Neither the judges nor the lawyers believe that the courts are above criticism, but neither the press nor anybody else should be permitted to make such criticism of a pending matter while the issues are before the court for consideration and decision.

Your editorial says: "Editors all but universally recognize the duty of withholding comment until it can no longer affect the outcome of litigation." Your own editorial shows that the editor of the Los Angeles Times was one of the "all but's," for he indulged in comment when it could affect the outcome of the litigation. It is entirely beside the point to say, as your editorial does, that "there was no reason to believe that any of the editorials had been intended to influence the judges . . . and no more reason to suppose that the judges had been influenced." The real question was whether it could have that effect, as your editorial itself states.

In the last paragraph of your editorial you very truly say that the courts are the people's and "within common sense limits the people have a right to know what goes on in them and to comment freely on them." Quite true, but equally true is the fact that one common sense limitation on the right of the press to comment freely on what goes on in the courts is that the press shall withhold comment, whether critical or commendatory, on matters which are on trial in connection with which the court is considering its decision. Whether intended by the press or not and whether the court is conscious of it or not, such instances are rare indeed in which the decision finally announced is uncolored by the public comment thus made—a situation which all reasonable persons will agree is not as it should be. CHARLES M. THOMSON.

KEEPING COOL.

St. Charles, Ill., Sept. 4.—While war threatens in Europe, Ambassador Kennedy tells the American people they must keep cool. Is it not far more important that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Kennedy should be the ones to keep cool?

LILLIAN STOLL.

THOUGHTS ON TRANSPORTATION.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Your editorial pertaining to the North Shore Electric line is pertinent. Fifteen years ago there were forty-seven interurban electric lines operating in Illinois, covering approximately 1,200 miles of track. Today you can count the operating interurban lines of Illinois on the fingers of one hand. Hundreds of miles of railroad feeder lines also have passed out of the picture.

Heavy commercial trucks today are playing havoc with the state built and state maintained concrete highways. They also are playing havoc with steam and electric freight business. This is possible only because using the public highways they escape the overhead of road upkeep and cost. Is this sound public policy? The cost of constructing steam and electric lines represents the life savings of thousands of men and women, by no means capitalists, who invested their savings there. The cost of building and maintaining our public concrete highways falls upon the taxpayers of Illinois. Would it not be wise to give larger consideration to the widows and orphans who invested in the transportation lines and to the taxpayers who pay the cost of maintenance of our concrete highways?

If the heavy trucks, which are ruining our concrete highway system, were compelled to seek some other roadbeds for operation it might conceivably solve the problem of such lines as the North Shore Electric.

It is doubtful if one-half of the through steam lines operate between here and St. Louis at a profit. Could not one or more of them be turned into toll truck highways to the advantage of everybody concerned? OBSERVER.

NO GAMBLING IN THIS CHURCH.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—May I take this opportunity of correcting in a small degree the letter entitled "Churches and Gambling"?

I belong to a small Independent Baptist church. We never have, in the history of our church or any other church of this denomination, made one penny by selling chances, buncos, card parties, etc., nor have we ever held bazars or picnics or other amusements for profit. Our church is a tiny, plain church, dedicated entirely to teaching and practicing the genuine, so-called "old-fashioned" religion. Our expenses are taken care of entirely by voluntary gifts from the faithful members. MURIEL G. LARSEN.

GIVING A YOUTH A CHANCE.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—I am as much opposed to the waste of WPA as the next person, but I cannot follow your argument that a person making a permanent or semi-permanent career in the Civilian Conservation corps is to be frowned on.

One of the great objections to WPA is the stifling of ambition and the encouraging of men to do sloppy work for a subsistence wage. If the CCC, regardless of its original intent, now gives a young man a chance to get started in life, should it not be encouraged? J. C.

JUST SUBTLE PROPAGANDA.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 4.—Where does A. P. Anthony get his information of the nature of "Blockade"?

What is worse than "a show that feeds the minds of young with a display of strutting gangsters, murders, and looseness of all sorts, unfairness and stupidity" is a picture whose thesis is false and malicious. It is communist propaganda of a very subtle nature. Any thinking person knows that it is a communist inspired showing under the pretense of entertainment. J. G. V.

DISPUTES CCC BOY'S STORY.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Your editorial entitled "Autobiography, 1938" was entertaining but contained numerous errors.

Based entirely on hearsay evidence, you state that the CCC has been converted into a pork barrel. Isn't it possible that the young man referred to [name unknown] imagined his mother and father were alive and making a fair living? It is the natural tendency of youth to magnify and exaggerate. And was the Chicago motorist [name withheld] so gullible as to believe his story? Apparently.

The CCC still insists that its enrollees come from families on relief. Each is paid at the minimum rate of $30 a month; where circumstances warant, certain of these may be paid up to a maximum of $45 a month. However, the finance officer concerned mails checks amounting to $25 to the boys' parents or guardians. Where none exist, this money is deposited by the quartermaster for the individual's use upon his discharge. Actually, then, each enrollee receives only $5 to $20 in cash depending upon his demonstrated ability. Therefore, it would be impossible for him to save $150 in six months if his parents were living.

It is true some of the boys loaf on the job. But not more than once. It means a painful interview with one of the officers [each camp has two], who gives them the choice of accepting a dishonorable discharge or going back to work.

I have been on CCC duty. And I have seen enough undernourished and underprivileged boys regain health, contentment, and even the ability to smile, to know that the CCC can never be called a failure.

The young man in question could make much better use of his talents by writing for pulp magazines. They do not find misconceptions unwelcome; TRIBUNE readers do. ELWOOD J. DEMPSEY, Lieutenant, Infantry Reserve.

TITLE SEARCHES.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I have been told that there is a bureau in existence which will look up for a nominal charge data on deeds, back taxes, assessments, and other matters concerning property which one might wish to purchase.

2. Is this service maintained and where?

3. What does a regular attorney charge for looking up titles, etc.? E. F.

1. There are various concerns which undertake to make cheap title searches, but if you are a prospective purchaser you should not rely on such a makeshift. Even if the search is accurate, you will find when you wish to sell that your purchaser will insist on your having an abstract, guaranty policy, or Torrens certificate.

2. For information as to guaranty policies apply to the title and trust company. For information as to Torrens certificates apply to the registrar's office on the first floor of the County building. For information as to abstracts apply to either one of these offices.

3. In general, Chicago attorneys do not prepare the abstracts. An attorney's charge for examining the abstract would depend on the standing of the attorney, the length of the abstract, and other facts that are not before us. It is nearly always advisable for a purchaser of real estate to employ an attorney throughout, and we advise you to employ one now.

ONE SLIM CLEW BRINGS ARREST IN HIT-RUN CASE

One slim clew and weeks of patient detective work resulted yesterday in the arrest of George Besser, 116 West Ontario street, as a hit and run driver. He was booked on a charge of manslaughter and leaving the scene of an accident in connection with the death of Mervine Loper, 25 years old, of 1250 North La Salle street, on Aug. 14. Loper was run down at La Salle and Division streets.

Hudson avenue police revealed that they traced Besser by visiting most of the automobile dealers on the northwest side and by inspecting 1,300 repair books. Their single clew was an automobile door lock found at the scene of the accident. Through a serial number on the lock the police found the company that sold it and learned that Besser had bought it just four days before the accident.

Truck Driver Killed.

Walter Ostopowicz, 30 years old, 3109 South Morgan street, was crushed to death yesterday when the delivery truck he was driving skidded on the wet pavement at Western avenue and 84th street, struck the curb and overturned. Ostopowicz was thrown from the cab and the truck fell on him.

Thomas Copper, 37 years old, of Chicago was killed late Wednesday night on U. S. route 52 near Templeton, Ind., when a truck crashed into the rear of his automobile.

Aged Man Fatally Injured.

Struck by an automobile, Charles Flansky, 83 years old, 3337 West 60th street, was fatally injured late last night as he walked across Kedzie avenue at 60th street. John Vicich, 1460 Cullerton street, the driver, took Flansky to Holy Cross hospital, where he died.

There were 35 fewer trafic fatalities in Chicago last month than in August, 1937, George W. Fleming, general secretary of Mayor Kelly's Keep Chicago Safe committee, reported yesterday. There were 38 fatalities in August this year compared with 73 in 1937. The number of injuries also was reduced from 2,136 in August last year to 1,840 last month.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 550 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 419 were killed in Chicago where 13,283 were injured in the same period.

TRUCKER WHO STRUCK STREET CAR WHILE DRUNK GETS 30 DAYS

Boots Galbraith.

Boots Galbraith of Burlington, Ia., driver of a truck which struck a street car Wednesday night, was sentenced to 30 days in the Bridewell yesterday for driving while intoxicated and to 10 days for reckless driving. The sentences, imposed by Judge Stephen Adamowski in the Safety court, are to run concurrently. The accident occurred at Grand avenue and Desplaines street. Four persons were injured slightly.

Homer Thornton, 4541 North Racine avenue, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail for driving while intoxicated. He was arrested Wednesday at Wilson and Ashland avenues after he had struck another car.

APPROVE TWELVE TRAFIC PROJECTS IN CHICAGO AREA

The Illinois highway department in Springfield yesterday approved twelve contracts for trafic improvements in the Chicago area. The cost, to be paid from the city and county share of the gasoline tax revenue, totals $475,129.

Five of the contracts, totaling $433,639, are for projects in Chicago. They are: Bridge at Ashland avenue and 49th street, $109,817; temporary bridge over canal for South Western avenue/ and South Western boulevard, $78,504; substructure for Austin avenue underpass from Dickens avenue to Courtland avenue, $43,187; dual lane seventeen foot concrete pavements in Chicago avenue from Western avenue to Ashland avenue, $113,058, and viaduct substructure in Laramie avenue from Roosevelt road to Lexington street, $89,073.

The other contracts are for installation of trafic signals, construction of small bridges, and other improvements in Aurora, East Dundee, Elmhurst, and Will county areas.

DRIVERS' PHOTOS WILL APPEAR ON STATE LICENSES

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—[Special.] — Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes said today that the 2,500,000 motorists of Illinois will be asked to submit portraits of the passport type in applying for their drivers' licenses.

Application forms will be distributed next week through the same agencies — including THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service offices — that have been distributing automobile registration blanks.

Photos to Go on Cards.

The photographs, which will be one by one and a half inches in size, will be reproduced on the license cards which drivers must carry while operating a motor car after next May 1. The cards also will bear the name and address of the license holder, his signature, and a brief description including race, color of eyes, color of hair, weight, height, and sex.

"The picture," said John J. Nash, head of the secretary's license bureau, "is not required by the license statute, but we hope most motorists will comply with our request."

Pictures Afford Identification.

The photographs will afford convenient positive identification. In addition to aiding police the pictures will be of value to owners in identifying themselves for such purposes as cashing checks. The portraits also will prevent fraudulent use of a license card that has been lost.

Hughes believes a majority of motorists will want to obtain their licenses promptly, instead of waiting for the deadline. The cards will serve as bail bond in arrests on state trafic charges. License fee is 50 cents for three years.

THE MASSACRE
Chicago's 1938 Trafic Toll

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

FIND PROFESSOR'S WIFE SUICIDE.

A verdict of suicide while despondent was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday in the death of Mrs. Ardys Taylor Holbrook, 36 years old, wife of William Holbrook, an associate professor at Northwestern university. She was found dead Aug. 26 in the bathtub of her home at 2005 Lunt avenue. A bottle containing a sedative lay near by.

OIL EXECUTIVE KILLED, BRIDE HURT IN PLUNGE

Separate in Hotel Quarrel, Then Tragedy.

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—A young bride and her wealthy husband plunged from a fourth floor window of a hotel here today after a gay party with friends during which they quarreled and separated.

The husband, M. E. Lake, 35 years old, an executive of two Texas oil companies, was killed. His bride of three months, Maxine, 20 years old, still was alive, but was reported in a critical condition in the Memorial hospital.

Coroner F. S. Schilling said Lake committed suicide but that further investigation would be necessary to determine the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Lake's fall.

Bride First to Fall.

The bride came hurtling from the window first. An associate of Lake's, who said he witnessed the tragedy, declared the girl came out of the window feet first. He said he couldn't determine whether she had been pushed from the window or if she leaped intentionally. Other witnesses said the woman climbed out the window and sat on the sill.

A moment later Lake plunged from the window head first after deliberating briefly while a taxicab driver in the street pleaded with him not to leap. He landed on top of the crushed body of his wife, whose back was broken in striking a protruding drug store sign. Lake's skull was fractured. A man representing himself as a government agent stole Lake's wallet containing $500 as residents gathered about. Police are searching for the money.

Lake was vice president of the Coast Line Oil corporation and of the Lincoln Petroleum company, both with headquarters in San Antonio, Tex. He was reputedly wealthy and a heavy stockholder in the two companies, which own oil producing wells in Texas and Oklahoma.

Wed Three Months Ago.

Three months ago in Corpus Christi, Tex., Lake married the former Maxine Dunson of Aransas Pass, Tex. A month ago the couple came to Mattoon in connection with an oil development program here. They lived in a resort cabin at Lake Mattoon and participated frequently in this community's night life.

Last night they attended a dinner in a Mattoon tavern with a party of eight persons, who included several of Lake's business associates. The Lakes quarreled during the party and continued their bickering when the festivities were adjourned to the room of one of Lake's friends in the U. S. Grant hotel.

At the heighth of the quarrel Mrs. Lake departed for her lake cottage, packed her clothes, and registered at the Byers hotel. She tried to reach her husband at the U. S. Grant hotel, but he and Ray Moore, one of his associates, had driven to the cottage. Another business associate, W. J. Malcolm, drove Lake back to the Grant hotel, where the couple patched up their differences, but renewed the quarrel on the way to the Byers hotel.

Woman Walking Her Dog Loses Gems to Bandits

Mrs. Dorothy Harrison, 210 East Pearson street, reported to Chicago avenue police that two robbers took $6,000 worth of jewelry and $42 from her early today in front of her home. She was with her dog when she was stopped. She said the bandits took a diamond ring valued at $3,500 and a diamond bracelet which cost $2,500 from her purse. Mrs. Harrison is the wife of Phil Harrison, a scrap iron dealer.

The subsoil formation under State street as indicated by records and tests compiled by city traction and subway engineers. The drawing is based on data obtained in test borings. The proposed State street subway (to be built between dotted lines) would be constructed close to the surface except where it passes under the Chicago river. There it would be a tube made by boring underground.

CONGRESSMAN'S ONE MAN PURGE STRIKES A SNAG

Balk O'Malley in Quiz on Opponent.

Representative T. J. O'Malley.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Congressman Thomas J. O'Malley today organized a one man purge. It is directed against his own opponent for renomination on the Democratic ticket. Fresh from Washington, O'Malley set about to purge Attorney Francis T. Murphy, who wants O'Malley's seat in the 5th congressional district. O'Malley got permission to use a federal courtroom and constituted himself a subcommittee of the house committee investigating election expenditures.

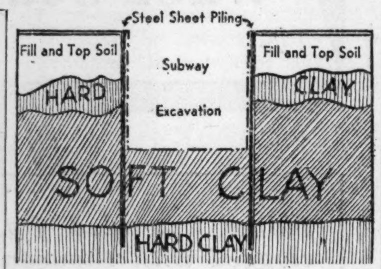
As chairman of the subcommittee, O'Malley signed a subpena summoning as his star witness Frank Schwartz, a WPA worker who has been working for Murphy.

With the stage thus set, the inquisition halted before it began. Schwartz appeared with an attorney, who advised him to answer no questions. O'Malley retaliated by refusing to answer any questions about his investigation. However, he granted Schwartz's demand for an adjournment of ten days.

"I never heard of such an outrage," said Murphy, who is Democratic assemblyman for the 15th district. "O'Malley is trying to use his real or imagined authority to purge himself of opposition for renomination."

Murphy was trying this afternoon to telephone United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings to learn whether the department of justice approved a candidate for office putting his primary opponent through a purge. He also sought to contact the clerk of the house of representatives to determine whether O'Malley had authority to subpena witnesses.

Murphy said that neither federal laws nor Wisconsin statutes prohibited him from paying Schwartz to work for him. Schwartz said he had been employed by Murphy as a stenographer and to solicit members of a Murphy-for-Congress club. He said he was paid 5 cents a name for members.



A cross section of State street as it would appear with the subway under construction. A ditch would be dug and heavy sheet piling would be driven down at each side to prevent shifting of the soft clay when the ecavation was made. Planks would be laid across the ditch for temporary trafic.

Federal Agents Seize Two in Robbery of Iowa Bank

Daniel M. Ladd, head of the federal bureau of investigation offices in Chicago, announced the arrest last night of William McDonald and his wife, Norma, both of Victor, Ia., in connection with the robbery of a bank in Hedrick, Ia. The Iowa bank was held up by four robbers on Sept. 1. They got $1,200.

Boy, 9, Is Killed by Fall from Top of Light Pole

Philip Wentzel, 9 years old, 119 West Ontario street, was fatally injured last night when he fell 30 feet from the top of a light pole in front of 125 West Erie street after he had touched a live wire. He died in the Henrotin hospital.

STUDY PROBLEMS OF SUBSOIL FOR SUBWAY DIGGERS

A thorough study of subsoil formation in the downtown district, in preparation for subway building, has been almost completed.

The start on the subways awaits approval of a grant by the Public Works administration.

Three test pits are now being dug in the loop to a depth of 80 feet below the street level. These tests, however, are only supplementary to a mass of subsoil data collected by city engineers.

They have the accumulated results of extensive test borings made in anticipation of subway building in the past and records compiled during sewer construction and laying the foundations of big downtown buildings.

A layer of soft shifting clay, 30 to 50 feet in depth, starting 12 to 20 feet under the surface, creates the most serious problem. The behavior of this clay when an excavation is made requires extreme care to prevent settling of the street or nearby buildings with shallow foundations. If the clay at the sides of the excavation is not supported it will tend to shift into the opening.

Police to Ban Political Signs on Street Posts

City and county police were ordered yesterday to tear down any political posters attached to posts along streets or highways. The orders were issued by Police Commissioner Allman of the city and Chief Lester J. Laird of the county highway force. City police, Allman said, will enforce the ordinance forbidding the posting of such signs. Laird said his orders conform to a similar state law.

HERE'S FORMULA FOR THE MAKING OF LADY FINGERS

Warm weather calls for refrigerator puddings, and refrigerator puddings call for lady fingers, and here's how to make the lady fingers.

LADY FINGERS
[About thirty]

3 egg whites, beaten stiff
⅓ cup confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon lemon extract
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
Salt
2 egg yolks
⅓ cup cake flour

Slowly add the confectioners' sugar to the beaten whites and beat until creamy. Add flavoring and a pinch of salt. Beat yolks until light and lemon colored and fold into egg white mixture. Fold in flour. Pour mixture into a pastry bag which has been rinsed out in cold water to prevent sticking of batter. Carefully press out batter onto a shallow greased pan. Shape each piece about 3 inches long and ⅛ of an inch wide. Bake for eight minutes, or until a golden brown in a moderate [350 degree] oven. Carefully loosen from pan upon removing from oven. Allow to cool on cake rack and store in a covered jar. They will keep fresh and soft for about a week.

BEWARE!
When Soap Suds Die!

Water intended for cleaning clogged with thousands of soap curds. The cause of dull grey-looking clothes. Foggy glassware. Dull china.

* * *

White things at their whitest, colors bloom clear and bright, dishes gleam again when you use CLIMALENE. The famous grease-dissolving cleanser. Use only ½ the soap. Yet suds always stand up!

* * *

● Take care when the soap suds in the washtub, washer or dishpan fade away. A sad experience is just ahead.

All the cleaning power in the grey-looking water that remains has been destroyed. It's greasy throughout. Cluttered with thousands of soap curds!

Chances are your fine things, delicate lingerie and colored clothes will come from the washing with a dingy dull look . . . your glassware foggy . . . china with a dull cast. No matter how carefully you work.

Glasses Sparkle like new

Avoid such disappointments with CLIMALENE. Not a soap. It's the nation's largest selling water-softening cleanser. You sprinkle it in cleaning water, a teaspoon or two. Before the soap goes in. It prepares water (hard or soft) for the soap. Thus you add only ½ the soap formerly needed. You'll have instant suds . . . constant, full strength, cleansing suds. Suds that never go flat!

Note the sparkle on glassware . . . the gleam on china . . . note the silver, free from all tarnish and stain.

And what a wash! White things at their whitest, colors fresh, lovely, unfaded. You'll see a new standard of cleanliness.

Consider that half the soap works twice as well with CLIMALENE in the water. That CLIMALENE dissolves grease, dirt and grime instantly—with complete safety! That it renews woodwork, tiles and flooring to a fresh brightness, without soap.

Then try CLIMALENE today! Your grocer has it. Sold only in 10c and 25c packages The Climalene Company, Canton, Ohio.

TASTILY COATED NUTS GLORIFY PARTY MENUS

BY MARY MEADE.

Teas, receptions, and housewarmings in the offing send hostesses a-marketing for almonds, pecans, and peanuts, and a-fishing among recipe collections for methods of preparing these nuts in a fashion suitable for party consumption.

The tea season, if there be any such, now is open and within a few weeks will be reaching a peak with innumerable college and university "rushing" affairs. Very few of these parties will be nutless ones. The almonds, the peanuts, and the pecans are quite sure to turn up on the tea tables in sweet coatings or plain "bare nekkid." Fondant and chocolate coatings are popular, but more fashionable at the moment are spiced coatings, glazes, and caramelly crunchy casings.

Mixed Salted Nuts.

¼ pound blanched almonds
¼ pound blanched raw peanuts
¼ pound pecan meats
¼ cup melted butter or olive oil
Salt

To blanch nuts from which skins are to be removed pour boiling water over them and allow to stand for several minutes. Drain, cover with cold water, and rub off the skins. Place prepared nuts in a shallow pan and drip the butter or oil over them. Stir until they are well coated with fat, then place in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally until the nuts are delicately browned. Avoid cooking them too long. They will darken somewhat after being removed from the oven. Drain on brown paper and sprinkle with salt.

Spiced Nuts.

1½ cups confectioners' sugar
6 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon allspice
¾ teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg white
2 tablespoons cold water
2 cups nut meats

Sift dry ingredients together. Beat egg white and water until slightly frothy. Drop the nuts into the egg white mixture, then coat with the sifted dry ingredients. Place in a buttered shallow pan and bake about 20 minutes at 350 degrees, stirring occasionally. Separate nuts, as they cool, on waxed paper.

Caramel-Crunchy Nuts.

2 cups granulated sugar
¼ cup butter
Unblanched almonds

Combine sugar and butter in a skillet. Stir over low heat until the sugar is melted and browned. When the mixture looks golden and slightly lumpy stir in the unblanched almonds, coat them quickly, and separate while hot on waxed paper.

Glazed Nuts.

2 cups sugar
1 cup boiling water
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
Whole mixed nuts

Blanch almonds or peanuts when coating them in this way. Place sugar, water, and cream of tartar in a saucepan and stir until sugar is dissolved. Heat to boiling and let boil until the sirup reaches the brittle stage and begins to turn slightly yellow. Remove saucepan from stove to stop boiling. Place pan in a pan of hot water to keep the sirup from hardening. Quickly dip the nuts, a few at a time. Remove with a wire spoon to oiled paper.

PLAIN CUSTARD BAKED IN CUPS IS BEST OF ALL

Some people like their custard between the two crusts of a pie, some like it as a sauce over fruit, some like it baked as a pudding in a large casserole, but it is perhaps best of all when it's just plain cup custard.

Recent experiments by the research department of a large stove manufacturer show that the best cup custard used a proportion of 3 eggs to 3 cups of milk, and is baked in a pan of hot water at a temperature of 350 degrees. A custard can be baked without the pan of hot water, if the temperature is kept at 250 degrees, but it won't be quite as good.

HONEY CUP CUSTARD.
[Serve six.]

1 quart milk
4 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup honey
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt

Scald milk. Combine with remaining ingredients. Pour into custard cups and bake in pan of hot water in moderate [350 degree] oven about 30 minutes or until firm.

BAKED CUP CUSTARD.
[Serve six.]

1 quart milk
4 eggs slightly beaten
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
Nutmeg

Scald milk. Combine eggs, sugar, and salt. Add milk to eggs slowly, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add vanilla. Turn into small custard cups and place in a pan of hot water. Bake in moderate [350 degree] oven 25 to 30 minutes or until firm. [To test firmness, insert a silver knife which should come out clean when custard is done]. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg.

BROWN SUGAR CUSTARD.
[Serves four.]

3 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups milk
¼ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon rum
½ cup brown sugar, sifted

Scald milk. Combine eggs sugar, salt, and rum; add milk. Put 2 tablespoons of brown sugar in bottom of each custard cup. Pour custard on top of it. Place in pan of hot water and bake in 350 degree oven for about 30 minutes or until firm. Cool and invert each cup on plate just before serving.

BAKED CUSTARD WITH PEACHES.
[Serve six.]

2 cups milk
2 eggs, beaten slightly
¼ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon lemon extract
6 canned peaches
Pecan meats
6 marshmallows

Scald milk. Combine eggs, sugar, salt, and lemon extract; add to milk. Drain peaches. Roll marshmallows in crushed nut meats and place one between halves of each peach. Place peaches in custard cups and pour custard mixture around peaches. Garnish with whole pecan meats. Set custard cups in pan of hot water and bake in moderate [350 degree] oven until custard is firm.

CAKE CRUM CUSTARD.

Crumble 3 or 4 tablespoons of leftover cake, cookies, or gingerbread into bottom of each custard cup. Pour plain cup custard mixture over crums and bake as usual.

Plain Cup Custard may be baked with leftover egg yolks in place of using the whole eggs. Use 8 egg yolks in place of the 4 whole eggs. To make a chocolate custard add 2 squares of chocolate melted in milk to plain custard.

THIS PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICH WARANTED TO MELT IN MOUTH

About the only complaint anybody could make against peanut butter sandwiches is the tendency of the peanut butter to stick to the roof of one's mouth. Adding creamed butter directly to the peanut butter is one way of getting around this problem. Another help is to add some crisp ingredient, such as celery. Adding both the celery and the butter insures a sandwich as easy-to-eat as it is good-to-eat.

CELERY AND PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICHES.
[4 sandwiches.]

6 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons peanut butter
½ cup chopped celery
8 thin slices bread
Lettuce

Cream butter and blend with peanut butter. Stir in finely chopped celery and spread on thin slices of unbuttered bread. Place leaf of lettuce on half the slices of bread; top with remaining bread and cut in half.

SOMETHING NEW FOR BREAKFAST: APPLE OMELET

An apple omelet is one of those dishes that can lift you out of breakfast doldrums any day. It's a good luncheon dish, too.

APPLE OMELET.

3 tablespoons butter
2 apples
4 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
Confectioners' sugar
Paprika

Wash and core apples and slice crosswise into ¼ inch thick pieces. Brown in skillet in the melted butter. Remove to plate. Beat eggs with salt and pour into skillet, cooking over low heat until set. Place on platter and cover with fried apples; sprinkle with powdered sugar and roll. Serve with paprika sprinkled over top of roll.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

WHY NOT JOIN THE "REGULARS"?
If you are troubled with common constipation, here's some common-sense advice. This difficulty is usually due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. So instead of seeking temporary relief, why not get at the cause of the trouble? Instead of emergency medicines, eat a natural laxative food. Try Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy, toasted cereal contains the "bulk" you need. And All-Bran is one of the richest of all common foods in Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1. Eat All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by grocers. Served by restaurants.

FOOD PRICES RISE AS VACATIONERS RETURN TO CITY

Cooler Weather Spur to Heavier Buying.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Retail prices of many foods moved higher this week. Cooler weather and the return of school children to the city increased buying. Housewives are restocking their pantries.

Most stores raised egg prices 1 to 3 cents a dozen. Spinach is 1 to 2½ cents a pound above last week. Fresh tomatoes still are reasonable but the tendency is toward higher levels. Tomatoes likely will be sold in baskets until frost. Peaches are going up.

Lemons are 2 cents a dozen higher and lima beans are up 2 cents a pound in a few places. Green peas are more costly. Cabbage and radish prices are irregular, some higher, some lower.

Coffee on Sale.

Lower priced brands of coffee are on sale in many stores at 2 cents a pound under last week's prices. The same list of stores have reduced lard 2½ cents a pound and bananas 1 cent a pound.

Green beans declined 2 to 2½ cents, head lettuce is 1 to 4 cents a head lower, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower are cheaper, and sweet potatoes are down here and there.

The first Concord grapes of the season are coming into shopping centers. The season for watermelons and sweet corn is nearly ended. There still are a few berries on the retail markets but they are considered high.

Lamb and Steaks Lower.

A long list of butcher shops have cut prices on leg of lamb 6 cents a pound and lowered round, sirloin, and porterhouse steaks 4 cents a pound. The same shops are asking 4 cents more for stewing and frying chickens.

In most other butcher shops, however, price changes are few. Pork loin roasts are 1 cent a pound higher. These butchers marked up frying chickens, cured ham, and sirloin steaks 2 cents a pound, and beef pot roasts 4 cents a pound.

Fish will be higher tomorrow and Saturday. Pike, trout, and whitefish have advanced 2 to 4 cents a pound.

Live stock and wholesale meat prices advanced this week at the stock yards, according to John Campbell, federal market reporter. Good to choice beef steers brought 25 to 40 cents a hundred pounds more than last week, reaching a top of $13.35 a hundred. This was the highest price yet paid for cattle fattened on corn from the 1937 crop. There was no change in wholesale cuts of beef.

Live Hog Prices Advance.

Live hogs went up 25 to 50 cents a hundred. Top price for the week was $9.35. Wholesale pork cuts rose $1 to $1.50 a hundredweight. Farmers were paid 25 cents a hundred more for fat lambs, with a top of $8.75. Dressed lamb increased 50 cents to $1 a hundred on the wholesale market.

More price changes were up than down during the week on the wholesale fruit and vegetable market, according to government reports. Pears, peaches, green beans, cucumbers, celery, carrots, cabbage, peas, potatoes, and green onions are higher than last week. Raspberries, apples, head lettuce, and cauliflower are lower.

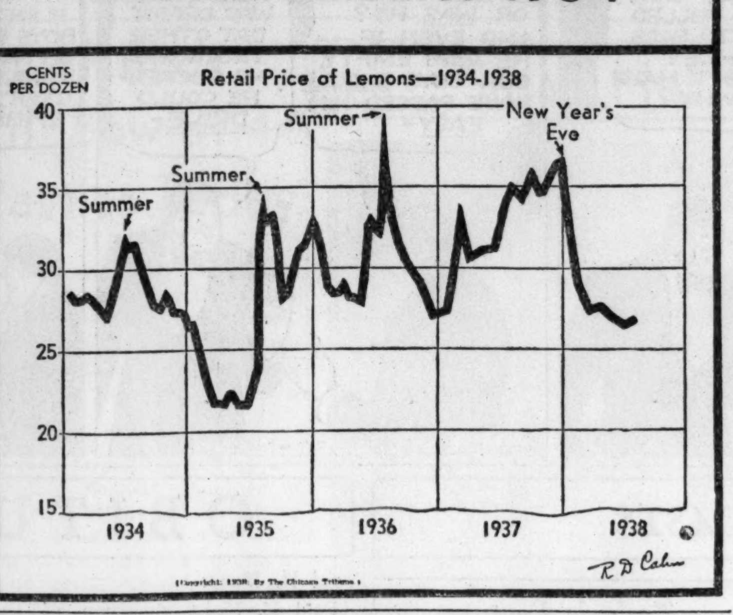
How the Price of Lemons Fluctuated Since 1934



[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

HERE'S A WARM DISH THAT'S REALLY COOL --MINTED PEA SOUP

If a hot dish can be called cool, then minted cream of pea soup is it. The mint does the trick. Since nutritionists tell us we must have at least one hot dish per meal even on broiling days, it might as well be a cool tasting food such as this.

MINTED CREAM OF PEA SOUP.

[Serves 6.]

2 pounds fresh peas [2½ cups shelled]
½ teaspoon salt
1 thin slice onion
Few sprigs of mint
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 tall can evaporated milk [1⅔ cups]

Boil peas in 2 cups of water with salt, onion and mint until tender. Press through coarse sieve and add enough water to make 2 cups. Melt butter and blend in flour and salt. Add to hot pea pulp and cook about 5 minutes. Add milk, heat and serve.

LIVER, LIKE PORK IS DELICIOUS WITH APPLES

Liver, like pork, is especially good with apples. The tart fruit brings out the delicate flavor of the meat. An easy way to prepare the dish is to bake the liver along with the apples, a little onion, and sliced bacon.

LIVER BAKED WITH APPLES.

[Serves 6.]

1 pound beef liver, sliced thinly
2 large tart apples, chopped
1 medium sized onion, chopped
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
6 slices bacon, cut in pieces
½ cup water

Wipe liver with damp cloth and place in greased casserole. Cover with chopped apples and onion and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top with strips of bacon and pour water over all. Cover and bake in a moderate [350 degree] oven about 1½ hours, removing cover last 20 minutes of baking.

AN UPSIDE DOWN HAM LOAF HITS SPOT IN 2 WAYS

It's a tasty idea to add cold sliced home-made meat loaf to the platter of cold meats whenever possible. The meat loaf may be served hot for one meal, then sliced and served cold. A ham loaf baked with sliced pineapple is especially good served cold.

UPSIDE DOWN HAM LOAF.

[Serves eight.]

1½ pounds smoked ham, ground
1 pound fresh pork, ground
1 cup bread crums
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1½ cups milk
4 to 6 slices canned pineapple
Maraschino cherries

Have ham and pork ground together or mix well at home. Add bread crums, slightly beaten eggs and milk. Arrange pineapple slices in bottom of loaf pan and pack meat mixture on top. Bake in moderate [350 degree] oven until done; about 1½ hours. Unmold and decorate with Maraschino cherries. Serve hot or cold.

EXOTIC COMPANY DISH GROWS OUT OF A CAN OF SOUP

Of all the things that come from cans, soups probably are the greatest time-saver for the homemaker. This is especially true if the soup is of the meat stock variety.

Some of these canned soups can be made into exotic dishes for company dinner. Oxtail soup, for instance, takes good naturedly to a little dressing up with claret, lemon rind, and Worcestershire sauce.

OXTAIL SOUP.

[Serves 6.]

1 can condensed oxtail soup
1 cup water
Salt and cayenne to taste
Lemon rind, cut in strips
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup claret wine

Simmer soup, water, seasonings, and lemon rind together for 5 minutes. Remove rind and add Worcestershire sauce and wine. Heat to boiling point and serve with sprig of parsley for garnish.

CANNED CORNED BEEF STUFFED IN CABBAGE IS GOOD

Canned corned beef hash often comes to the rescue when lunch time arrives and there doesn't seem to be a thing in the house to serve. It will never look like a last minute idea served as stuffing for a cabbage.

CORNED BEEF STUFFED CABBAGE.

1 medium cabbage
1 No. 2 can corned beef hash
Tomato sauce

Clean cabbage and remove center, leaving enough outer leaves to hold stuffing. [The center can be used as salad or cooked vegetable next day.] Stuff with flaked hash and tie cabbage leaves in place with clean string. Place in tightly covered saucepan and add about 1½ cups of tomato sauce. Cover tightly and cook over very low flame so that cabbage is steamed rather than boiled. Steam until tender, about twenty-five minutes. Remove to serving plate and cut off string. Sprinkle with paprika and serve sauce in separate bowl.

If you haven't a good recipe for tomato sauce, you'll find this one easy to make:

TOMATO SAUCE.

[About 2 cups.]

2 slices bacon or 2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
Salt and pepper
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 14-oz. can tomato juice
½ cup water

Dice bacon and cook until crisp. Blend with flour and seasonings. Add tomato juice, Worcestershire sauce, and water. Cook until smooth and thickened. This makes about 2 cups of sauce.

GEORGE W. DIXON, CHURCH LEADER, DIES IN FLORIDA

Head of Chicago Temple Board of Trustees.

George W. Dixon.

George W. Dixon, long prominent in religious, civic, and business affairs in Chicago, died of heart disease yesterday in Miami, Fla., after an illness of two years. He would have been 72 years old on Sept. 16.

Illness forced Mr. Dixon's retirement from most activities, but at his death he was still president of the Chicago Temple Methodist Episcopal church board of trustees. As chairman of the building committee of the temple he was one of its principal sponsors.

Mr. Dixon was a former president of the Arthur Dixon Transfer company and a former president of the Wesley Memorial hospital.

Son of Chicago Pioneers.

He was born in what is now downtown Chicago, a son of Arthur and Mrs. Annie Carson Dixon, Chicago pioneers. The Arthur Dixon public school is named after the elder Mr. Dixon. Mr. Dixon was educated in Chicago public schools and Northwestern university. He received a lawyer's degree, but did not engage in general practice.

He served as state senator from 1903 to 1907, representing the 1st district. A year later he was elected a Republican presidential elector, and served as chairman of the Illinois section of the electoral college. He later served as a Lincoln Park commissioner.

Mr. Dixon held numerous directorships in banks, railroads, and other businesses, but he was especially noted as a Methodist Episcopal layman. He was for 36 years superintendent of the First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. At various times he was a trustee of Northwestern university and Illinois Wesleyan university, vice president of the Kobe [Japan] college, president of the Home Missionary society.

Chairman of Fair Exhibits.

He also served as vice president of the Chicago Historical society, trustee of the Chicago Zoological Park society, and numerous other groups. In 1933 Mr. Dixon served as chairman of religious exhibits at A Century of Progress.

Although a noted churchman, Mr. Dixon was not a pacifist. He was chairman of the Defense day celebrations in 1924.

The funeral for Mr. Dixon will be held in Chicago, probably on Monday. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Stanley Zaring; a son, George W. Dixon Jr.; five brother and three sisters. His wife, Mrs. Marion Martin Dixon, died in 1926. The old Dixon home is at 1250 Lake Shore drive. Mr. Dixon was a Mason, Knight Templar, and Shriner. He belonged to many Chicago clubs.

FOREMAN ESTATE GAINS $250,000; NOW IS $750,000

Henry G. Foreman left an estate of $750,000, or about $250,000 more than originally estimated. This was disclosed yesterday when the final accounting was approved by Joseph F. Geary, assistant to Judge John F. O'Connell of the Probate court.

Mr. Foreman, one of the founders of the Chicago Real Estate board and the Chicago Stock Exchange, died July 25, 1932. His will provided that his widow, Mrs. Lottie S. Foreman of 3100 Sheridan road, have the income until her death. One-ninth of the estate is then to be given to relatives and the rest placed in trust, with the income to go to the Michael Reese hospital, the Chicago-Winfield Tuberculosis sanitarium, the Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans, and the Home for Aged Jews.

Mrs. Howard White, widow of an architect, made four charitable bequests in a $55,000 will admitted to probate yesterday. She left $2,000 to the Northern Baptist Theological seminary, $1,000 to the North Shore Baptist church, $500 to the Central Baptist Children's home in Maywood, and $500 to the Baptist Old People's home in Maywood. Two sons, William and Howard, are to share the remainder.

Clerk of Idlewild Club Missing; Fear for Safety

Officials of the Idlewild Country club near Flossmoor yesterday were fearful for the safety of the club's chief clerk, Roswell Brown. Brown has been missing since Wednesday morning. He has been employed at the club for eight years. The club officials fear he may have been in an accident. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and has light brown hair. He is 45 years old.

Ralph Poole Jr. to Claim Bride in East Today

BY JUDITH CASS.

BRIDES vie with debutantes for the social spotlight these early September days, for there are as many weddings as debuts planned for the early fall. A ceremony of interest to Chicagoans is taking place today in Westchester county, New York. The bridegroom belongs to a well known Chicago family. He is Ralph H. Poole Jr., the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Poole of Lake Forest.

The bride is Miss Kitty Wickes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth Wickes of New York and Newport, R. I. The wedding is not taking place at the Wickes' town or country residence, however, but at Lounsberry in Harrison, the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Parsons. Only members of the two families will attend the ceremony and reception that will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole Sr. and their younger son, Richard, are in the east for the ceremony. So are the former Barbara and Nancy Poole, now Mrs. James Murray Washburn Jr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Rich. Mr. Washburn was not able to go to New York for the event, but Mr. Rich and his sister, Miss Bette Rich, are there.

After a wedding trip of a month, Mr. Poole and his bride will be at home in St. Augustine, where he has been living for a year or more. He is one of the builders and managers of the new Marine studios at Marineland near St. Augustine. The great outdoor aquarium just was opened this summer, but it was under construction for more than a year.

Mr. Paepcke will be his nephew's best man. Another aunt of Miss Skinner, Mrs. Wallace Cole, and Dr. Cole, will give the bridal dinner tonight.

Only the families and a few close friends will be present for the wedding. Mr. Guenzel's roommate at Williams, John Gibson Jr., and Mrs. Gibson, are coming from Bayshore, N. Y., for the event. Mr. Guenzel and his bride are postponing their wedding trip until later. They will make their home on the near north side.

Resort's Costume Ball

Miss Caroline Crossett of Chicago and John B. Rowland of Boston and Newport as they appeared at the Labor day fancy dress ball at the Wianno club on Cape Cod. Miss Crossett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Crossett, have a beautiful summer home at Wianno, where they remain each season until late in the autumn. The gown of Irish lace and linen with a coat to match, the plumed hat, and the feather fan that Miss Crossett wore to the ball all belonged to her mother.

Miss Crossett was the winner of the final dancing contest at the club during the Labor day festivities. Although her skill in the tango and rhumba was great enough for her to be judged the best of all the winners of the season's weekly competitions, she will have an opportunity to become even more proficient, for the prize was a series of lessons at a dance studio.

Trio of Buds Will Bow at 4 Parties Today

There is never a dull moment for the debutante set during these busy days before schools and colleges open. Four parties are on today's program, a tea in Winnetka, a tea-dance in Hinsdale, a tea in Lake Forest, and a supper-dance.

But only three young women are making their formal bows. They are Miss Miriam Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney F. Bartlett of Winnetka; Miss Dorcas Fitzgerald, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James P. Fitzgerald of Highland Park, and Miss Elizabeth Knowlson, daughter of the James S. Knowlsons of Hinsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett and their daughter will receive from 4 until 7 o'clock in their home. If the weather is fair, their guests will partake of refreshments out of doors in the Bartlett garden, and in the garden of the home of Col. and Mrs. Nathaniel L. Howard, adjoining the Bartlett's.

Two Detroit friends, Miss Virginia Koestlin and Miss Priscilla Darnstetter, are flying here for the day to assist Miss Bartlett, whose other assistants include her cousin, Miss Sara Scott McElevey of Youngstown, O., Miss Georgette Hill, Miss Alice Graff, Miss Marie Louise Richards, Miss Priscilla Payne, Miss Virginia Ballard, Miss Natalie DeClerque, Miss Maryphyllis Barber, Miss Jane Allen, Miss Helen Shoemaker, Miss Nancy Brown, Miss Barbara Bayard, and Miss Margot Webbe.

After the tea Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett will take their daughter, her assistants, and their escorts to the Palmer House for dinner and dancing. Miss Bartlett, who went to school in Boston last year, will continue with her studies this fall, but her school plans are not definite.

The tea-dance the Knowlsons are giving for their younger daughter is a birthday party as well as a debut. Miss Knowlson is 18 today. The party is being given at the Oak Brook Polo club, where two years ago today Mr. and Mrs. Knowlson introduced their elder daughter, Miss Mary Knowlson, who will be among the assistants this afternoon. Several Emma Willard schoolmates of Miss Knowlson also will pour, among them Miss Jean Husted, Miss Marillyn Smith of Morrison, Miss Annabell Cochran, Miss Polly Austin, Miss Nancy Landis, Miss Lois Thompson, and Miss Mary Jane Fetzer.

Others assisting Miss Knowlson will be Miss Jane Allen, a Winnetka bud, and Miss Josephine Willis, Miss Emily Baker, Miss Jane Lord, Miss Mary Freer, Miss Priscilla Burr, Miss Fayette Hench, and Mrs. James S. Knowlson IV., all of Hinsdale.

The tea table is being set on the lawn outside the clubhouse, but the young people will dance indoors. Mr. and Mrs. Knowlson have invited their daughter's assistants and their escorts to remain at the club tonight for supper and dancing. Miss Knowlson will enter Sweetbriar college this fall.

There is to be dancing at the tea Dr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Richmond Dean are giving for Miss Fitzgerald at the Deans' home in Lake Forest. Following the tea Miss Fitzgerald and her assistants will attend a supper-dance Dr. and Mrs. Augustus Hollands are giving for their debutante daughter, Miss Phyllis Elsa Hollands, at the North Shore Country club.

Receiving with Miss Fitzgerald, her mother, and father, and uncle, and aunt will be Mrs. Richmond Dean, who now lives in Florida, the bud's grandmother. Among the assistants will be Miss Katherine Littlefield, whose mother, Mrs. Arthur S. Littlefield [Catherine Clark], was an assistant at the debut tea of Mrs. Fitzgerald, the former Katharine Dean. Also assisting will be Miss Jane Bulger, Miss Elizabeth Crawford, Miss Dorothy Jane, and Miss Ruth Herbst, Miss Jean Freeman, and Miss Jill Fabian.

Newest Wool Blouses Have Look of Suede

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Need a good looking blouse to complete a new suit or revive an old number? See the stunning Puritan plain novelty affairs made of a suede-like wool. These come in the most luscious colors imaginable.

These blouses are cut with a fine casualness that shows off the suede texture to the best advantage. Sleeves are longish and necklines simple and high. There isn't a tuck, fold, gather, or any vestige of trim anywhere.

These blouses are ideal tops for tweeds, for tailored wools, and are better for chamois jackets than dull crêpe or wool. They look peasantish enough to go with gathered skirts. Name any color and it will be pulled out for you. The dull gold affairs take top rating, however.

If you dote on bows, ask to see the satin blouses with a half dozen bows going down the center front. These are dress parade and come in plenty of vivid colors as well as white. They are good with all the smart wool suits just unpacked.

Velveteen and velvet blouses are also out and around. They are popular with every one because a complete costume can be achieved with a separate wool or crêpe skirt. These velvets and velveteens are of this year's vintage, some are simple with short sleeves; others are cut to fit like a waistcoat, with tiny covered buttons to keep it snug around the ribs; others are made with long fitted sleeves and big covered buttons or a row of metal discs at the closing. All shades of red, old gold, navy, sapphire, and some blacks are plentiful.

Fashion photograph . . . a new millinery color called spice, almost copper in tone, is used in the colored ostrich tip that is combined with a band of mink fur to make a fetching new small hat. This model can be worn with either long hair or with the new brushed-up coiffures. It's an original by Daché, ready for wear with the early fall fur trimmed suits or coats.

Teacher Can Make School Days Pleasant

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

If I had not taught I should not venture to write as I am writing today. But when I think of the hundreds of thousands of young things who are trudging back, or just walking, or—better still—skipping eagerly to school this fall to spend a large part of their precious lives within our country's classrooms, I feel impelled to make a plea.

The ideal condition would be this: that no man or woman should teach who is not eminently fitted for the profession. That is to say, no one should teach who doesn't love it, who isn't in sympathy with children, and who hasn't the scholastic background and the ability to make learning an interesting and vital experience.

But practical consideration by those engaging teachers, and individual circumstances in the lives of those who use the profession merely as a livelihood, make that ideal impossible at the present time.

However, whether the ideal conditions we enumerated are possible or not, one fact remains: if you are committed to teaching, a great obligation rests upon you. It settles itself upon your shoulders whether you wish to assume it or not. That obligation is to the children who come each day to you, whether they will or no, and are with you for hours on end.

The obligation in itself is this: that you should do all in your power to make your schoolroom a happy and pleasant place for children to come to. By happy I mean a place where children feel free from fear, sarcasm, nagging, and scolding—a place where understanding, sympathy, fairness, and friendliness prevail. It is, in addition to being pleasant for him, developing to his personality and mentally healthful for a child to feel at ease in his thoughts of school, and to feel a friendliness in the atmosphere when he is actually there.

I realize the nobility with which teachers have met the crises of the last years—working without pay, or with half or quarter pay, or in makeshift surroundings, or with doubled classes rather than have the school life of thousands of children collapse utterly. This urge to a happier relationship between them and their children, I'd like to point out, does not add to their burdens—it eventually lightens them.

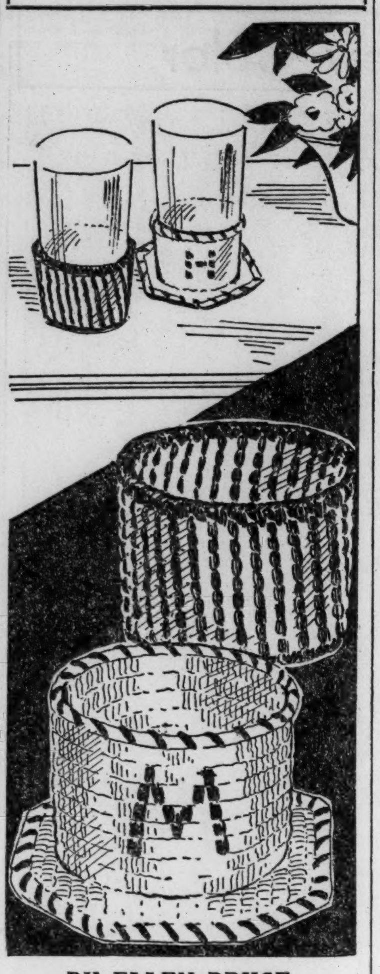
Crochet Hook Is Medium Used for Glass Coasters



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Tall, thin glasses containing iced drinks have an unpleasant habit of perspiring and leaving rings on tables and dropping spots on clothes. Crocheted coasters done in the manner of a "hug-me-tight," illustrated today, are the solution offered to the distracted hostess. These gadgets may be crocheted in monotone, two colors, or variegated according to taste. A touch of individuality may be added by the clever use of an initial embroidered upon the side when the crocheted work is completed.

For instructions for crocheting the "hug-me-tight" glass coasters, No. X-65, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

De Paul Offers Course on Catholic Social Thought

A new course in the history of Catholic economic and social thought will be given at the downtown college of De Paul university, 64 East Lake street. Prof. Charles P. O'Donnell, head of the department of political science, will conduct the course. Emphasis will be placed on contemporary social movements including the Catholic Worker movement.

Refuge Reports a Big Increase in Young Men

More men, and younger men, are calling on the Chicago Christian Industrial league, a home for men at 847 West Monroe street, for help this year than last. And more men are getting it. The Rev. William Seath, superintendent, made this report to the board of directors yesterday.

The number of applications leaped from 1,157 in 1937 to 8,675 in the first seven months of 1938. Meals given numbered 100,252, compared to 62,818. Other comparative figures: league services, prayer meetings and other spiritual meetings, 1,181 against 728 for last year; medical service, 1,376, against 838, and beds, 19,889, and 17,037.

Jobs found were only 24, while 146 were found in the same period in 1937. Two years ago 60 per cent of the men in the league home were from 41 to 60 years old. Today only 40 per cent are, while 45 per cent are under 40. The young men are more desperate and depressed, as they feel that industry is through with them and old age pensions far away. The Rev. Mr. Seath said. Recreational programs have been increased, at consequent increase of cost.

The league, which has no denominational or other requirements for entry, is operated by the Chicago Presbytery. It will be 30 years old next month. Its newest venture is to install seven looms, selling the products for funds, as it does other products of its shops.

Tenderfoot's Inheritance

By Marie De Nervaud

(Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

Anne Claxton arrives from New York at the Wyoming ranch she has inherited, after refusing the last minute proposal of her city beau, Gerald. Steve Hayward, neighbor ranch owner, tells her that Jake Collins, who owns the adjoining ranch, expects to buy her heavily mortgaged ranch, but her uncle never would sell to him. Anne determines to stay and fight. She is immediately attracted to Steve, but Gwen Collins, Jake's daughter, shows a proprietary attitude toward him. She wins over old Tim Salter, her uncle's foreman, and Whitey, a handsome ranch hand. She finds the house in disorder and a gun missing from the rack. Tim thinks Collins had been there and threatened her uncle with the gun and that her uncle died from a heart attack. Collins calls with Lawyer Bill Jennings and turns ugly when she refuses to sell. When Steve advises her to sell she is cool to him. He is offended and jealous of Whitey. Anne expects her former boss, Mr. Trainor, and his family as paying guests at the ranch. Collins serves notice that he is going to fence in the water holes, which he claims are on his property. Whitey takes Anne to a local dance. Jake Collins, drunk, insults Anne. Steve fights him. Anne runs off without thanking him. She writes him a note but receives no answer. Anne tactfully refuses a proposal from Whitey. Gerald arrives unexpectedly to visit Anne. She makes him stay at the hotel in town. Steve obtains from Gwen a rusty gun she'd found in cleaning a well. It is the gun that was missing after old man Claxton's death. The Trainors arrive. Anne takes the two little girls to town with her to hire a cook, where she overhears talk of a plot against her. Back at the ranch she learns Mr. Trainor and his two sons are camping out overnight.

INSTALMENT XXIX.

A DESPERATE RIDE.

"What time do you think Tim will be getting back?" Anne asked as Slim headed off for the mesa again and Red hung around chatting with Mrs. Trainor about the day's events.

"'Bout eleven, I reckon. He wanted to finish up branding the bunch of calves we cut out today while it's still light. How about a cook? Get one?" At Anne's nod, he added, "I'll mosey round to the kitchen and give him the once over."

"I like all these men of yours so much, Anne," Mrs. Trainor said as Red disappeared around the house. "There's something so straightforward and real about them. You feel they'd be ready to meet any emergency."

"They have to be," Anne answered. "That's one of the things that strikes you so when you first come out to this country. When anything goes wrong you can't telephone for the police or the plumber or what not! You have to handle your situations yourself."

"It's a wonderful experience for the boys," Mrs. Trainor enthused. "And for John, too. I'll admit now I had some misgivings about the summer before we left, but I couldn't be more pleased, now that I'm here."

Anne could only manage a smile at Mrs. Trainor's impulsive appreciation. Uneasy qualms again stirred her conscience as she went to see if supper was ready. Mrs. Trainor would hardly feel so serene if she knew of the animosity of a man like Jake Collins toward the X Bar 9!

It was a relief when Mrs. Trainor announced as soon as supper was over that she and the girls were all going to bed.

"I think you're very sensible. I'll soon be following your lead." Anne took a quick deep breath at the picture Mrs. Trainor made at the hall door, with Beth and Patsy on either side of her, waving a sleepy, smiling good night.

How stupid of her to be so fearful! Everything was working out even better than she had expected. She'd hardly dared hope that Mrs. Trainor would be so pleased and friendly and easy to get along with.

Shiney had produced a good supper, so she need have no further worries on that score.

"I guess my own nerves need a rest," Anne summed up as she started off for her nightly chores. "I'm just going to forget all about those men until I have a chance to talk it over with Tim tomorrow."

Unfortunately, Anne's mind refused to second this valiant resolve. All the time she was tending the chickens and watering the vegetable garden the conversation she had overheard persisted in her thoughts. It was not until she had put away the hose and was going wearily back to the house that a new angle on what she heard brought her to a shocked standstill.

What was that one of the men had said about it's being "too late now?" She had taken it to mean that Jake Collins wasn't the kind of man they could change their minds with. But suppose it had meant that it was "too late" because the plan, whatever it was, had to be carried out right away?

Accepting that as a promise, Anne had a horrified premonition of what they had referred to.

The roundup, of course! If Jake Collins was planning to cripple her by rustling or even stampeding her cattle, tonight was the night to pull it off. Tomorrow, when the herd had been turned back to the upper range, would be "too late!"

For a moment Anne stood rooted, stunned by the vision that this realization brought. Suppose there was a raid tonight with Mr. Trainor and the boys there! There might be gun play—anything was possible!

Anne found herself running for the corral, one clear thought rising from the confused jumble to dominate her mind.

She must get to Tim's right away, this minute! She couldn't wait for him to come home. She must meet him and send him back to get the Trainors away and put the outfit on their guard.

At the corral, she whistled to Rocket, seized a halter from a fence post, and warily came up to him.

Twice he sidestepped, but at last she slipped the halter over his neck and led him to the hitching rail.

Blessing Whitey for having made her practice saddling and bridling Rocket so many times, Anne was ready and mounted in a very few minutes.

She held Rocket in with a firm hand, making him walk to the gate so as to raise no alarm.

It was no use sending Red with a message to Tim. Anne could just see Tim scoffing at her story told through the medium of Red. But he'd have to pay attention to her!

This was only the third time that Anne had ridden at night, but in the brilliant starlight it was easy to make out the familiar contours of the sloping hills.

From her next point of vantage she could see the timbered mouth of Woodchuck canyon. There was only one trail to follow up its wooded length. Once on the upper bench, she would have to wait for Tim unless she could spot the fires of the roundup camp.

Once in the gloom of the canyon, it took all Anne's courage to give Rocket his head and plunge with him into its mysterious darkness.

Bending low in the saddle, Anne ducked under the branches and resolutely pushed ahead, trusting to Rocket to find the trail that she could never have found herself. After what seemed an endless period of fighting her way through the trees which seemed willfully malicious in their interference, she finally reached the open spread of the upper bench.

Anne strained her ears and eyes for any faraway indications of the whereabouts of the herd as she waited with growing anxiety for Tim to appear.

After what seemed endless waiting, her ear caught distant hoofbeats. Riding toward the sound, she gave the long halloo that Whitey had taught her was the call of the outfit.

The fast trot coming through the darkness changed to a gallop. A few minutes later Tim was drawing up beside her with a bewildered, "Sufferin' prairie dogs! I thought I was seeing things!"

Anne glanced at the phosphorescent face of her wristwatch. "It's nearly midnight and Red said you'd be back at the ranch by eleven!"

"What's the rush?" Tim asked. "Anything wrong that Red can't handle?"

"O, I don't know! I'm afraid Jake Collins is up to something and I couldn't wait for you at the ranch. It might have been too late."

"Too late!" Tim echoed. "Too late for what?"

"Don't look that way!" Anne felt an hysterical laugh rising up at Tim's alarmed expression. "I haven't gone crazy, although you may still think so when I tell you what's troubling me. If anything happened to the Trainors——"

Rigid Type of Discipline Is Parental Error

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"I am writing to ask you whether it is wrong for a girl of 14 to talk to boys. Also, whether I should or should not be allowed to bring some of my girl and boy friends into my home and introduce them to my parents.

"My parents think that it is dreadfully wrong for a girl of my age to talk to boys and I would like very much to know what to do. I will follow out any directions you give me.

"FAY."

Fay, it is no more wrong for you to talk to boys than it is for you to talk to girls, or to your father's and mother's friends. It is no more wrong for you to want to invite boys into your home and to get to know boys than it is wrong of your parents to invite their contemporaries in and enjoy their companionship.

You have the right and normal slant, Fay. Your parents are simply not wise parents, nor good parents. If they were good parents, they would urge you to bring your boy and girl friends into the home so they could meet them. They would make it their business to know with whom their 14 year old girl is associating.

In what school did they ever get the unwholesome notion that girls and boys of school age should grow up in complete ignorance of each other's aptitudes, characters, tastes, and so on? Where did they learn that to keep a girl normal she has to be shut off from all acquaintance with boys? That, indeed, is the way to develop in a girl secretiveness, intrigue, and a completely unwholesome, abnormal attitude toward the other sex.

It is during the 'teen age that girls, accustomed to boy companionship, get a lot of good education to guide them later. Keep a girl isolated until she is a grown woman and you have a young woman full of the most ridiculous ideas about men and love and dream knights which never come true.

Your parents should let you have not steady beaus, understand, Fay, but boy friends among your school contemporaries. They should open their doors to your young friends of both sexes and welcome them in, no matter how humble the surroundings.

Both Practical and Dressy

FROCK IN JUNIOR SIZES.

College clothes this year are uniting tailored simplicity with that "just right" amount of femininity. We're offering a dress in this current mode today, a pattern that will do admirable duty in classroom or office, and also double for informal date occasions. The version suggested in the sketch at the left gives the dress a high neckline with a Peter Pan collar, and uses lacing on the bodice. The puffed sleeves are long and fitted. The skirt, which molds the hips, has an inverted or "kick" plait in front to afford width for walking, while the back of the skirt has sufficient flare for comfort and grace. Woolens make up well in this version, and tailored silks also are popular.

For dressier occasions omit a collar and give the neckline a brief zipper closing. Shorten the sleeves, use a novelty belt around the waist, give the bodice some embroidery, and there you are! Simplicity coupled with charm, a dress for tea, cocktails, supper dancing and "open house." The embroidery pattern is out of the ordinary and its number is E-11185, available for ten cents extra. This dressier version of the frock should use silks, of course.

Style No. 2134 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material.

Storm at Sea Cancels Coast Guard Trip of Atlantic City Beauties

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 8.—(AP)—A storm at sea kicked up high waves along the seashore today and forty-four girls seeking the "Miss America" title in the national beauty pageant didn't get their promised ride with handsome coast guards.

It was a tough break for the guards, who were all dressed up for the occasion. The equipment was ordered to its bases.

Mayor C. D. White proclaimed a half holiday tomorrow for the annual parade down the boardwalk of beauties, brass bands, and floats.

Happiest girl of them all today was "Miss Jacksonville," [Gloria Smyley], who won last night's talent contest. She came with a wardrobe of only two dresses, and carried them in a hatbox. Her father, who works in a gas station, couldn't afford to pay her bus fare. Her sponsors said today they were still concerned about her return fare.

Walking Gives Energy, Health, and Beauty

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

A back-to-the-pavement movement is suggested by a masculine correspondent as something we might help launch.

What is a back-to-the-pavement movement?

It is the use of those little tootsies of yours, my dears, for the purpose for which they were originally intended. Walk!

An Englishman, not long ago, commented on the indignation with which his suggestion to go walking was accepted by a young woman. "Run out of taxi fare?" she impudently inquired. He had taxi fare and plenty of it, but he liked to walk and he couldn't seem to find a young woman interested in the experiment.

Well, girls, the good old art of walking is being revived as a popular sport, in case you would be let in on the latest wrinkle. They revived the old skating fad, the cycling, and now buying yourself a smart walking costume is de rigueur. You have good looking shoes for the hike, or a good many of you have. Now, all you seem to need is some one, more pugnacious than our Englishman, to shove you out the door and order you not to come back until you've done your two or three miles.

Yes, we'd like to see more of our young romancers on walking bent. They'd get to know each other better—better than in crowded hot-spots where personal revelations would be out of place, if they could be heard. It's like beginning all over again after disposing of reckless money-spending tastes. It's building a more wholesome companionship. But more, as it concerns us, it gets you out on your feet in the wide open spaces where you must absorb cleaner oxygen. Walking keeps you slimmer, more fit, more energetic.

English girls and other foreign girls love to walk with their escorts. There's much they can discuss along the way. There's a closer kinship thus than in a car, say, speeding to get to some other place—to a cocktail party, say. There's color for the cheeks in that walk and there's gloss for the hair, a clearer pair of eyes.

Try a walking date with your man and see if you haven't been missing something fine and fun. Fall is the gorgeous time for it.

You can improve your figure by exercising. Thirty of the exercises which West Point cadets use to keep in condition are given in the illustrated booklet, "West Point Exercises." # The Housewife

It is no longer necessary to have the chintz that you like quilted for you. You can select attractive chintzes that come already quilted. We counted sixteen lovely colors on display on one table. All were 36 inches wide and there were two prices, each reasonable.

Especially pretty was a design showing a little embroidered pink leaf on a powder blue ground. This same pattern came in turquoise on the same turquoise, and in Dubonnet on Dubonnet. There was a delightful light yellow, too, that would certainly brighten any bedroom. Then, there were white, beige, green, peach, etc.

This quilted chintz makes stunning slip covers for chairs, and equally good looking bedspreads. When used for bedspreads, the side flounces can be of plain chintz in a matching or contrasting color. Stretch the quilted chintz over the valance board of a window, too, and for the side draperies use a plain chintz. You'll like the effect. EDITH WEIGLE.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Whenever a cross-ruff plan is contemplated, it is vital to look a few tricks ahead and note whether it will be possible to communicate from one hand to the other. Many players take entirely too short a view of this situation, i. e., they start out with a cross-ruff in mind and actually succeed in ruffing one or two losers, only to end against a blank wall when their lines of communication are suddenly broken. Declarer, in today's hand, thought that he was making a safety play. Actually, he ruined his best chance.

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 diamond | Double | 1 heart | 1 spade |
| 2 hearts | 2 spades | Pass | Pass |
| 3 hearts | Pass | Pass | 3 spades |
| 4 hearts | Double | Pass | Pass |

Obviously, North's bidding was aggressive, but after the diamond denial by South, North felt that a four heart contract would be very hard to beat. He was right, but overlooked the fact that his partner was not an expert on play.

West opened the spade jack, dummy's king won, and declarer, to make sure of losing only one diamond trick, took an immediate diamond discard on the spade ace. He then cashed the club ace, and ruffed a spade, after which he ruffed a low club in dummy. Only after these fatal plays had been made did he awaken to the fact that he couldn't enter his own hand for another club ruff. He led a diamond and East hopped right up with the ace and banged down the ace, king, and the low heart. Now, dummy's last trump removed, declarer couldn't ruff out his club suit, and even though he found a 4-3 break in the suit, had to concede a club for the setting trick.

It should have been apparent to declarer that a cross-ruff plan would not succeed unless the heart suit broke two-two and the club suit four-three. These breaks were certainly not to be expected. It was a great deal more probable that the diamond ace was in front of the king; in fact, this was a near certainty, since East had first doubled for a take-out and later had made a penalty double. Thus, the spade king should never have been used for a worthless diamond discard. Instead, declarer, after winning the first trick in dummy, should have led a diamond toward his king. East would win with the ace and return three rounds of trumps, but note the different position declarer now would have. Winning the third heart lead, he would cash the diamond king, enter dummy with a club, and ruff a third round of diamonds. This would establish two long diamonds for club discards and, of course, the rest of the play would be a laydown.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

There's no use quibbling about it, all of us cannot wear orchids, but we can be one of the first with the latest and have that "orchid look."

Fashion experts seem to be having things their way this year. They tell us that whether we like it or not, we are going to wear purple—or some shade of it. There is ready and waiting for us, a makeup created to complement this color of the hour.

One beauty specialist stepped right out and picked up the various shades of the orchid to use as her theme in bringing out a makeup keyed to the mode. Shades that range from the deeper ones of the center of this flower to the delicate ones of the outer petals.

Heading the list is a lipstick that is a rich purplish red like the one to be found in the center of an orchid. It is soft and creamy in texture and oily enough to spread smoothly without smearing. To go with this is a cream rouge in the same shade. A lighter shade is to be had in a compact rouge. It is a delicate one resembling the pale outer leaves of the flower.

To dramatize the eyes, there is a cream eye shadow that is silvery orchid in color. It imparts a flattering luster to the eyelids. And for the eyelashes, there is an orchid mascara in a deeper purple.

To complete the makeup is a face powder with an undertone of rose, a shade equally as good on an olive skinned damsel as on a fair skinned maid.

The finishing touch is the nail polish in a shade that matches the luscious red of the lipstick.

Whether your costume runs to the blues with a violet cast, the grays with a purplish tinge, or the reds with bluish undertones, you'll find this is a makeup that harmonizes with the wide variation of colors of the purple family. And it's a striking accent for the always beloved black.

FORENCE MURDOCH.

CHEMISTS URGED TO SHOW TRUTHS TO LEGISLATURES

Election of U. S. Scientists Needed, Society Told.

BY THORNTON SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—American legislative bodies are sadly in need of chemists whose scientific training enables them to distinguish between the false and the true, the good and the bad, the beneficient and the malignant.

Dr. Marston T. Bogert

The ninety-sixth meeting of the American Chemical society was told this today by Dr. Marston Taylor Bogert, winner of the Priestley medal. It is humiliating, he said, that neither house of the United States congress is leavened by the membership of an able chemist.

Turn to Broader Problems.

He urged chemists who have reached established positions in professional and business life to turn their attention to the broader problem of duties and responsibilities as American citizens and members of civilized society.

"Trained scientists are urgently needed," he said, "to assume active participation in public undertakings. Our legislative bodies would be benefited by the presence in their membership of able chemists."

The agriculture and food chemistry division of the society gave attention to the problem of the onion and why it makes you cry. Dr. E. F. Kohman of Camden, N. J., discussed the ancient and honorable character of the onion, its place in legend, history, and materia medica.

Onions Remedy for Rheumatism.

The onion is credited in Italy with the low incidence of rheumatism and arthritis. Historically it has been prescribed as an anthelmintic, recommended for a variety of human ailments, as well as acting as a vermifuge for dogs.

"There is no relationship between the lachrymating effect of onions and their flavor strength," said Dr. Kohman.

AGNES GIVES UP HER $25 A WEEK FROM BIGAMIST

Agnes La Monte, the one-time waitress, is going to be a good sport. She's willing to forget all about that $25 weekly allowance her bigamist husband, Frank, recently was ordered to pay her.

The reason: Frank, 55 years old and 25 years Agnes' senior, is being sought by state's attorney's investigators for questioning about funds he allegedly embezzled from his employer. Besides, according to her attorney, George Crane, she hasn't received a cent since the order was entered on Aug. 25.

La Monte's financial troubles came to light Wednesday when Harold M. Marks got a warant charging the gay bigamist with embezzling $23,995 while employed as a bookkeeper and auditor for Marks. Most of the money was spent on Agnes, a pretty red head, during three months of married life which ended when she filed suit for separate maintenance. La Monte countered with a surprise petition for an annulment, claiming he did not know he was still married to his first wife, Edith Anna La Monte, when he wed Agnes.

50 ARE INDICTED IN KANSAS CITY LABOR TROUBLE

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 8.—(AP)—A special county grand jury capped two months of investigation into labor conditions in Kansas City by indicting fifty persons today and blaming "so-called labor organizers" for the smashing of more than 500 windows and explosions of nine bombs here since Jan. 1.

The grand jury charged the perpetrators had preyed upon "honest union labor" and exploited the employer, resorting to price fixing and intimidation.

It returned thirteen indictments but the name of only one defendant was disclosed. That one, W. H. [Wally] Mahan, deposed official of a retail clerks' association, is serving a year's term for malicious destruction of property. Witnesses testified that he hired them to toss bricks into the windows of stores whose operators refused to sign contracts.

Two Corn Blights Shrivel Downstate Fields; Cut Yield

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Premature drying of the corn crop in the southern two-thirds of Illinois is expected to reduce the yield of a large part of the crop by as much as 20 per cent. This estimate was made yesterday by Benjamin Kohler, plant pathologist at the University of Illinois.

Examinations of the stalks reveal that they have been attacked by a bacterial wilt known as Stewart's disease, and diplodia, a fungus disease.

Spreads in Four States.

Reports indicate that these diseases are most prevalent in Illinois, but are causing trouble to a lesser extent in Missouri, Ohio, and Indiana. In these three states the damage is not expected to be serious. In Indiana the disease has spread into about twenty counties.

In most Illinois corn growing counties south of Peoria and Woodford fields appear to be about as dry as they normally are in the middle of October. Plants become more susceptible as the ears develop.

Observers report that by the latter part of July and the first of August Stewart's disease began appearing in southern Illinois fields. As this wilt spread, infected leaves turned brown on the edges and later died. It was spread by the flea beetle more than usual this year.

Experts explain that anything that reduces the green leaf surface of a corn plant increases its susceptibility to diplodia. This summer and fall the plants weakened by Stewart's disease were easy prey to the fungus disease, which has been favored by warm wet weather recently. By the middle of August leaves began to dry and the stalks rotted at the base. Joints were weakened. Old corn stalks harbored the fungus organisms through the winter.

Worse This Year.

Diplodia caused some trouble in Illinois in 1933 and again in 1934, but the loss was not as serious as it will be this year.

Premature drying is associated with high yields. Some farmers believe that since hybrid strains have high yields they may be more susceptible. The farm adviser in Edgar county, however, reports that he can see no difference in the susceptibility of hybrid strains and open pollinated varieties.

Crop authorities advise farmers that if their corn has escaped with little or no signs of injury from these diseases so far they have a good chance of avoiding any loss this year. Cool weather hampers the development of both diseases.

POSSE CAPTIVE ADMITS ATTACK ON SCHOOLGIRL

Gibson City, Ill., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—A. M. Simms, a Peoria electrician, tonight confessed that he pulled a schoolgirl into a cornfield near here this morning and tore off her clothes. The girl, 8 years old, was saved by the appearance of a farmer.

Simms was captured by part of a posse of 400 persons who conducted a wide search for him.

The girl was walking along a highway when Simms stopped his automobile, seized her, and carried her into a cornfield.

Earl Gilmore, a farmer, saw the girl dragged into the field and ran after the attacker. Seeing Gilmore, the man fled. Gilmore brought the girl here and the posse was organized.

'DOLLAR-A-YEAR' DEPUTIES TO AID ASSESSOR CLARK

Four members of the civic advisory committee which helped formulate new rules on assessment of intangible personal property will be sworn in today as "dollar a year" deputy assessors by Assessor John S. Clark.

The four, Clark said, are Col. A. A. Sprague, Arthur Kruggel, president of the Chicago Real Estate board; Joseph J. Keenan, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and George O. Fairweather. Other members of the eight-man committee also have been asked to become deputies.

The committee was named by Clark early this year to assist him in revising personalty assessment methods. Clark said the appointment of the members as deputy assessors was to assure their continuing help in assessment matters.

DIES AFTER SUICIDE ATTEMPT.

Frank Compe, 61 years old, of Depue, in Bureau county, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, died of pneumonia yesterday in the Hines Veterans' hospital. He entered the hospital on Aug. 5, a month after he had slashed his throat in what authorities said was a suicide attempt.

QUIZ DEMANDED ON INCREASE IN N. Y. MILK PRICE

Threat to Relax Skimmed Ban Causes Stir.

New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Two developments today marked the path of the storm formed by the new federal-state marketing agreement which dictates the price farmers are to receive for milk. The agreement went into effect Sept. 1 and was followed immediately by a rise of 1¼ cents in the retail price of milk.

As a result an investigation into the marketing of milk in this city appears to be likely. Councilman Albert D. Schanzer declared today he would introduce a resolution asking for such an inquiry.

'I find now an increase in the price of milk all along the line suddenly sprung upon unsuspecting consumers of the city of New York, and proposals to lift the ban on skimmed milk," he said.

Rule May Be Modified.

Schanzer's remark on skimmed milk followed the disclosure that the health department might modify the stringent regulations governing its shipment into the city. Skimmed milk can now be shipped into the city only in forty gallon cans. Manufacturers of milk byproducts, complaining that the new federal-state agreement adds materially to their expenses, have asked that they be permitted to bring it into the city in tank cars.

From another quarter also came a blast against the relaxing of the ban. The executive committee of the Milk Consumers Protective committee, already in the middle of a campaign against the high price of milk, expressed astonishment that the health department was considering easing the rules.

Cites Danger in Situation.

Dr. Caroline Whitney, chairman of the committee which represents 100 consumer groups, pointed out that the present rigid regulation was incorporated in the city sanitary code in 1926 after an official investigation had revealed the prevalent use of skimmed milk with cold storage cream for adulterating purposes.

Dr. Whitney pointed out that the 1926 investigation disclosed that skimmed milk, when used for adulteration, is almost impossible to detect in spite of the fact that milk so adulterated does not contain the minerals and vitamins necessary to health.

GREECE LIMITS FOREIGN CHURCH ACTIVITIES TO AID ORTHODOX FAITH

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 8.—The Greek dictatorship has turned its attention to religion by issuing a number of decrees designed to raise the prestige of the state religion to a level perhaps unknown in Greece's recent history. At the same time the activities of any and all competing religious organizations will be drastically curtailed.

Under the laws, effective immediately, persons found proselytizing in behalf of any except the Greek Orthodox religion will be punishable by fines and from two to six months' imprisonment. Foreigners guilty of the same offense will be expelled.

VANDER MEER YIELDS 7 HITS IN 5-3 VICTORY

Cy Blanton Allows Only Eight.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Behind the seven hit pitching of Johnny Vander Meer the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 3, tonight to cut Pittsburgh's league lead over the Chicago Cubs to four games and over the Reds to four and a half.

Cy Blanton went the route for the Pirates and he was touched for eight hits. Vander Meer held the league leaders to five singles in the first eight innings, but Johnny Rizzo hit a home run in the ninth, the only extra base hit for the Pirates, to score Paul Waner, who had singled.

Rizzo batted in all of the Pirate runs, but he also was charged with three of four Pittsburgh errors.

First Start Since Aug. 10.

This was Vander Meer's first start since Aug. 10, when he was forced out by a series of boils in his ear.

The Reds scored first in the fourth as Linus Frey, who had beat out a bunt, came home when Pep Young threw wild to first on Frank McCormick's bounder. The Pirates tied it up in the fifth as the Waner brothers singled, Lloyd scoring on a fly.

Cincinnati scored three runs on three hits and an error in the sixth inning. Wally Berger doubled and Ernie Lombardi was passed purposely for the second time. Johnny Craft loaded the bases with a liner back of third. Lew Riggs' single scored Berger and Lombardi and when Rizzo kicked the ball into center field Craft also scored.

Vander Meer Walks Seven.

The final Red score came in the seventh on a walk, two hits, and an error. Vander Meer held the Pirates hitless for the first three innings. He walked seven men. He was in trouble in the third when the Pirates filled the bases on an error, a batter hit by a pitched ball, and a walk. Suhr then hit a hot liner to Frey, who knocked it down in time for a force at second, which retired the side.

The final game of the season under lights here was played before a capacity crowd of 29,043.

HELEN JACOBS, RIGGS ADVANCE IN U. S. NET TOURNEY

MissBundy, Quist, McNeill Win First Matches.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Helen Jacobs played to win and Bobby Riggs played as well as necessary—and both won—as the combined men's and women's national singles tennis tournament opened today at the West Side Tennis club before 6,000.

Top-seeded in her bid for her fifth United States title, Miss Jacobs needed only twenty-five minutes and dropped only fourteen points in routing Anne Harrison of Ruxton, Md., 6-0, 6-0. Riggs, on the other hand, dropped the first set and had to come from behind in each of the others to eliminate Peter Lauck of Wynnewood, Pa., 5-7, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

The day's play brought only one upset. That was a four set victory gained by Don McNeill of Oklahoma City over Bernard Destremeau of France. McNeill, who earned a No. 9 national ranking in 1937 largely on the showing he made against Baron Gottfried von Cramm, beat back the fourth-seeded foreigner, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, to advance in the same quarter of the draw with Defending Champion Don Budge.

Budge Rests; Plays Today.

Budge rested and treated his sore throat today before making his debut tomorrow against Welby Van Horn of Los Angeles.

Other seeded stars who won included Joe Hunt of Los Angeles, Davis cup spare and No. 3; Sidney Wood of New York, No. 4; Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Cal., No. 6, and Bryan Grant, No. 8 in the United States list, and Adrian Quist of Australia, Ferenc Puncec, and Franjo Kukuljevic of Jugo-Slavia, and Fumiteru Nakano of Japan, ranked second, third, sixth, and seventh on the invaders' list.

There were no breaks in the women's seeded ranks, which saw Dorothy May Bundy, Gracyn Wheeler, and Helen Pedersen of the home group, and Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, Nancye Wynne and Mrs. Harry C. Hopman of Australia, and Margot Lumb of England join Miss Jacobs in the second round.

Riggs Faces College Champion.

Helen Jacobs, playing her first tournament tennis since she hurt her ankle in the Wimbledon final with Helen Wills Moody, didn't seem bothered by her foot. In winning she took her first step toward a likely semi-final match with Mme. Mathieu, who put out Patricia Henry of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-0.

Riggs, seeded next to Budge, was 35 minutes late for his match. He was content to stay on the baseline and just bat the ball back. He probably will have to do more than that tomorrow, when he meets Intercollegiate Champion Frank Guernsey in one of the most promising matches of the day.

Quist whipped Frank Broida, Pittsburgh, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, and Kovacs turned back Eric J. Filby, promising young Englishman, 6-1, 6-3, 9-7.

Hunt came up from 0-3 in the last set to beat Tamio Abe, Japanese veteran, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3; Wood disposed of Billy McGehee, New Orleans, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4, and Grant eliminated Harris Everett, 6-4, 9-7, 6-4.

AMERICAN SENIOR GOLFERS LEAD IN 3 TEAM MATCH

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The 12 man team of the United States Senior Golfers' association took a three point lead over Canada, with Great Britain trailing in the international triangular team match at the Toronto Golf club today.

The advantage was gained in six two-ball foursome matches that opened the competition.

R W. Lee and C. W. Diebel of the United States defeated the Canadian team of R. M. Gray and R. C. Smith and the British team of Col. H. A. Boyd and Alan Patterson, capturing two points. The Canadian team defeated Britain, gaining one point. Other successful United States teams were C. H. Jennings and R. H. Bourne, and Gen. W. D. Mitchell and W. L. Feart. The American team won nine points, Canada six, and Britain three.

Patrick Signs with Cardinals; They're Ready for Bears Now

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Frank Patrick of Pittsburgh, the choice of 1,027,411 fans in a nationwide poll for the full back position on THE TRIBUNE'S All-Star team, became a Chicago Cardinal yesterday. Patrick, an East Chicago High school product, signed his contract shortly after his arrival from Dallas, Tex., where on Monday night he helped beat the world champion Washington Redskins for the second time within a week.

He will make his professional debut Sunday night when the Cardinals and Bears open the National league championship race in Soldiers' field. His signing closed weeks of negotiations in which Patrick was undecided whether to continue as a player or accept a position as assistant coach at Oglethorpe university in Atlanta, Ga. He had been the Cardinals' first choice in the draft.

He'll Play Left Half.

Although Patrick established himself as one of the country's leading full backs during three years of varsity competition on Pitt's powerhouse, Coach Milan Creighton will use him at left half back, the tail back or ball handling position in a single wing offense.

Patrick, weighing 192 pounds and 5 feet 11 inches tall, passes and kicks. At left half back he will alternate with Dwight Sloan and Jack Robbins, Arkansas' passing stars, and Pat Coffee, a holdover back who was the life of the Cardinals' aerial attack last season.

Patrick worked out twice with the Cardinals at Morgan Park Military academy yesterday. Single drills are scheduled for today and tomorrow, by which time Patrick will know the signals well enough to be available Sunday night, although Creighton does not plan to start him. Coffee will be at left half back in the starting lineup and Sloan, who worked out with the Cardinals for ten days prior to his departure for Dallas, will have second call on the position.

Frank Should Help.

Signing of Patrick is expected to end the Cardinals' five year search for a power back who can be counted on to get a yard when a short thrust is necessary to keep alive a drive. Patrick's ability as a line smasher is well known. Sam Agee of Vanderbilt, and Ed Cherry of Hardin-Simmons, two rookie full backs, also have reputations for this type of play. If one or both of them deliver to assist Patrick, the Cardinals will have their first plunging threat since Ernie Nevers retired.

It will take Creighton no longer than Sunday night to learn whether somewhere among this trio he has the power he has been seeking. The Bear line, perennially one of the finest in football, apparently has lost none of its strength and if Patrick, Agee and Cherry can gain consistently against such behemoths as Stydahar, Thompson, Musso, Fortmann, and Bausch, they can be counted on to gain against any set of forwards in the league.

Bears Are Busy, Too.

Presence of a plunging threat increases the efficiency of a passing attack. The Cardinals expect to be as good overhead as the next team with Coffee, Sloan, Robbins, and Pat-

FIVE VICTORIES IN SINGLES KEEP GOLF CUP IN U. S.

American Women's Team Beats Britons, 5½-3½.

Manchester, Mass., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The American women's golf team rallied in astounding fashion at the Essex Country club today and retained possession of the Curtis cup by sweeping five of the six singles matches against brilliant British rivals for a 5½ to 3½ victory.

That triumph was the third the Americans have gained since the cup was donated eight years ago by the Misses Harriot and Margaret Curtis, both former national champions and home club members, "to stimulate friendly rivalries among women golfers of many lands."

Never in its history has the bowl left its native shore, for the best the British women have done in its competitive history was a 4½ to 4½ deadlock at Gleneagles, Scotland, two years ago in the third of the biennial competitions. That draw entitled the American team to retain the trophy.

Miss Page Starts Rout.

The visitors headed by Mrs. Andrew M. Holm, the British champion, pulled into a commanding lead yesterday when, playing in the rain, they won two and halved the third of the Scotch foursome matches.

An inkling of the surprising American comeback was given in the first singles match, during which Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, the national champion, overwhelmed Mrs. Holm, 6 and 5. The teams became tied shortly after when Patty Berg of Minneapolis matched the 78, two over women's par, turned in by Jessie Anderson while defeating that 1937 British champion, 1 up.

Gains Lead with Eagle.

An eagle three on the 414 yard sixteenth hole enabled Marion Miley of Cincinnati to gain a one hole lead over Elsie Corlett of England. Then the Ohio girl captured the seventeenth for a 2 and 1 triumph.

The best golf in the cup matches was played by Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, the many times national champion, while she was winning, 2 and 1, over Mrs. J. B. Walker of Ireland. Mrs. Vare, a member of two previous Curtis cup teams, had a 39, one under women's outward par, when she made the turn with a two hole lead on Mrs. Walker, who carded a 41. Then each won two holes and halved four others before their match ran out on the seventeenth green.

Youngest Invader Wins.

The British women had a chance to gain another draw when 21 year old Clarrie Tiernan of Ireland, gained a 2 and 1 victory over Maureen Orcutt, the seasoned New Jersey campaigner.

That opportunity was kept alive until the last twosome reached the last tee all even. Then Charlotte Glutting of Rock Spring, N. J., put together two woods that left her 15 feet beyond the pin as her opponent, Nan Baird, the 1934 Scottish champion, was short with three shots and put her fourth into a brook.

If—

After last night's game the Pittsburgh Pirates were still in first place, four games ahead of the Cubs and four and a half ahead of the Cincinnati Reds. The Pirates have 25 games left to play; the Cubs, 23, and the Reds, 22.

If Pittsburgh plays approximately .500 baseball for the rest of the season and wins 13 while losing 12, the Cubs must win 16 and lose only 7 to tie for the pennant. To win they would have to take 17 out of 23. The Reds would have to win 16 out of 22 to tie the Pirates and 17 out of 22 games to beat them out.

If the Pirates play .600 baseball, winning 15 and losing 10, the Cubs must win 18 games of 23 to tie, and 19 of 23 to take the championship. The Reds would have to win 18 and lose only four to tie, or win 19 and lose only three to finish first.

If the Cubs win all 23 games left on their schedule, the Pirates would have to take 20 of their 25 remaining games to tie Chicago and 21 to finish in first place.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—It is becoming increasingly apparent that it takes the best of the college gridiron talent to whip a strong professional team. . . . New York for three years has been trying to develop a squad of eastern players that could defeat Tim Mara's Giants, but it has had no luck. . . . The Washington Redskins, who went down in defeat before the national All-Stars in Chicago, 28 to 16, would have overwhelmed the standard bearers of the eastern colleges last night. . . . The Pitts and Fordhams and Yales simply didn't have the man power. . . . Sponsors of the game tried to get by with a squad of thirty college players as an economy move, but the plan didn't work. . . . It robbed the collegians of their only fundamental advantage—greater numerical strength. . . . Coach Bo McMillin and his assistants, who had sixty-six of the nation's finest at their disposal, hurled reserves galore against the Redskins until the professional champions finally wilted under the strain. . . . Andy Kerr, who had charge of the eastern All-Stars, had only one good lineup. . . . That's the reason his boys were beaten, 6 to 0, on 42 yard placements by Ward Cuff, who used to perform similar feats for Marquette. . . . They barely lasted the route. . . . The Giants would have rolled up a couple of touchdowns if the game had gone much longer. . . .

There have been seven so-called All-Star games this season. . . . Five have resulted in victories for the professionals. . . . It is likely the score would have been 6 to 1 if Sammy Baugh and Riley Smith of the Redskins had been able to play at Dallas. . . . The Bears won in Providence and Birmingham, the Cardinals at St. Louis, the Eagles in Philadelphia, and the Rams in Cleveland. . . . With the exception of Chicago, where the league champions faced the strongest opposition the colleges of America could provide, the post-graduates encountered only sectional or neighborhood talent. . . . That's not enough. . . . It isn't wholesome for college football or for professional. . . . There still are many who think these entertainments are a test of the two brands. . . .

The eastern All-Stars presented a strong line on defense, but it could accomplish little or nothing on offense. . . . The college forwards were forever bumping into Big Ed Widseth, Giant tackle who used to open holes for Minnesota backs. . . . The All-Stars' back field simply wasn't there. . . . Andy Stopper of Villanova, best of the college performers, would have ranked tenth or twelfth among the backs on Bo McMillin's All-Stars. . . . There were no passers like Isbell and no plungers like Davis and Patrick. . . . And remember, the eastern boys weren't playing the champions of the national professional league. . . . They weren't even playing the champions of the eastern division. . . . Which was a happy circumstance for all concerned. . . .

7 TO 4 TRIUMPH LEAVES CHICAGO FOUR FROM TOP

Demaree's Homer in Tenth Beats Cards.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 8.—Frankie Demaree, in the lineup two successive days because Frankie Frisch, manager of the St. Louis Cardinal Mudcats, insisted upon sending left handed jug players in to pitch, smashed two homers today, both highly essential for victory purposes in a match which the Cubs won, 7 to 4, in 10 innings.

The first of Frankie's heroic drives off Bob Weiland produced the first run of the game, which set off a three run rally in the fourth. Because Rookie Kirby Higbe couldn't hold the advantage, the Chicagoans were trailing, 4 to 3, going into the eighth. In this frame Demaree held back a homer but drove over the tying run with a long fly.

Three Runs in Tenth.

The 4 to 4 tie prevailed until two were out in the tenth. Billy Herman, defensive hero of the game, was on first as a result of forcing Stanley Hack, who had singled. Demaree, whose first homer was to right, switched his tactics. He smashed the second one into the left field bleachers, scoring behind Herman. Just for fun, Augie Galan followed with a double and scored on Carl Reynolds' third hit, a single. Carl's earlier hits were doubles.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Cubs since they dropped a doubleheader in Cincinnati at the start of this western road trip. It was Jack Russell's fifth victory against one defeat.

The jubilant lads had to wait until late in the evening to learn they had reduced the Pirates' lead to four games in the National league race.

Manager Hartnett made his first appearance as a player since incurring a fractured finger on Aug. 15. He fouled out for Higbe in the seventh.

Run Production Starts.

Each side started production with two out in the fourth. After Hack had fanned and Herman had rolled out, Demaree drove his No. 7 homer to the roof of the right field pavilion to get the Cubs' scoring under way. Galan singled and scored on Reynolds' double. Reynolds scored on Garbark's single to center. Collins singled, but Jurges flied to Padgett.

In the St. Louis half, S. Martin and Padgett were thrown out by Herman. The inning up to this point seemed to comfort Higbe to a considerable degree, but he soon was aroused. Medwick banged a double off the wall in left center and scored when Mize knocked his No. 24 homer into the thoroughfare beyond the right field pavilion. Higbe threw out Brown.

Pass Gets Higbe in Trouble.

Then came the home sixth in which the Cards took the lead. With one out, Higbe walked S. Martin, his only pass. Padgett singled to center, S. Martin reaching third. Medwick flied to Reynolds and S. Martin scored. Mize singled to right, Padgett taking third, whence he scored on Brown's single to center. Myers popped to Herman.

The Cubs did some bearing down to avoid a run in the home seventh. Owen teed off against Russell with a double past third and advanced on Weiland's sacrifice. Moore bounced to Hack and Owen was run down, although Garbark dropped a perfect throw from Hack. Owen didn't be-

Phillies Buy Jim Henry, a Pitcher, from Red Sox

32 LEGISLATORS ON ROCKINGHAM TRACK PAY ROLL

Rockingham Park, N. H., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Lou Smith, Rockingham race track head, today admitted 32 members of the New Hampshire legislature were on the Rockingham park pay roll, but said they "get only $200 a year salary, or $6 a day, and they have to earn their money."

Charges made public by the National Council of Congregational and Christian Churches, alleging the favor of public officials was won with money, entertainment, and jobs, were called "a political maneuver" by Smith.

He said there were political employés at all race tracks, but Rockingham had been picked out for criticism because a hot election contest was being waged in New Hampshire. Regarding a charge that Rockingham had made a profit of $1,500,000 on an original investment of $100,000, Smith said it was "so silly it's not worth answering." He also scoffed at a suggested tie-up with New York policy promoters.

CARDINALS SIGN PATRICK; LOADED FOR BEARS NOW

rick passing to Gaynell Tinsley, Bill Smith, Dougal Russell and Pete Tyler.

While Creighton was stressing signals and dummy scrimmage in yesterday's double session to acquaint Patrick with his new assignments, Coach George Halas sent the Bears through a long drill at De Paul university. Morning workouts are scheduled for today and tomorrow, with evenings given over to chalk talks. At the conclusion of yesterday's drill, Halas intimated that an all-veteran team would start against the Cardinals Sunday night. Rookies will be used only as relief.

Arrangements were being made yesterday to handle a crowd of 40,000 Sunday night. The game marks the earliest opening in Chicago since the pre-Grange days, when the pros played in neighborhood parks and it is expected to attract a record opening day crowd. THE TRIBUNE'S lighting system, especially installed for the All-Star game, will be used to supplement the permanent setup in the Stadium. The kickoff has been set for 8:30 o'clock. Tickets are being sold by the Denver sanitarium committee in booths on Michigan boulevard at Van Buren and Randolph streets. The sanitarium will share in the advance sale.

LIONS MEET PIRATES

The 1938 National Football league season will open tonight in Detroit with the Lions meeting the Pittsburgh Pirates, led by Byron [Whizzer] White, All-American back.

On Sunday afternoon the Pirates will open their home season in Pittsburgh against the New York Giants in a struggle which is expected to be the first tipoff on the probable outcome of the race for the right to represent the east in the playoff.

The early league schedule is the heaviest in its history. Not only will the Pirates get in two games this week, but three other tests are scheduled on Sunday. Besides the Chicago Bears-Cardinals game, Green Bay will play the Cleveland Rams in Green Bay and the Washington Redskins open defense of the league title against the Eagles in the Philadelphia Municipal stadium.

RED SOX FUTILE AGAINST GOMEZ; YANKEES WIN, 4-0

Lefty Grove Performs as Relief Pitcher.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Yankees blanked the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 0, behind the five hit pitching of Lefty Gomez today.

Gomez, scoring his 16th victory and fourth shutout of the year, allowed no more than one hit in any inning. The only bright spot for the Red Sox came with the return to action of Lefty Grove, making his first appearance since his arm went dead a month ago.

Grove was summoned at the start of the eighth, after Bill Harris had been lifted for a pinch hitter. Grove yielded only one hit and one run in the two innings he worked. Rookie Joe Gordon of the Yankees hit his 22d homer of the year.

SENATORS BEAT A's, 5-2.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Senators won, 5 to 2, from Philadelphia today in a game that included a free for all fight. Trouble started in the sixth inning when Buddy Myer, Washington second baseman, slid into Catcher Harold Wagner, knocking him out. When Myer came to bat in the eighth, Pitcher Thomas hit Myer with a pitched ball. Later in the inning, Bill Werber, Philadelphia third baseman, tagged Myer out and then struck him with the ball. Players on both sides joined in the fist swinging.

Zeke Bonura hit a home run for Washington.

DODGERS WIN NIGHT GAME.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Dodgers blanked the Phillies, 5 to 0, tonight behind Luke Hamlin's seven hit pitching and with the aid of loose opposition fielding.

Max Butcher, facing his former mates for the first time since he was traded to the Phils, allowed only five hits, but one of these was Dolph Camilli's twentieth homer of the year.

The game was decided as early as the fourth inning when, with the bases loaded, Del Young threw an infield grounder wild past second base and three runs scored. A crowd of 11,908 turned out, boosting the Brooklyn home attendance for the year over the 700,000 mark.

Californian Pitches No-Hit Softball Game

Harry Cowan of Pittsburg, Cal., gave the pitchers in the world softball tournament a mark to shoot at yesterday when he set back the Pittsburgh, Pa., club without a hit. The Californians won, 6 to 0. Only four easterners reached first base—three on walks and one on an error.

Start of the day's schedule—which originally called for fifty-five games in five arenas—was delayed by a morning rain, and late afternoon and night games in four of the parks were postponed because muddy diamonds became unfit for further play.

Only one girls' game was played yesterday, Mayfield, Ky., defeating Lansing, Mich., 2 to 0.

Red Sox Purchase Colonels; Bush Is Named Manager

Boston, Mass., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox, tonight purchased the Louisville club of the American association in a straight cash deal which will elevate Donie Bush, manager of the Minneapolis Millers, to the helm of the Colonels in the rôle of part owner.

Eddie Collins, general manager of the Sox, said a considerable part of the unannounced purchase price had been put up by Bush, who will finish the season with Minneapolis and then will take over active leadership in Louisville.

The deal takes in all real estate, including an up-to-date stadium, the club's franchise, and all the players. One of the bigger assets, Collins said, would be Shortstop Harold [Pee Wee] Reese, for whom several major league clubs already have offered $40,000.

The deal, made with the Knebelkamp interests which controled the last place Louisville team, gives the Sox a class AA team, the most important cog in their rapidly expanding farm system, and provides equal footing in the association with the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees, who control Columbus and Kansas City, respectively.

Weather Man Adds Another Sox Twin Bill

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Given a break in weather the White Sox and Browns will endeavor to play a little baseball in Comiskey park today. They've been trying to do it for the last two days, but instead drew a vacation, for which they will not have to pay until Oct. 1 and 2, when double-headers will be played.

After emerging from a recent ordeal of fifteen games in eight days, James Dykes' boys thought they were pretty well in the clear, insofar as doubling up was concerned, but now they are right up against another heavy program. What with past and present rainfall, they must play sixteen of their remaining games as twin bills. All of these bargains come between Sept. 13 and the finish line, Oct. 2.

Lots of Hard Work Ahead.

The Sox have dates in Detroit tomorrow until Monday evening and upon their reappearance in Comiskey park next Tuesday will take on the Senators in the first of the doubleheader series. The other twins are as follows: Sept. 15, Philadelphia; Sept. 18 and 19, Boston; Sept. 24 and 25 at St. Louis, and Oct. 1 and 2, against St. Louis in Chicago.

The pleasing feature of this layout for the Sox boss is that there will be ample opportunity for minute inspection of the possible talents of the four rookies recently imported. So far only two of them have been started, but one of these days Dykes will wax bold and give the two others —Merv Conners and Johnny Gerlach —their baptism.

City Series Probable.

Unless the Cubs win the National league pennant, a happening too remote to warant serious thought at the moment, there will be a city series with the White Sox. There never was much doubt about it, considering that it makes a little money for the clubs and for the players, but P. K. Wrigley, Cub owner, yesterday admitted a challenge to the city champion Sox might be issued as soon as his team's last mathematical chance in the flag race has vanished.

Bryant to Pitch Against Cards, Warneke Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 8.—Clay Bryant probably will pitch the finale of the Cub-Card series here tomorrow. Lon Warneke is slated for the Cards.

It was 99 degrees in the cooling shade of the press box today as the game got under way. It was said to be rather warm on the field.

Vance Page, injured in the eighth inning of yesterday's game, was on crutches today. He was not cut when Johnny Mize stepped on his right foot, but some muscles were torn. Page probably won't pitch for two weeks.

The Cubs will play the Cincinnati Reds in Wrigley field Saturday and Sunday. They will leave at 11 o'clock Sunday night for Boston.

RED SOX BUY 2 PLAYERS FROM LITTLE ROCK

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Pitcher Woodrow Rich, 22 year old star who hurled a no-hit no-run game against the champion Atlanta Crackers Tuesday night, and First Baseman Paul Campbell have been sold to the Boston Red Sox, Manager Doc Prothro of the Little Rock Travelers announced today. Two players and an unannounced sum of cash are involved in the deal.

PREP ATHLETE DIES.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Donald Miller, 17, baseball and basketball star at Boone Grove High school, died today in Christian hospital of a ruptured appendix.

Cubs Battle 10 Innings to Sink Cardinals

lieve it possible for such a toss to be missed and had started back to third. Moore then was caught trying to steal second.

Cubs Get Tying Run.

The Cubs tied the score in the eighth. Hack opened with a single, reached third on Herman's single and scored on Demaree's fly to Padgett. Galan and Reynolds supplied easy outs.

It took all of Herman's skill to stave off a run in the home eighth. With one down Patdgett singled to center and proceeded to second when Reynolds fumbled. Medwick popped to Herman and Mize was given an intentional pass. Herman pursued Brown's bouncing single into right field, nabbed it and threw out Padgett at the plate on his attempt to score from second.

Here's the detail of the victorious tenth: With one out Hack singled to right for his third hit, but was forced by Herman on a nice play by S. Martin. Demaree then smacked his second homer of the day, scoring behind Herman. Galan doubled to short center and Curt Davis replaced Weiland. Reynolds singled to right, scoring Galan. Garbark fouled to Mize.

MISS BAKER IS ONE 2 YEAR OLD WITH A FUTURE

Marsch Filly Rallies to Win at Hawthorne.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Mrs. John Marsch of Chicago is playing an important part in the 2 year old racing activities at Hawthorne

She came along yesterday with the filly, Miss Baker. Everybody, including Mrs. Marsch, backed the bay daughter of Harry Bayer-Pharlance until she became the 3 to 2 favorite. Then the crowd watched the speedster roll up her third straight Chicago victory by three lengths.

She won over an extremely heavy track in the good time of 1:15 for the 6 furlongs. Jocky Nunzio Pariso, who has jumped out into a long lead in the race for Hawthorne riding honors, was in the saddle. He had to rouse Miss Baker on only one occasion. That happened as the field neared the lower bend with Utica enjoying a lead of four lengths and Layover second, three lengths in front of Miss Baker. Miss Baker reacted immediately to the whip.

She Goes to Town.

It required only a few strides for her to conquer Layover. Then she took out after Utica. Racing on the inside and saving ground, she snatched the lead just as the stretch run started.

The race was over then and there. As Miss Baker increased her speed, Layover and Utica dropped out of the picture. Rembrandt drove up in the final half furlong to take second money and Lagata, usually a front runner, but a trailer in the early stages of this contest, showed some stretch running ability to be third.

Miss Baker paid $5, or exactly 3 to 2. Her two previous winning journeys were made at Washington Park.

She Owns Lightspur, Too.

Mrs. Marsch first attracted attention at Hawthorne when Lightspur, her speedy son of Blue Larkspur, won the Labor day handicap from the best 2 year olds in the west on Monday. Pariso rode that one, too.

There are other juvenile flyers in Mrs. Marsch's barn, but most of them have come into prominence late in the season. Otherwise, the Marsch jacket might have been carried to numerous victories in rich stake race events.

The Omar Khayyam purse for 3 year olds at six furlongs was another feature on yesterday's Hawthorne program. After a thrilling battle in which the first three horses finished noses apart, the banner of the LeMar stock farm of Lexington was flying high.

Finish Nose Apart.

LeMar's 4 year old Marbold was the winner over his stable companion, Moorish, which finished a nose in front of Legal Advice.

Both Marbold and Moorish are sons of the great horse Misstep. They dominated the running all the way, but Legal Advice was wearing both of them down near the finish. Dancing Reigh, a mud running daughter of Reigh Count, finished fourth.

Long shot fans did some cheering when Swift Spot won the 6½ furlong third race. The filly had been a red hot tip among the $2 players. She rallied in the stretch to beat Count Valiant, the favorite, by a length. Swift Spot paid $68.80 to win, $17.20 to place, and $6.20 to show.

Count Valiant, last May at Aurora, looked as if he would develop into quite a race horse, but since his bid for fame there he had not been in the money until yesterday.

ADAMICK PLANS KNOCKOUT FIGHT AGAINST LEWIS

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Jimmy Adamick said today he would wade right into Light Heavyweight Champion John Henry Lewis in Philadelphia's Municipal stadium Monday night and not try to outbox him. The Midland, Mich., youth displayed a left eye blackened by his sparring partner, Johnny Whiters, today and explained:

"We can't waste any time with fancy boxing because I have no intention of trying to outpoint Lewis. He's too good for me at that game.

"Knockouts are my line of trade. The best—maybe the only way I can win from Lewis is with a knockout. I'll have to keep wading into him to land it. That's how I got this black eye, practicing with Whiters the kind of a fight I'll have to give John Henry."

Adamick has stopped forty-four of fifty-four opponents in three years of fighting.

ADMIT 5,000 BOYS FREE TO FIREMEN'S GAME

The Chicago Firemen's baseball team will meet the fire department champions of Indianapolis in Wrigley Field Monday afternoon. The proceeds will be turned in to the local firemen's benefit fund.

Chet Sullivan, manager of the Chicago team, announced that boys 14 years old or younger can obtain free tickets by calling at any city fire department. About 5,000 of these tickets are available.

Any ball that goes into the stands and is retrieved by one of the boys will be autographed by Mayor Kelly and Mayor Boetcher of Indianapolis.

Hold Postponed Bike Races in Humboldt Park Tonight

The bicycle races scheduled for Wednesday night which were postponed, because of rain, will be held this evening by the C. Y. O. in Humboldt park bowl. Eight races will be on the program, featured by a one-hour team race. Competing in the one-hour event will be the newly formed team of Robert Cass and Stanley Gadrin.

Jocky Garner Just Can't Win for His Fans

Jocky Willie Garner continues to burn up the money of race followers in Chicago. He was beaten on the 6 to 5 favorite Star Bud in yesterday's sixth race at Hawthorne. Old Chimney Top, cleverly ridden by Ken McCombs, went out in front soon after the start and stayed there. Garner was riding in great form early this season, then lost his winning ways. He did not ride a winner at Washington Park and hasn't been in the charmed circle at Hawthorne.

L. D. Glasser has been appointed trainer of the division of Mrs. Emil Denemark's stable which arrived at Hawthorne from Narragansett Park yesterday. Jocky Mike Sarno came along to do the riding.

Earl Pool, one of the oldest riders in America, arrived from Latonia yesterday and expects to get into action at Hawthorne within the next few days.

Tommy Doyle of Chicago, who is assembling quite a stable, purchased Sis Ormont yesterday from the racing firm of Axton and Friedberg of Louisville.

Thomas C. Clark, 57 years old, 7117 Dobson avenue, Illinois Central railroad conductor, and Herman Cohen, 1131 South Kedzie avenue, peanut vendor in Wrigley field and Comiskey park, yesterday tied in Hawthorne's rating contest and collected $500 each. Clark and Cohen each picked six winners. They missed on Swift Spot, 33 to 1, which won the fourth race. Clark has been with the Illinois Central for thirty-five years and during the racing season in the Chicago district works on special race track trains.

The winner of the Fort Sill-Austin game will meet Santa Barbara of California, defending champion, for the twelve goal title.

BUTTER SUPPLY IS EXPECTED TO SET NEW PEAK

207 Million Pound Stock Indicated.

The nation's storage butter stocks as of Sept. 1 are expected to be placed at a new high mark of about 207 million pounds in the monthly government report. The estimate will be made Monday by the bureau of agricultural economics. This figure, which exceeds the high mark prior to 1938 by more than 30 million pounds, is estimated by butter dealers on the basis of recent trade figures. These have ranged from 205 to 212 million pounds.

The bureau's report on Aug. 1 showed 172,500,000 pounds of butter in storage, which was within 3,000,000 pounds of the peak of 175,400,000 established in September, 1933. The average Sept. 1 holdings in storage for the 1928-'37 period amounted to 136,000,000 million pounds.

DPMA Held 70 Million Pounds.

Included in the total stocks on Sept. 1 of this year were approximately 70,000,000 pounds held by the Dairy Products Marketing association, which is using federal funds to stabilize the butter market. The association is authorized to borrow $33,375,000 to buy up to 115,000,000 pounds under the "ever normal granary" plan started June 16 by the Agricultural Adjustment administration.

The theory of this plan is that surplus butter, bought when prices are low and supplies heavy, will later be sold when prices rise and supplies dwindle. The AAA, however, faced with this year's record production, has already indicated that the program will not work out as planned. It recently authorized the transfer of 10,000,000 pounds of DPMA's butter to the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation which will distribute it in relief channels.

Predict Further Distribution.

Traders predict that depressed prices will force additional relief distribution, because the AAA has announced that the DPMA butter will not be sold at less than its cost, plus carrying charges.

The announcement late Wednesday by the AAA that it was prepared to buy more than the now authorized 115,000,000 pounds to keep prices pegged had a bullish effect on butter futures yesterday. November contracts on the Chicago Mercantile exchange gained ⅜ cent a pound to close at 24¼ cents. The output of more than 200 leading creameries for the week ended Sept. 3 was 2.4 per cent less than in the preceding week, but 15 per cent more than in the corresponding 1937 week, the American Butter institute reported.

Yesterday's purchases by the DPMA totaled 1,660,491 pounds at New York and Chicago, bringing holdings to about 83,500,000 pounds.

Eggs Set New Peaks.

Egg futures climbed to new high levels for the year for the second time this week. October eggs rose ⅝ cent a dozen to close at 25½ cents in their widest upswing of the year. The closing price was at the highest level since July, 1937. November contracts advanced ½ cent to 25¾ cents a dozen.

Quotations on cash eggs in wholesale channels were 5 cents a dozen higher than prices a year earlier. The markups in both cash and futures markets reflected the relatively small supply of market receipts in the last month.

Movement of stocks out of storage has been stepped up in recent weeks. In the country's four major consuming centers, 763,650 dozens of refrigerated eggs were taken from warehouses Wednesday. This compared with 533,310 dozens on the same day last year and 661,080 dozens on Tuesday.

BANK CLEARINGS RECEDE 6.2 PCT. FROM YEAR AGO

New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Bank clearings of $4,158,605,000 in twenty-two leading cities of the country showed a decline of 6.2 per cent from a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today for the week ended Wednesday. They were only $832,000 below the preceding week. Because of the Labor day holiday on Monday only five business days are included in the latest week's compilation.

Bank clearings in New York City totaled $2,561,661,000, or 4.8 per cent under the comparative week of last year, the mercantile agency reported. In cities outside New York the turnover was $1,596,944,000, or 8.4 per cent less than the $1,744,170,000 in the like week of 1937.

Chicago volume of $232,200,000 was 15.8 per cent below $275,800,000 in 1937.

MAIN EUROPEAN MONEYS STEADY; GOLD ADVANCES

Currencies of the principal European countries were comparatively stable in New York foreign exchange dealings yesterday.

The British pound held at $4.82⅞ and the French franc at 2.7075 cents. Government stabilization funds were reported to be supporting both currencies. In Washington Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said that monetary stabilization agreement between this country and other nations was "working smoothly."

Gold advanced in price in London to 144 shillings, 1½ pence, ½ pence [about 1 cent] above Wednesday's quotation. Demand for gold was larger, dealers reported. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported the engagement in England of $2,547,000 in gold for shipment to the United States.

Willys Motors' 9 Month Loss Is $693,841

Carl B. Squire says Lockheed will earn more.

Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., yesterday reported a substantial loss for the nine months ended June 30. Chesapeake corporation, middle holding company in the old Van Sweringen railroad system, had lower earnings in the first half of this year. Losses or lower profits were also shown in interim statements by Reynolds Metals company, Detroit Paper Products corporation, and United Dyewood corporation.

Willys-Overland's loss for the nine months amounted to $693,841, compared with net profit of $554,770 in the corresponding nine months of the preceding year. The company's loss in the June quarter increased to $505,619 from $203,246 in the preceding three months. Loss in the first six months of this year was $708,865 in contrast to profit of $950,400 in the 1937 first half.

Chesapeake Earns $2,312,590.

Chesapeake corporation's net income for the first six months was $2,312,590 against net income of $3,579,142 in the first half of 1937. In the June quarter, the company had a profit of $555,293, compared with $1,670,104 in the June, 1937, quarter. Plans are in progress to dissolve the company, an intermediate holding unit whose stock is 71 per cent held by the Alleghany corporation.

Reynolds Metals, maker of metal foils, had a profit in the June quarter of $148,165 against $580,678 in the three months ended June 30, 1937. For the first half-year, the company's profit was $305,768, against $1,123,636 in the first six months of last year. Changes in depreciation policy resulted in charging $90,000 less for depreciation in the first half of this year than would have been charged under the old system, the company announced.

Reports Half Year Loss.

United Dyewood corporation, manufacturer of dyes, had a loss of $73,896 in the first half of this year, against a profit of $234,672 in the first six months of 1937.

Carl B. Squier, vice president of Lockheed Aircraft corporation, said that the company's earnings in the third quarter of this year will be substantially higher than in the corresponding 1937 period.

Shipments of the Keystone Steel and Wire company, Peoria, Ill., for August were at about the same rate as for August, 1937, W. H. Sommer, president, told stockholders in his annual report. The report, covering the fiscal year to June 30, showed the same figures for earnings and sales as had been announced earlier in a preliminary statement. Net profit for the year was $727,543, compared with $1,160,857 in the preceding year. Sales were $9,648,839 against $727,543.

New U.S. Issue of Securities Taken Quickly

Washington, D. C. Sept. 8.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced tonight that the treasury's first large offering of securities to finance the government's new spending program had been oversubscribed quickly.

Although not giving figures on subscriptions, Morgenthau said offers to buy $400,000,000 worth of 2½ per cent bonds and $300,000,000 of 1⅛ per cent notes were enough to permit termination of the securities sale tonight, less than twenty-four hours after it began.

Holders of $433,000,000 worth of treasury notes maturing Dec. 15, who were given a chance to trade their old securities for either the new bonds or notes, will have until tomorrow night to accept. Bonds or notes thus taken will be in addition to the amounts offered for sale.

Take Subscriptions to Midnight.

Subscriptions mailed before midnight will be accepted. The allocation of the $700,000,000 of securities to be sold. The allocation is expected to be announced late Saturday.

The ready purchase of the new securities by banks and other investors had been expected generally because the idle money of banks alone amounted to $3,030,000,000 on Sept. 7.

Next week, when purchasers pay for the new securities and the treasury collects quarterly instalments of income taxes, the idle excess reserves of banks are expected to decrease by more than $700,000,000. The remaining lendable money in the banks will be more than sufficient to finance business needs, officials said.

Bonds Sell at Premium.

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The United States treasury's new 2½ per cent bonds opened in the over-the-counter market on the customary "when issued" basis at 101 16-32 bid and 101 18-32 asked, and closed at 101 12-32 bid and 101 14-32 asked. The 1⅛ per cent notes opened at 101 9-32 bid and 101 11-32 asked, and closed at 101 6-32 bid and 101 8-32 asked.

SEES BANKRUPT CALIFORNIA IF PENSION WINS

The "$30 every Thursday" old age pension plan proposed in California will bankrupt that state and is destined to fail. This assertion was made last night by M. A. Linton, president of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company of Philadelphia, at the company's midwestern regional convention here.

He compared the proposal to the Alberta "prosperity certificate" plan, which, he said, "mushroomed and collapsed in a few months in 1936." Linton pointed out that the "certificates" were rejected by Alberta merchants as worthless.

"To pay every unemployed man and woman of 50 or over a sum of $30 in real money every Thursday would be impossible," he said. "It would bankrupt the state. If the proposed warants were used, they would not be accepted as legal tender. Such a crazy currency scheme will only harm the cause of old age security."

NEW UTILITY TURBINE GENERATOR IS LARGEST TO BE BUILT SINCE 1931

Oswego, N. Y., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—The Niagara Hudson Power corporation has purchased the largest steam driven turbine generator built for the electric power industry since 1931. This was announced today by Alfred H. Schoellkopf, president. It will be installed in the large new $9,500,000 steam electric station on the west harbor here.

The turbine generator will be built at Schnectady by the General Electric company and the steam boiler will be made by the Babcock & Wilcox company.

This new plant at Oswego will be one of the most efficient steam electric stations in the world. It is expected, under full load, to produce a kilowatt hour of electrical energy for each 0.85 pound of coal burned. Twenty years ago the average steam electric generating station required 3.3 pounds of coal to produce one kilowatt hour of electricity, Schoellkopf said.

Construction of the turbine generator will require fourteen months. Construction of the general plant will begin soon.

The generator will be cooled with hydrogen, this being a relatively new feature.

ASK NORTH SHORE LINE CUT COSTS AND BOOST RATES

An independent bondholders' committee yesterday asked the federal district court to inquire if the receiver of the North Shore Electric railroad could not affect major economies and raise the rates to restore operation. The line closed after a strike of 1,300 employés on Aug. 16.

Even if the pay roll cost is reduced by a proposed 15 per cent cost, attorneys for the committee said it may never be possible for the line to resume operation. They suggested that it might be liquidated or possibly reorganized under section 77B of the federal bankruptcy act. Hearing was deferred to Sept. 26.

Federal and state labor conciliators meanwhile continued their efforts to bring the receiver and the employés together on an agreement. At Waukegan, chamber of commerce officials opened negotiations with triking North Shore line bus drivers to have them operate buses for another company for service between Waukegan and North Chicago.

Matthew Gaffney, principal of the New Trier Township High school in Kenilworth, said he expected to have arrangements completed by Monday for buses to transport 500 of the 2,500 students who depend on the electric line.

COURT REFUSES TO MAKE COAL COSTS SECRET

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Federal Judge Joseph W. Cox denied today a petition by twenty-two soft coal producers for an injunction restraining the Bituminous Coal commission from making public the producers' basic production cost data.

The judge left undecided until tomorrow, however, the question of whether he would grant a brief stay in the case to permit the plaintifs to appeal his decision to the federal Court of Appeals here. Cox is District court judge. He suggested that opposing counsel try to reach an agreement on that matter overnight and report to him before he issues his formal decree tomorrow.

Two Steel Concerns Buy Equipment to Cost Million

Youngstown, O., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Two new orders involving about $1,000,000 of steel mill equipment have just been received by United Engineering and Foundry company, Pittsburgh, from the Weirton Steel company and the American Rolling Mill company. The American Rolling Mill company order is for a slabbing mill for one of its continuous strip mills, and involves about four-fifths of the total order. The Weirton order is for a "skin pass" mill.

Chesapeake's Dissolution Is Step Nearer

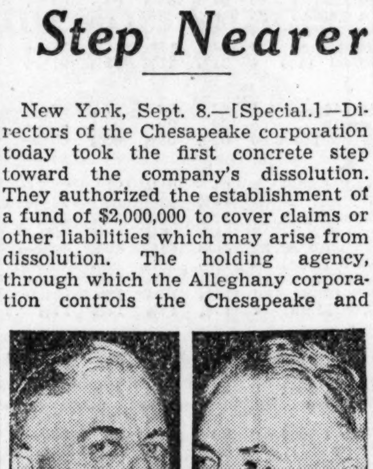
New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Directors of the Chesapeake corporation today took the first concrete step toward the company's dissolution. They authorized the establishment of a fund of $2,000,000 to cover claims or other liabilities which may arise from dissolution. The holding agency, through which the Alleghany corporation controls the Chesapeake and Ohio and other railways, is a Maryland corporation.



M. J. Van Sweringen (left) and his brother, O. P., who formed the Chesapeake corporation and the Pittston "Curiosity Shop."

At the same time negotiations were begun here by bankers and representatives of various interests concerned in the rearrangement of the corporate structure of the Pittston company. This company has been termed "the Van Sweringens' curiosity shop."

Would Unscramble Empire.

Chesapeake dissolution was proposed by Robert R. Young and associates who head Alleghany as a means to "unscramble" the complicated structure erected by the late O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen to control their railroad and industrial systems. The $2,000,000 fund was transferred from earned surplus to reserve for contingencies.

The Pittston company was formed by the Van Sweringen brothers in 1930. It leased lands estimated to contain more than 97 million tons of coal from the Erie railroad, an important unit in the Van Sweringen railroad system. It was also a convenient holding company for other interests acquired by the brothers.

Owns Stores, Armored Cars.

Besides coal properties, the company's holdings include such unrelated items as retail stores in Wyoming, orchards, and an armored car system used by New York banks.

The Alleghany corporation, which is controled by a group headed by Robert R. Young, held 46.15 per cent of the Pittston stock at the end of 1937. The Chesapeake and Ohio railway, through subsidiaries, owned 38.4 per cent of the stock. Young has been closely affiliated with the C. & O. management. Alleghany, through the Chesapeake corporation, owns a large block of C. & O. stock.

Pittston directors negotiating reorganization of the company include Harvey D. Gibson, president of Manufacturers Trust company; W. E. Lewis, and Joseph T. Routh. The C. & O. and the Erie railroad, through representatives, are in the negotiations.

Would Cancel Coal Lease.

A preliminary basic plan under consideration calls for the cancellation of Pittston's lease of the Pennsylvania Coal company, an Erie subsidiary. The plan also includes concentration of Pittston's coal distributing properties as an outlet for the C. & O.'s bituminous coal.

The Pittston company, upon its formation, acquired control of Pittston & Browne, a distributor, and also the United States Trucking corporation. Distributing organizations in Boston and Chicago also were acquired. The Pittston company proved unprofitable from the start.

CANADA FEARS WHEAT EXPORT SCHEME OF U. S.

Expect World Price to Be Forced Down.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—The Canadian government, which has guaranteed an 80 cent minimum for the 1938 wheat crop, awaits with dismay the effect on export wheat prices of the plan of Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace to subsidize United States wheat and flour.

The wheat crop is expected to be placed at the high figure of 325,000,000 bushels in tomorrow's first official estimate.

Canada has liked the foreign policy of the Roosevelt administration, but comment in political circles and in Canadian newspapers indicates that the export wheat subsidy is regarded as an exception to the record of "good neighborliness."

With wheat prices down to 57 cents, the dominion government stands to lose some $60,000,000 in making good its minimum price to farmers. For this the Winnipeg Free Press, the organ of the western grain trade, largely blames Wallace and his plan.

Sees Prices Forced Down.

Wallace, it complains, is forcing wheat on the market, and world prices are declining by the amount of the bonus which will be paid to the exporter by Washington.

The Free Press calls this "a sucker's game" which "plays straight into the hands of wheat buyers, who by waiting can crack the price of wheat down, confident in Wallace's assurance that more and cheaper wheat will be offered for sale."

It ridicules the statement of Wallace that in executing his subsidy plan the United States "must do everything it can in a coöperative spirit to synchronize its efforts along this line with those of the Canadian government."

The Free Press points out that Canada is not subsidizing exports of wheat but is merely guaranteeing a fixed price. It observes that "all that Canada enjoys at the moment is the doleful privilege of watching the world wheat price being forced down by its 'good neighbor' across the line."

Criticizes Both Wheat Programs.

The Montreal Gazette, which together with other eastern newspapers opposed the guaranteeing of a fixed price for western wheat, observes sardonically that the Canadian government will have difficulty in disproving Wallace's contention that in subsidizing American wheat exports he is following the policy of the Canadian government. It agrees, however, that "this neighborly adoption of the Canadian policy seems likely to prove expensive to the taxpayer of Canada."

In political circles it is said that despite the 80 cent minimum the Canadian wheat board will dispose of Canadian wheat as fast as it buys it. It is feared the competition of the bumper Canadian and United States crops may force wheat prices down lower still.

Described as the best crop in six years, the 1938 wheat yield in the Canadian prairie provinces is estimated at 324,744,000 bushels in the sixth and final report of the Winnipeg Free Press, issued yesterday.

In Manitoba the crop promises 52,049,000 bushels, closely rivaling the banner crop of 1928. The estimate for Saskatchewan is 128,558,000 bushels, and for Alberta 144,127,000 bushels.

GEN. MOTORS' SALES DECLINE DURING AUGUST

General Motors corporation sold 64,925 cars and trucks to consumers in the United States in August, officials reported yesterday. It sold 78,758 units in July and 156,322 in August, 1937.

August sales to dealers in the United States and overseas shipments totaled 55,431 units compared with 90,030 in the preceding month, and 188,010 in August, 1937. Dealer sales and overseas shipment in the first eight months this year totaled 759,414 against 1,512,061 in the corresponding period last year.

Dow-Jones & Co., news agency, reported yesterday that the pressed metal and motor plants of the Chevrolet division in Flint, Mich., will resume operations Monday. Full crews of 8,000 men will be back at work by Wednesday. Assembly lines on the 1939 models, the agency said, will be moving by late September or early October.

Reopen Brick Plant After Being Closed Seven Years

The Deerfield plant of the National Brick company, which has been closed for seven years, opened yesterday. According to B. F. Weber Jr., president, one hundred men are employed turning out about 300,000 common brick daily. The plant is on the north side of County Line road, a quarter of a mile west of Waukegan road. The company also has two Chicago area plants, one in Chicago Heights and one in Munster, Ind.

Wheat Prices Decline After Buying Flurry

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the December delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday:

| | Yesterday. | Wednesday. | Year ago. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wheat ........ | $ .61⅞ | $ .62⅝ | $1.09½ |
| Corn ........ | .48¾ | .48⅜ | .63⅜ |
| Oats ........ | .24¾ | .24½ | .30⅞ |
| Rye ........ | .40⅝ | .40⅞ | .79⅝ |
| Soy beans...... | .75⅝ | .75⅛ | .98⅛ |

North American wheat markets resumed the downward trend yesterday after a brief flurry of buying which carried prices slightly above Wednesday's close.

Net losses on wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were ⅝ to 1¼ cents a bushel, the former on the September delivery. Winnipeg wheat futures closed 1⅜ to 1½ cents lower. All deliveries of wheat at Kansas City sold at new low levels for the season, with net losses of 1¼ to 1⅝ cents.

Corn and other grains showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Corn futures were unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel higher, mainly as the result of commission house buying. Oats were ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Rye Follows Wheat Down.

Rye was ⅛ to ⅝ cent lower in sympathy with wheat. A small lot of domestic rye was reported to have been sold yesterday for export, the first such business in some time. Soy beans advanced ½ to ¾ cent a bushel.

Lack of export demand and hedging pressure were said to be responsible for the sharp recession in Winnipeg wheat futures. The break had considerable influence on the Chicago and Kansas City markets. The Liverpool market reacted after a higher opening and closed unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel lower. Pressure of low grade Russian wheat offerings was a factor. Black sea exports for the week aggregated 4,416,000 bushels, of which Russia cleared about 4,000,000 bushels.

Flour Export Subsidy Announced.

After the close yesterday the AAA announced that the export subsidy on wheat flour would be 50 cents a barrel, except from the Pacific coast, where the subsidy was 35 cents. The former compared with 30 cents a barrel on Wednesday. The export subsidy on flour is good for only 24 hours and the amount will be announced daily.

A small lot of flour was said to have been sold yesterday for export, but there was no interest in domestic wheat. Messages from New York said exporters had very few bids from Europe.

The AAA also announced yesterday it had decided not to issue daily statements hereafter regarding its purchases and sales of cash wheat. Brokers said they had anticipated such action in view of the poor export demand.

POWER OUTPUT IN WEEK SETS PEAK FOR YEAR

More electricity was produced by power companies during the week ended Sept. 3 than in any other week thus far in 1938, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. Output amounted to 2,148,954,000 kilowatt hours, a gain of 0.7 per cent over the 2,134,057,000 hours produced in the preceding week, the institute said.

Despite the increase, output was 7.4 per cent below the 2,320,982,000 kilowatt hours produced in the corresponding week a year ago. In the preceding week the drop from a year ago was only 7 per cent, and two weeks ago the decline was 7.2 per cent.

The Commonwealth Edison company group, which serves the Chicago area, also produced more power than in the preceding week. A total of 128,130,000 kilowatt hours was generated compared with 126,059,000 in the week ended Aug. 27.

For the week ended Sept. 3 the decline from the like 1937 period was 11.1 per cent. In the preceding week the decline was 9.3 per cent, and two weeks ago it was 7.4 per cent.

STEEL OUTPUT NEXT WEEK MAY SET 1938 HIGH

Quickening activity in major producing centers indicates that steel making operations next week may set a new high for 1938, the magazine Iron Age said yesterday. Production this week slumped to 40 per cent of capacity because of the Labor day shutdown in most of the big plants. Next week's operating schedule, however, is expected to exceed last week's rate of 44 per cent of capacity, the present 1938 high.

Orders for steel were lighter this week, possibly because of the holiday influence on general business, Iron Age said. The publication said the upturn has been slackening since about the middle of August. Steel companies, however, expect business will continue to improve moderately in the next few months, according to the magazine.

Railroad buying is expected to increase somewhat. Approval of a 5 million dollar bond issue to be floated by the New York Central railroad assures the purchase by that carrier of 28,600 tons of rails and material for the repair of 185 locomotives, 300 passenger cars, and 1,000 freight cars.

WARNS GERMANS FACE ARMY COUP OR BANKRUPTCY

Chicagoan Tells of Europe's Fears.

C. F. Childs.

Business men in European countries are convinced that Germany will either have military success or bankruptcy. That is the impression brought back by C. F. Childs, Chicago investment banker, who has just returned from an extended trip to Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, France and England. He is head of C. F. Childs & Co., a leading dealer in government securities.

"The general feeling among business men and bankers in the democratic countries," Childs said yesterday, "is that the economic situation is becoming so bad in Germany that the Nazis are being forced to attempt a daring coup in order to take the minds of their people off their domestic troubles. The people with whom I talked, however, believed that economic collapse would occur in Italy before it happens in Germany."

Governments Hide Dangers.

Stock market prices and quotations on currencies, Childs said, do not accurately reflect the real dangers existing in the present crisis in central Europe because of the imposition of government controls.

"If capital were free to leave the countries that are now facing the threat of war," he said, "there would be a tremendous flight of funds, which would show how precarious the situation really is. People in Germany, Czechoslovakia and other central European nations, however, have no means of transferring money out of their countries. The frontiers are all closed to such an outflow. Hence, the people who have money have no choice but to stick it out."

Regards Showdown Inevitable.

Childs' trip included a fifteen hundred mile motor tour through Czechoslovakia and interviews with friends and acquaintances who are identified with Czech banks and business concerns.

"The people are still very worried and wouldn't be surprised if the Nazis should start war any day," he said. "I have heard most British, French, and other people remark—and they were of all classes, from bankers to policemen—that a showdown is inevitable.

"A casual acquaintance speaks guardedly, but friends whom you have known long and well talk more seriously. Most opinions recognize the bluffing of Germany and Italy, but realize that Germany is able to make her bluff effective enough to bring chaos to all Europe. The general feeling is that if war comes the United States will join with Britain to fight the dictators.

Arming Impoverishes Nations.

"Meanwhile the race for military supremacy is continuing to impoverish all nations. Therefore no healthy or dependable business recovery is possible in any country under present conditions abroad. British and European sentiment is more worried than the newspapers over there dare reflect. Conditions in Germany and Italy are so desperate that those governments may force a war as the only way to cause their people to tolerate greater handicaps, sacrifices, and subjugation.

"All foreign bankers know and say that no nation—not even the United States—could escape the reaction or indirect effect of a major conflict abroad. Everybody, everywhere would suffer tremendous, if not irrecoverable, capital losses."

U. S. GYPSUM CO. TO BUILD NEW FLORIDA PLANT

Plans for the purchase of a mill site and construction of a modern plant in Jacksonville, Fla., were announced yesterday by the United States Gypsum company, manufacturer of building materials. Chicago officers declined to reveal the cost.

The plant, embodying the latest developments in design, construction and equipment, will receive crude gypsum rock from the company's rock deposits in Nova Scotia. The rock will be shipped in company owned freighters.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 8.—Stock market prices closed irregularly lower today. Most key issues weakened, losses running to around 1 point. Of 603 issues traded, 329 closed lower, 148 higher, and 126 unchanged. Trading was restricted to 568,920 shares, compared with 892,460 on Wednesday.

Prices started lower, firmed in the early afternoon, then slipped again at the close. Observers attributed the market's action to its sensitivity to the German-Czech situation.

Although most issues were driven down in the first hour, weakness was not pronounced. The selling was ascribed to the disappointment of traders who believed that overnight developments had failed to sustain the hopes of peace in Europe.

Then, on reports that German-Czech negotiations had been resumed, the market improved and parts of early losses were regained. Near the close renewed selling was in evidence as conflicting rumors came to hand.

Industrial issues again provided the bulk of activity. Volume in the rails was sharply reduced. Utility issues continued to draw only nominal interest.

Among the heaviest losers of the day were United States Steel, Chrysler, Westinghouse, International Harvester, Douglas Aviation, Sears-Roebuck, and American Telephone and Telegraph.

Fractional losses were marked up against General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, Boeing Aircraft, United States Rubber, General Electric, du Pont, Standard Oil, Socony-Vacuum, Anaconda, Kennecott, and Montgomery Ward.

Rails receded fractionally for the most part, with New York Central the volume leader.

New York Bonds.

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The bond market was lower today. Active issues in the corporate division dipped fractions to 2 or more points. Industrial bonds seemed to be under heaviest pressure.

There were both gains and losses among the rails. New York Central 3¼s of '52 at 67 were off 2, and Great Northern 3¾s at 69, off 1¾. Nickel Plate 4s of '46 at 60 rose 3⅝s.

United States government loans were generally lower on moderate turnover. Losses ranged to 8-32ds of a point, though one treasury issue managed a 1-32d gain.

In the foreign section Czech 8s of '51 at 86½ lost 3½, and the 8s of '52 at 87 were down 2.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks yesterday moved irregularly lower. THE TRIBUNE average of 20 representative stocks closed off 0.10 at 11.25.

Commonwealth Edison rights were again the most active issue, although the turnover in them dipped to 24,900 from 41,400 on Wednesday. The rights ranged from 24 to 22 cents and closed unchanged at 23 cents.

Volume leaders were mixed. Mickelberry's Food, Haudaille Hershey B, Chicago corporation, and Commonwealth Edison advanced fractions. Bendix Aviation, Zenith Radio, and Borg-Warner finished fractionally lower.

Bank Stocks.

Four leading Chicago bank stocks declined yesterday. American National Bank and Trust shares were off $5 at $200 bid, $215 asked. Stocks of the Chicago Title and Trust company, City National Bank and Trust company, and Continental Illinois Trust and Savings bank each were $1 lower. Other leaders were unchanged.

Commodities

Most commodity prices dipped yesterday in cash and futures markets. Nonferrous metals, except for copper, were up slightly in futures trading.

Copper futures lost 0.02 to 0.06 cent a pound. Export copper in the cash market was quoted at 10.22 cents a pound, compared with 10.25 cents on Wednesday. Leading smelters, however, marked up the price of scrap copper ⅛ cent to 8⅝ cents a pound. The domestic price for electrolytic copper held steady at 10⅛ cents. Zinc, tin, and lead contracts advanced.

Pacing the decline in other staples were rubber and hides futures. Prices for future delivery of crude rubber were off 0.07 to 0.16 cent a pound. The spot price of smoked ribbed rubber sheets dipped 0.08 cent to 16.12 cents a pound.

Hides at New York were off 0.09 to 0.11 cent a pound for old contracts. New hide futures were up 0.10 to 0.15 cent, with the December contract closing price at 11.37 cents bid.

Cottonseed oil eased after showing early gains. Early declines in coffee were followed by recoveries promoted by speculative buying.

Wool tops finished unchanged to lower. Cocoa futures eased. Raw sugar declined in the spot market and domestic futures tended lower.

The Dow-Jones index of eleven commodity futures closed yesterday off 0.27 at 46.81 [1924-'26 average equals 100].

To escape payment of a tax on undistributed profits, directors of Air Associates, Inc., ordered a special dividend of 12½ cents a share on the common as well as the regular dividend of 12½ cents a share due this quarter. Executives of the company, which manufactures airplane parts, explained that the special dividend corresponds to that normally paid in the December quarter. Both special and regular are due Sept. 26 on stock of record Sept. 19.

NATIONAL INCOME FOR 1938 PLACED NEAR 64 BILLION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Commerce department officials estimated today that the national income for 1938 would run close to $64,000,000,000 if current business improvement trends continued to the end of the year.

This figure would be about 6 or 7 per cent below last year's total of $69,380,000,000, they said, but would be larger than that for any other year since 1930.

The officials emphasized that their forecast was dependent upon business maintaining the rate of improvement shown by the last few months. The outbreak of war in Europe could make the prediction meaningless, it was said.

Tribune Man Heads Butler Journalism Department

Charles Kinter, a member of the financial news staf of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for the last two years, yesterday was appointed head of the journalism department of Butler university, Indianapolis. Dr. James W. Putnam, president of the university, made the announcement. Kinter, who is 30 years old, received his bachelor's degree at the University of Arizona, and in June, 1937, received a master's degree at Northwestern university.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In yesterday's final edition of THE TRIBUNE the total amount of the treasury's September financing was given as $1,333,460,900. This was a typographical error. The correct figure is $1,133,460,900.

U. S. Cotton Crop Estimate Reduced to 11,825,000 Bales

The 1938 cotton crop in the United States was estimated yesterday by the department of agriculture at 11,825,000 bales. The indicated output was slightly smaller than the 11,988,000 bale crop forecast by the department a month ago.

Prospective 1938 production is more than 7 million bales under the all-time peak cotton harvest of 18,946,000 bales in 1937. It is also less than the average yield of the last ten years, which amounted to 13,201,000 bales.

The government forecast conformed closely to earlier private estimates and had little effect on cotton prices in the principal markets.

Cotton Prices Hold Steady.

Cotton for immediate delivery was steady, closing at 8.12 cents a pound in New Orleans and 8.19 cents in New York. Prices on future contracts were also steady.

The crop reporting division rated the condition of the crop on Sept. 1 at 65 per cent of "normal." The term "normal," as used by the government, means the full productive capacity of the seeded acreage under favorable growing conditions, not an "average" condition. A month earlier the department had rated the crop at 78 per cent. On Sept. 1, 1937, the condition was fixed at 75 per cent.

Acreage abandoned since July 1 was estimated at 1.7 per cent.

Department of agriculture officials said that this year's reduced cotton acreage represented nearly 100 per cent compliance with the government's production control program.

Despite the big cut in output, however, the United States is still faced with the problem of a tremendous cotton surplus. Surplus American cotton carried over from previous years is estimated at 13,400,000 bales. Added to this year's indicated yield a total supply of 25,225,000 bales is indicated. World consumption of American cotton last season totaled 11,240,000 bales.

The government is now preparing for another referendum in December to determine if growers favor continuing the marketing quotas voted on this year's crop.

Six of Chicago's little business men have definitly decided to attend the National Small Business Men's association convention which opens next Tuesday at Pittsburgh. This was announced last night by C. A. Gable, Illinois director of the association, at a meeting of Chicago members in the Congress hotel. Several others will probably go, but have not committed themselves, Gable said.

The six are: H. A. Born of the Born Refrigerating company, John W. Planert of the Planert Manufacturing corporation, Donald Currier, public accountant; George E. West, public accountant; Raymond J. Peacock of the Peacock Publishing company, and Thomas N. McDaniel, who operates a mining company.

Gable told the members that delegates will draw up their own platform for little business at the convention. The association will then determine before the November elections how candidates for congress stand on the issues in the platform. This information will be passed on to members as a guide in voting for "recovery" candidates.

COAL COMPANIES TO GET $2,100,000 LOAN OF 3 BANKS

Louis Ware, president of the United Electric Coal companies said yesterday that the company has made arrangements to borrow $2,100,000 from Chicago and New York banks.

The company will pay off money owed under a creditors' agreement made in 1935. It will also retire plant and equipment notes and use part of the money to enlarge its working capital. Ware said the company plans to spend $300,000 on new mining construction.

The loans will be made on three promissory notes of $700,000 each, payable on or before Dec. 31, 1941. Banks participating in the loan are the First National of Chicago and the New York Trust company and Chase National, New York.

Stockholders will be asked to authorize the borrowing at their annual meeting Oct. 7.

Business Cycles—IV.

A number of theories on the causes of business depressions concern the lack of equilibrium in the processes of disbursing and spending incomes and of producing values, according to Mitchell. These theories and the men by whom they were advanced follow:

1. Incomes paid to wage earners lag behind changes in the money value of goods produced, thus making consumers' demand alternately larger and smaller than current supply. [R. E. May.]

2. Inequalities in the rates at which prices rise and fall cause consumers' incomes to lag behind the output of consumers' goods in prosperity, and to exceed that output in depression. [Emil Lederer.]

3. Incomes disbursed by business enterprises to individuals are alternately less and more than the full value of the goods produced for sale; the fluctuations thus initiated are enhanced by the savings of individuals. [Waddill Catchings, William T. Foster, and Hudson B. Hastings.]

4. Prosperity requires an increase of liquid capital, which can be provided only out of funds which must be spent for consumers' goods if prosperity is to continue. Depression comes because expansion checks the growth of liquid capital. [P. W. Martin.]

5. Consumers' incomes can be made to exceed the value output of consumers' goods only by expansion of capital equipment, financed by expansion of bank credit. But this condition, which characterizes prosperity works its own undoing. [A. B. Adams.]

RISE OF TEXAN CHEESEMAKING STIRS WISCONSIN

Cotton, Grain Bounties Raise More Cows.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 8.—[Special.]—This state's dairy industry, which never has shared in the rain of government checks that fell in the corn, wheat, and cotton belts as a reward for curtailed production, found a new cause for alarm today.

From Texas came a story that supported the charges of dairy farmers that the Roosevelt administration's new agricultural program permits grain and cotton farmers to share in bounties for curtailed crops and at the same time increase milk production.

An article in the Texas Weekly, reaching Wisconsin officials several days ago, says Texas has risen from thirtieth to sixth among the forty-eight states in cheese production in the last ten years. The article was based on a University of Texas bulletin.

Cites Cheese Revolution.

"Ten years ago," the article continued, "Teras produced less than one million pounds of all kinds of cheese. Last year the state produced 15,360,000 pounds of whole milk American cheese alone and more than seventeen million pounds of all kinds of cheese. During each of the last ten years, Texas has increased its cheese output. The 1938 production will be substantially above that of a year ago."

According to this bulletin, which was issued on Aug. 1 by the Bureau of Business Research at the university, Texas has at present 85 cheese plants. Not a single crop reporting district in that state is without one or more plants.

The survey was made by Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director and agricultural statistician of the university's bureau, and Elmer H. Johnson, university economist.

Turn to Other Fields.

The cotton acreage restriction program of the Roosevelt administration, the bulletin pointed out, "must result in greater emphasis on the various types of livestock enterprises as a medium for marketing the increased feed stuffs which inevitably will result from this policy. Unquestionably, Texas agriculture must undergo drastic readjustments if this policy is continued. The dairy industry and the manufacture of dairy products are certain to have an important part in these readjustments.

"Cheese is playing an important part in the readjustment which is taking place in Texas agriculture. Today the sale of milk to cheese plants is the principal source of income of many Texas farmers who ten years ago did not milk a single cow."

Evidence of the extraordinary increase recently in Texas milk production was found in a report of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese corporation which stated that Texas dairy farmers delivered 25 per cent more milk to the concern's seven plants in that state during the first six months of 1938 than for the same period last year.

HOGS AND PORK RISE SHARPLY; SUPPLY LOWER

Sharp advances were made in markets for hogs and pork yesterday. Wholesale prices for fresh pork reached the highest levels in six weeks. Average hog costs to packers rose to the highest point in seven weeks. Packers sold top light loins up to $24 per hundred pounds, which was $1 above the close of last week and $5 above the low point last month.

The top for hogs jumped 20 cents to $9.35, the sharpest upturn for one day since the middle of last month. The average showed a gain of 15 cents at $8.25, with advances in the various classes ranging from 10 to 20 cents for the day. Light receipts, cooler weather, and expanding consumer demand for pork advanced prices.

Supplies of other classes of live stock also were small yesterday and prices ruled steady to higher. Slaughter lambs sold readily strong to 25 cents higher rates.

Buying in the cattle market again favored the long fed steers and yearlings at steady to strong prices, with spots in these a little higher. Plainer classes were slow and about steady. Top sales at $13.35 equaled the 1938 peak.

Endicott Johnson.

Investors' Guide: I would be very grateful for any information you have about Endicott Johnson corporation and its common stock.—W. C.

Answer: The Endicott Johnson corporation is engaged in all phases of the shoe business from manufacturing to retailing. Its total assets are in excess of $44,000,000 and it ranks as the second largest producer in the United States.

Endicott Johnson's plants, which have a daily capacity of 155,000 pairs of shoes, are mostly grouped around the towns of Johnson City and Endicott, N. Y. These towns, which the company has spent large sums in developing, are regarded as model industrial communities.

Approximately 52 per cent of the company's output is men's shoes, 27 per cent women's, and 21 per cent children's. About 40 per cent of total production consists of work shoes. Although the company makes numerous shoe accessories, about 90 per cent of annual sales represent shoes.

Endicott Johnson shoes are sold by about 500 stores operated by the corporation itself, by mail order houses, by chain store organizations, and by many independent merchants. The total number of retail outlets, exclusive of the corporation's own stores, is in excess of 30,000.

The corporation has operated at a profit and paid dividends throughout the depression years. The present common dividend rate of $3 a year has been maintained since 1931 when the rate was reduced from $4.

Sales in the 52 weeks ended May 28 were $54,265,785 and net income was $1,202,152, equal after preferred dividends to $2.06 a common share. This compares with sales of $69,149,274 and net income of $1,563,910, or $3.11 a common share, in the preceding year. The record of earnings in recent fiscal years follows:

| Years ended Nov. 30. | Sales. | Net income. | Earned per Com. Shr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1937 | $67,134,962 | $1,520,716 | $2.85 |
| 1936 | 61,570,964 | 1,974,834 | 3.91 |
| 1935 | 58,328,339 | 2,117,404 | 4.21 |
| 1934 | 56,248,314 | 2,167,678 | 4.34 |

| 1932 | 43,599,145 | 1,188,241 | 1.30 |

The company has no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 73,060 shares of 5 per cent $100 par preferred and 405,360 shares of $50 par common stock. Current assets were $32,628,363 and current liabilities were $10,281,538 on May 31.

Money-making Ideas from the want ads

Successful men and women in all walks of life can trace the turning points in their careers to want ads in the Chicago Tribune.

Today, as in the past, opportunity still knocks every day in the want ads. Every day brings interesting new offers which ambitious men and women can turn to their advantage.

A few typical suggestions are listed below. You will find many others as you review the offers in the columns of today's Tribune want ad section.

Hamburgers, Hardware, Hats

Selling hamburgers, blocking hats, making keys, running a gas station, operating a rooming house, dispensing beverages—these are only a few of the many business opportunities frequently offered in the Tribune. Look for offers of the kind of business you prefer in the Business Opportunities column in the want ad section.

Make Money Borrowing Money

If you lack the cash required to take advantage of a real business opportunity, remember there are firms which specialize in loans for many different kinds of purposes. For names of firms which offer such loans see the Loans—Personal and Business column in the want ad section.

Room for Success

Men and women have achieved success by running small concessions in stores and markets. If you want space in a good location for a jewelry, hat, haberdashery, food, hardware or other enterprise, read the offers in the Concessions, Locations, and Leases column in the want ad section.

There's Money in Trucking

Bales, boxes and barrels have to be delivered. Many men who started in business with one truck now own a fleet. Opportunities to buy good used trucks at a fraction of their original cost are offered in the Motor Trucks column in the want ad section.

Don't Be a Shrinking Violet

If you make better mouse traps, build concrete walks, do sewing and knitting, carpentry, electrical repairing, sell trees, hand-painted china or anything else, you can find customers by placing an ad in the Business Directory in the want ad section. Call Superior 0100—Want Ad-Viser—and let a low-cost Tribune want ad start pulling business for you. Many a successful enterprise got its start through Tribune want ads.

Profits in Real Estate

Real estate, both improved and unimproved, which you bought years ago may now have new value. Have you ever thought of trading your property for other real estate which will have greater utility value now, with a promise of increased cash value later? For opportunities to trade real estate, read the offers in the Real Estate for Exchange column in the want ad section.

The Tribune prints more want advertising than any other Chicago newspaper because—

PIPE LINE HEAD SUED BY BROKER FIRM RECEIVER

Maguire Is Asked to Pay $207,800 for Services.

New York, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—A $207,800 suit was filed today by the receiver for a bankrupt brokerage firm against William G. Maguire, president of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company. Joseph V. Burns, receiver for Campagnoli & Co., an over the counter broker, is seeking to recover the money, which he said was due the firm for services and losses incurred in 1937 in the election of Maguire to the presidency of the pipe line company.

The complaint charges that an agreement was made in 1936 between Campagnoli & Co. and Maguire whereby the firm would seek to elect persons to the board of directors of the pipe line company who would assure Maguire's election as president.

Statement of Maguire.

Maguire issued a statement through his counsel saying the pipe line company had no "connection direct or indirect with the Campagnoli firm and my only connection with the firm was that of a customer." He said that the charges were without basis.

"Campagnoli & Co., and its officers, Hugo Campagnoli and Joseph B. Schubert, are under indictment in New York county for grand larceny on 28 counts on the charge of having stolen securities from me and other of the customers," Maguire's statement said, "and I understand their case is coming up for trial soon. . . . The suit against me is merely an attempt by these defendants to intimidate me and to build a backfire for their criminal case."

Seeks to Regain Losses.

Burns' complaint said the alleged agreement provided that the firm would be reimbursed for any losses in purchases of the pipe line company's stock made to obtain proxies, and that the brokerage firm also was to be paid for its services.

The losses on stock purchases, Burns said, amounted to $57,800 and the value of services rendered was placed at $150,000.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

Geese Flying South.

Sept. 8, 1938.

THE first southbound geese of the fall have alighted on the ponds at the DuPage county farm. The flockmaster believes the seven geese have been on the ponds before. They paddle around with the tame geese.

When the flockmaster approaches the newcomers swim over to get a meal as though they knew the routine. They seem to know they are safe and that it will be a comfortable and easy life on the ponds until winter winds and snows force them farther south.

Winged Teal Arrive.

About 30 blue winged teal also are feeding on the farm. They aren't so confident of their surroundings as the wild geese. When we visited the ponds this week to see the swans, mallards, Muscovys, and geese the teal were the first to splash over the surface and fly out of range.

Two white swans hatched last spring are in full feather now, and the way they follow their parents around the pond in the swan "dress parade" indicates that they are trying to impress every one that they are quite grown up. It is hard to tell the cygnets from the pen [or mother swan] because there isn't much difference in their size. It's not hard to tell which of the four birds is the papa of the family, because the old cob still acts as a sentry to prevent any one from approaching too close to the water's edge. Despite the fact that the youngsters are almost full grown, the cob swan still feels that they need protection.

Cindy, the mischievous cocker spaniel puppy which has been on the farm only a few weeks, was given another lesson in discipline by one of the barnyard ducks the other day. Cindy is gradually learning that she shouldn't chase the ducks, chickens, and other barnyard fowl. The other day she ran after an old granddaddy Muscovy. The old duck turned and pecked at the puppy, scaring her so much that she rolled over in the dust several times.

The approach of autumn was indicated this week in the appearance of the first New England asters. Small white asters have been noticed around the farm ponds in previous weeks. Along with the goldenrod and the cardinal flower, the New England aster is a flower which acts as one of the signposts of the new season. During the next few weeks thousands of New England asters will make their appearance around the farm ponds.
